Menace of Japanese Issue Has Passed Away

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN ESTABLISH A HEARTY AGREEMENT

WORK OF GERMAN INTRIGUE IS UNDONE

Washington, Nov. 6.—Japan and the United States have reached a complete agreement in regard to China and at the same time have arrived at a clear understanding as to military, naval and economic co-operation in the war against Germany.

This momentous development was announced today by Secretary Lansing, who made public notes exchanged by him and Viscount Ishii, the special Japanese ambassador, formally recording an agreement recognizing that Japan has a special interest in China, but pledging the independence and territorial integrity of the great eastern republic and reaffirming the doctrine of the "open door" for commerce and industry.

In a statement accompanying the note Mr. Lansing said Viscount Ishii and members of his mission now on their way home have performed a service of the highest value to the United States as well as to Japan by clearing away misunderstandings which if unchecked promised to develop a serious situation in the far east.

He spoke of an attitude of constraint and doubt fostered by a campaign of falsehood adroitly and secretly carried on by the Germans, and said that through the frankness and courtesy of the Japanese commissioners, the propaganda of years had been undone in a few days.

Word First From China. Until last night when an Associated Press cable dispatch from Peking announced that the Japanese ambassador there had informed the Chinese foreign office of the signing of an agreement in Washington that Viscount Ishii, it had not been known generally that the delicate far eastern question had been taken up at the conference between the commissioners and American officials. In fact it was stated authoritatively soon after the mission's arrival in Washington that such problems would not be touched upon and as the conference progressed the general understanding was that such subject as Japan's need for steel for ship building and American gold for trade balances were engrossing attention. It develops that these latter questions have been left to the resident ambassador, Amiro Sato, to work out with the proper officials of the American government. Comment on the dispatch from Peking was withheld last night because of an understanding between the two governments that the announcement had been made today simultaneously at Washington and Tokio.

Lansing's Announcement. Following is the state department's announcement: "On Friday, November 2, 1917, the secretary of state and Viscount Ishii, the special Japanese ambassador, exchanged at the department of state the following notes dealing with the policy of the United States and Japan in regard to China: "Department of State, Washington, November 2, 1917: "Excellency: I have the honor to communicate herein by understanding of the agreement reached by us in our recent conversations touching the questions of mutual interest to our governments relating to the republic of China.

"In order to silence reports that have from time to time been circulated, it is believed by us that a public announcement follows: "The Japanese government has agreed to recognize the principle of the 'open door' policy in China, and to pledge the independence and territorial integrity of the great eastern republic. The United States government has agreed to recognize the special interest of Japan in China, and to pledge the independence and territorial integrity of the great eastern republic. The two governments have agreed to co-operate in the war against Germany, and to maintain the peace and stability of the Far East."

NEW YORK HAS BITTER FIGHT

Battle for Mayoralty is Most Strenuous in a Long Period.

ABSENT SOLDIERS MAY DECIDE FIGHT

All Candidates Are Claiming a Lead, With Mitchell Fighting Field.

New York, Nov. 6.—New York is holding its quadrennial mayoralty election today. Fair weather that ushered in the day led to predictions by the various campaign managers that a record breaking vote would be polled.

Of the 698,800 voters who registered, it was expected that at least 675,000 would cast their ballots. The polls opened at 6 o'clock and close at 5 o'clock this afternoon. In other years the result of a mayoralty election here was known within a few hours after the closing of the polls, but an element of doubt has entered into the situation this year owing to the delay that will arise in counting the vote of thousands of soldiers and sailors in military service.

ALL ARE YET CLAIMING IT

Bright Day Adds to the Zest of a Spirited City Election.

VOTING LAGS LATE IN THE AFTERNOON

Usual Last Hour Rush Expected to Bring Voting Total to Quota.

The city election seems to promise victory for both the democrats and republicans, late Tuesday afternoon. Party leaders of both organizations say they are sure that their cause will be triumphant.

"There is no doubt about the outcome," said Maurice C. Niezer, democratic candidate for mayor, at 3 o'clock. "We will elect a full party ticket."

His statement met the plaudits of other democratic party workers who have taken the reports at democratic headquarters.

"The big slide is on," said M. Sherman Cutshall, republican mayoralty candidate. "Besides the heads of the ticket the republicans will elect twelve councilmen at least."

Both republicans and democrats are counting on their early poll book findings to bring victory. Both sides claim that voters are balloting in regular fashion and that the result is a near majority. The socialist party candidates are expected to poll about the same number of votes as at the last general election.

Votes Early. Fort Wayne was voting as soon as the polls were opened. At 9 o'clock it was estimated that nearly one-third of the voting quota had been polled.

At 10 o'clock there had been 453 votes cast in the Eighth ward, made up of the twenty-third, twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth precincts.

At 9 o'clock 48 had voted in the seventh precinct. At that time 145 had voted in the twenty-first precinct, 150 in the twentieth and 160 in the twenty-second precinct.

Autos Busy. Through the bright sunshine of the perfect election day lined up automobiles along downtown streets and bent upon bringing out a full voting quota. Natives of the mayoralty candidates were flaunted from the large signs borne on the back of the hurrying cars.

The democratic poll book holders and other representatives outside the polls wore the neat ribbons bearing the single word "democrat" in conservative black type. A part of them also carried a blue and white "Niezer for mayor" pennant.

Republican representatives near the end of the ropes wore showy white and yellow streamers which bore a yellow broom, and which was labelled with their battle cry of the campaign, "Clean out the city hall."

The returns will be thrown upon the screen as soon as the first precinct has reported and will be continued until it is known definitely who has been elected.

The public is invited to come early and stay late. There are no street cars on Wayne street and the bullets can be seen for two or three blocks away. There will no long waits and everything possible will be done to keep the crowd in a good humor.

SEAT SALE OPENED TODAY

Rush for Tickets for Big "Army and Navy" Show at Majestic.

GENEROUS SUPPORT OF PATRIOTIC EVENT

Lieut. James D. Willson Comes from Kansas City to "Do His Bit."

DRESS REHEARSAL TONIGHT.

A full dress rehearsal for "The Army and Navy" show will begin at 7:15 at the Majestic theater tonight.

At 10 o'clock this morning, with the opening of the seat sale for the great "Army and Navy" show under the direction of the University club, there was a splendid demonstration for the entire run of the production at the Majestic theater. The big event will occupy the stage of the Majestic on the evenings of Thursday, Friday and Saturday and Saturday afternoon at a matinee performance. That the plan of the University club to produce this wonderful entertainment and devote every cent of the net proceeds to patriotic uses has appealed to the people everywhere, is shown by the generous support evidenced by the early seat sale for the four performances.

The dress rehearsal to take place on the Majestic stage this evening will round up the numerous details of the production to be given in its entirety for the first time on Thursday evening. Last night's ensemble rehearsal was a wonderful exhibition of all that has been accomplished through intensive training and rehearsals for the past month.

The "Army and Navy" show has

Lew Shank, as Independent, is Confusing Mayoralty Election.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—Interest in the municipal election in Indianapolis today has been heightened by the candidacy for mayor of "Lew" Shank, one time mayor of the city and former vaudeville performer, who, defeated in the republican primary last March became the candidate of a home rule party. Other mayoralty candidates are Charles W. Jewett, republican, and Richard Miller, democrat. Each of three parties have nominated a complete ticket. Because of the adverse ruling of the supreme court recently women in the state will not vote as they had expected, following the passage of the suffrage bill by the legislature. The law was declared unconstitutional by the courts.

Indiana soldiers who are away from home also will be deprived of a vote at this election, although an absent voter's bill was passed by the legislature last winter. The bill as passed did not take municipal elections into consideration. Municipal elections were general throughout the state, but it was an act passed for state and county elections.

NO AGENTS IN CELLARS

Housewives Told to Call Police if Persons Try to See Provisions.

MEATLESS DAY GAINS HOLD IN FORT WAYNE

Food Pledges Are Going Out Over City and Are Being Signed.

There are no government agents sent out to investigate citizens' cellars. If a person comes to your house and says that he or she is a federal agent, upon the mission of investigating the food supply in your cellar, call the police.

This warning is issued by local food administrators after several calls have been received, asking if the government is making a cellar by census. It is reported that efforts have been made to gain admittance to private cellars in Fort Wayne by this deception.

By no means let anybody who claims to be an army agent enter your cellar, is the explicit warning by food administrators.

Reports from Indianapolis state that many cellars have been looted there by persons who represented themselves as being federal officers and who demanded the right to look through the cellars. The storage rooms were thus looted either at the time or by gaining entrance through a way provided by the supposed food agent.

Many other cities have suffered from these vandals who stated that they were from Washington. It is

HAMBURG BIRTH RATE TAKES AN ALARMING DROP

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—The birth rate in Hamburg, Germany, according to the latest weekly statistics, has fallen below 7.7 per thousand as compared with 9.1 during the first week of June, which itself was highly alarming as indicating a serious decline in the number of births. There were more than 50 per cent. more deaths than births during the week although the mortality is still somewhat lower than June, owing to the improvement in food conditions through the availability of fresh vegetables.

AUSTRO-GERMAN FORCES COMPEL AN EVACUATION

General Cadorna Abandons His Line On Tagliamento and Retreats to New Defenses.

GERMANS PLAN AN ATTACK ON VENICE

Berlin, Nov. 6.—(Via London.)—The Italian line on the Tagliamento river has been won by the Austro-Germans, it was officially announced today by the German general staff. The Italians have evacuated the entire line along the river to the Adriatic coast.

The German statement says that from the Fella valley to the Colbricon, north of Sugana valley, the Italians are retreating. (This region includes the front along the Dolomites and the Carnic Alps). Conflagrations, the German statement adds, indicate that the route taken by the retreating Italians is between the mountains and the sea, through the upper Italian plain.

Amsterdam, Nov. 6.—Commenting on the Austro-German advance in the direction of Venice, the semi-official Berlin news agency prepared the public for an attack on the famous art center. It contends that Venice has developed into an important center of war industries.

FORCED TO MOVE BACK.

Rome, Nov. 6.—The Italians have been compelled to evacuate territory in the mountainous area north of the plains of northern Italy in order to establish their new line, the war office reports. The enemy occupied this territory after the Italian withdrawal.

The statement follows: "Besides persisting in intensified pressure from the zone of the upper Tagliamento against our left wing the enemy has pushed various detachments toward the middle and lower course of the river. Some hostile vanguards which came into contact with detachments of a grenadier brigade southeast of St. Vito-M-Tagliamento were repulsed. "To establish our new line we were compelled to evacuate portions of the territory of the mountainous area which were occupied by the enemy."

Summary of the Day's War News

Italy's armies along the Tagliamento are menaced by another Austro-German stroke similar to the one which caused the great retreat from the Isonzo line. The river has been crossed and an advance in force by the invaders from Pinzano, the place of crossing southward would place the Italian army along the Tagliamento in almost the same position from which it retreated on the Isonzo.

There are indications that the crossing, which was made where the river narrows between hills, was not in great force and that Austro-Germans have not yet been able to advance greatly from the river bank. The crossing of the Tagliamento, however, breaks the Italian mastery of the western bank, unless General Cadorna's men can drive the Teutons back again.

West of the Tagliamento, around Pinzano, the ground is not cut up by many small streams and canals as it is further south and the aim of the German staff may be to drive a wedge from Pinzano southwest toward the river Livenza in the hope of cutting off the Italian right wing. A strong Italian blow, however, might crush the force now which has crossed and eliminate its possible danger.

General Cadorna has not announced officially that the Tagliamento was the line on which the Italians would make a strong attempt to save Venice, and dispatches from his headquarters report its eventual crossing was foreseen and probably prepared against. The river Livenza is short and narrow and would offer few natural advantages. The river Piave, twenty-five miles west of the Tagliamento, would seem to be as strong naturally as the Tagliamento.

The Piave flows south and then southwest from the Carnic Alps to Belluno, a few miles below which it makes a wide curve and then goes in a southerly direction toward the Venetian plain.

GERMANY HAS HAD REFORMS

Momentous Week is Claimed by Herr Erzberger, the Catholic Leader.

LATE SHAKEDOWN BENEFITS PEOPLE

Permanent Political Gain Said to Have Been Allowed by Kaiser.

Berlin, Monday, Nov. 5.—(Via London.)—While the troops of the central allies were forcing their way across the Tagliamento, Germany at home quietly passed the political Rubicon and in the space of five days changed from an autocracy into a democracy, declared Matthias Erzberger, leader of the centrist party in an interview today with the Associated Press correspondent.

"This has been the most momentous week since the founding of the empire," said Herr Erzberger in a recital of the incidents leading to the solution of the recent political crisis.

"Its achievements represent a permanent political gain for the German people. In view of the July and October happenings a majority leaders were convinced of the hopelessness of permitting the old system to prevail. Through the chief of the civil cabinet they imparted their convictions to the crown, urging the imperative need of co-ordinated, cohesiveness governmental policy in foreign and domestic issues and harmonious governmental collaboration with the reichstag during the war at least."

Herr Erzberger then told how Count von Hertling reserved his decision to accept the chancellorship until he had conferred with the party leaders. On the advice of the latter the emperor's plan of separating the chancellorship and the presidency of the Prussian ministry, he said, had been dropped. Foreign minister von Kuehlmann had also participated in the conference. Herr Erzberger declared, urging the need of instituting a parliamentary procedure because it was the only solution of the crisis and because of the unfavorable impression that would be made abroad if the current attempt failed to succeed.

Dr. von Kuehlmann is desirous that the outside world should know that a new political era has set in in Germany—that his intercession was not in vain as it was decided to take parliamentary into responsible positions, continued Herr Erzberger.

I desire to say," concluded the centrist leader, "that not only are the majority leaders and Chancellor von Hertling in complete working harmony in foreign and domestic issues, but that the pact has the full sanction of the emperor, who has given Count von Hertling a free hand."

The clerical party now has the chancellor and the progressives in all important secretariats, while the national liberals will be represented in the vice-presidency of the Reichstag.

PRESIDENT WILSON GOES HOME TO VOTE

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Wilson left today for Princeton, N. J., to vote in the local election, planning to return here immediately afterward. It was his first visit to his home since last summer.

The president was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, Secretary Tumulty and Rear Admiral Grayson, his physician. Secretary Tumulty planned to vote in Jersey City and to receive election returns at New York tonight.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

PARCEL POST WEIGHT LIMIT INCREASED

Can Send 20-Pound Package by Mail to Solider in France.

Uncle Sam is determined that all his nephews fighting in France shall have as big Christmas boxes as relatives and friends here want to send them—up to twenty pounds, if mailed early enough.

The French government recently gave notice that, because of its inadequate rail facilities, it could not transport any parcels-post package weighing over seven pounds.

Now the United States war department announces that it will handle all Christmas packages for the American expeditionary forces in France, on the lines there which have been built and are being operated by our nine railway regiments.

Accordingly the postoffice department has issued a new order under which a Christmas package weighing up to twenty pounds may be sent to a soldier in France, but these regulations must be strictly observed:

"In addressing give the name of the soldier, the name of the unit to which he is attached and send it in care of the Commanding General, Port of Embarkation, Pier J, Hoboken, N. J. The package must comply with the regular postal regulations, and, in addition, the articles sent must be packed in a wooden box not more than two cubic feet in extent. It must be well strapped and should have either a hinged or a screwed top. No perishable foodstuffs may be sent. The box should be marked to indicate it is a Christmas package and should reach Hoboken not later than Dec. 3. The rate of postage is 12 cents a pound."

To be sure it will get to France in time, mail your Christmas box before Nov. 15.

Surprise Party.

P. J. Scheid, the veteran car machine shop foreman, who was placed on the honor roll Nov. 1, 1917, was the recipient of a joyous surprise Saturday evening when about fifty of his fellow shopmates gathered at his home in East DeWald street to spend the evening with Mr. Scheid. Mr. B. T. Hogan acted as spokesman for the shopmen, and after an elegant address reminiscent of the past fifty years that they were associated together they presented Mr. Scheid with a fine pocket watch the shopmen had purchased for the occasion. The evening was spent in playing progressive euchre and enjoyed the musical numbers played on the piano by Mr. Grover Scheid, of Grand Rapids. At a late hour refreshments were served. The occasion was long to be remembered by all present, and after wishing Mr. Scheid many years of good health and enjoyment of life, the party left for their homes. Those who were present were B. H. OYSTER SUPPER THURSDAY.
General Electric Firemen Commence Preparations for Feast.

The first of the monthly "big eat" of the volunteer firemen at the General Electric works takes place Thursday evening and some of the firemen have already commenced the feast which always precedes the monthly feast, in order that their appetites may be equal to the demand. There are forty-two members in the company and not one will be absent from the table when "eats" is called. Usually these feasts are chicken dinners, but at the one Thursday oysters will compose an important part of the menu. They will be cooked and served by a committee composed of firemen. After the dinner, which will follow immediately the blowing of the whistle at the close of working hours, there will be a business session and later some card and shuffle games. There will be one of these dinners each month during the winter and spring.

Steve Kennert, a crane operator in the induction department of the General Electric works, has gone to the country, six miles south of the city, to hunt a day or two.

MEETING SOLDIER BROTHER.

H. C. Meeker, engineer in the transformer department of the General Electric works, has gone to Chicago to meet his mother and his brother and accompany them to Long Island. The brother is a soldier and expects to leave Long Island soon for some point in France to take up active duties in the war. His mother and brother propose to spend as much time with him before he departs for the seat of war as possible and they will remain at Long Island until the hour of his departure.

Mr. Hamm is eminently qualified for the position, having been the assistant foreman several years and while holding that office, acting as general foreman on occasions when Mr. Scheid was absent either in the sick room or other cause. Mr. Hamm learned the machinist's trade in the Pennsylvania shops and was working as a Journeyman machinist in the main shop when he was called to the car machine shop as assistant foreman. HOUSE AND BARN ARE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Gasoline Explosion on Farm Near Columbia City Causes Costly Blaze.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—As the result of a gasoline explosion this morning, the house and garage of Walter Schaper on the farm of his father, Frank Schaper, five miles southwest of here, were totally destroyed by fire.

Schaper was engaged in filling his automobile tank with gasoline. Near by was a lighted lantern. An explosion followed. Schaper succeeded in pushing his automobile out, but the garage soon caught fire and the house near by. Schaper was painfully burned about the hand. The damage is estimated at $3,000. Schaper had $1,100 insurance on the house and $500 on the garage. All the contents in the house were consumed. His father's house and barn, near the scene of the conflagration, did not catch fire by reason of the fact that the wind was from the southwest.

MISS PAT MCCOY

Ladies and gentlemen, this introduces to you Miss Pat McCoy, of Omaha, Neb., who justly lays claim to the title of world's champion woman drummer.

Why, she can drum up more business for her firm, plumbing and heating specialties, than any mere man plumber drummer would ever think of doing.

Miss Pat, only 21, already has sold $100,000 worth of faucets, elbows, valves, fuller balls, packing gaskets, and such plumberish things to Uncle Sam's construction officers at fourteen army cantonments, and the chances are about 100 to 1 that she's talked some other army officer into buying a heating plant during the last minutes it took to write this about her.

SALAZAR, SPANISH TENOR, TO APPEAR IN THE SAN CARLO OPERA

Musical Fort Wayne and its environs are just now engrossed in the coming performance, at the Palace theater next Wednesday evening, by the San Carlo Grand Opera company, of which mention has been made in these columns. The event is of wide-spread interest, judging from the many requests for seats reaching Mr. Harry L. Tinker, of Wolf & Dessauer, local manager of the affair. The members of the Morning Musical club, under whose auspices the San Carlo organization visits the city for the first time, will attend the performance in a body, and indications are that one of the largest and most fashionable audiences seen at the Palace in years, will gather to hear the production of Verdi's massive opera, "Aida."

In the company's recent New York three-week engagement this opera was chosen to inaugurate the "season," and it is pleasing to learn, through Mr. Tinker, that almost the identical cast of principals that appeared in the opera at the metropolis, will be heard here. The only exception is that Miss Frances Ingram, the distinguished contralto of the Chicago Opera company, will participate in the production, singing her great role of Amneris, daughter of the king. Miss Ingram comes as a "guest" artist for the occasion, a fact which should lend deep interest in an affair already assured of success.

The popularity of the prices, which will enable all to share in the pleasures of the occasion, will prove a notable feature and be a boon to music lovers and others who love grandeur and beauty in musical art.

The regular seat sale will open at the Palace theater tomorrow morning.

SOMETHING MISSING.

In the heat that has attended discussion of some issues of the city campaign just closed many have perhaps failed to note the absence of a venerable subject of political dispute. "Law enforcement" has had no place in the controversies of the hustings in this contest. He is indeed a very old inhabitant who can recall a precedent to this state of affairs in a municipal contest in this city.

No longer ago than in the last city campaign that issue was uppermost, as it had been in previous battles of the parties for control of the local government for a time that is almost immemorial. This year the issue has been dead and wholly ignored. A partial reason may be found in the fact the days of the saloon are numbered in Indiana by reason of the prohibition law enacted by the last legislature. There could be no profit in attention to an issue whereof the determination already had been so definitely settled. But even without the prohibition law's intervention in this campaign we believe there would have been no attempt to revive the rancorous and disturbing old question of an "open" as against a "closed" town.

Eight years of consistent and rigorous law-enforcement have served to content practically the whole body of the people and by far the larger part of the saloonkeepers with an honest and steadfast enforcement of the law. Almost twenty-five years ago the administration of Col. C. B. Oakley inaugurated a policy of law-enforcement that at the time was thought to be about the last word in practical rigor. And it is to be said in the interest of truth that Mayor Oakley's "lid" had a pretty tight fit, though there were some saloons that contrived to run the blockade constantly. Then came a period of about a dozen years when the policy of law-enforcement was only spasmodic—short periods when the flagrancy with which the "liberal" policy was abused constrained the authorities to clap on the lid and keep it on until it appeared that saloonists were disposed to "be good" or until roused public sentiment had abated.

There is no reason to question that the "open" town policy had favor with the majority in those days. After two years of Mayor Oakley's "closed" town policy, he was repudiated at the polls by a heavy majority. Successive administrations permitted a fluctuating latitude of "liberalism" and granted a varying degree of extra-legal indulgence until the coming in of the administration of Jesse Grice when law-enforcement was quite suddenly and unexpectedly, and with uncommon rigor made the rule and order. It was a blow the liquor interests were not looking for and great was the wail, for upon an understanding or misunderstanding wholly different many saloonists and their friends had supported the republican party in the election that carried Mr. Grice into the city hall. Four years later the question of law-enforcement dominated the campaign. Just before the election Mayor Hoesy, then running for the term he is now completing, made an unequivocal declaration that if elected he would enforce the laws. The pledge was jeered by his opponents and thoroughly discounted by the liquor interests. But Mayor Hoesy meant it and it is to be said for him that never in its history has this city worn a lid so nearly airtight as the one it has had since January, 1914. The Grice policies were continued and strengthened. The city has been "closed."

After eight years of this salutary policy the people have come to accept the conditions it imposes as the normal and proper status of the city. It is our belief that even if the saloons were not to be extinguished by law next spring there would be no public toleration for a revival of the "open" town policy. We believe that a majority of liquor dealers would themselves oppose such a revival. And it also is our belief that though the prohibition law had not eliminated the question there would have been no law-enforcement issue in this campaign. Eight years of thorough decency and rigorous enforcement of the law have served to make clear to everybody how much better conditions now are than formerly and to bring united public sentiment to support of salutary policies that have wrought much for the moral aspects of Fort Wayne.

WOOD AS FUEL.

From railway sources we hear much that concerns the gravity of the fuel situation. To a railroad the fuel situation means coal. To the domestic consumer the fuel situation may mean anything that will burn in stove or furnace.

Lately it has been the subject of something of a propaganda that the embarrassments of the coal situation may be considerably modified by the development of a wood situation. No doubt that is true. The railroads themselves perhaps can assist greatly to solve the fuel problem by complete abandonment of a consistent practice of vast waste of combustibles. That is to say the railroads, instead of destroying every year many millions of discarded cross-ties by burning them in heaps along their tracks, might take the pains to haul those ties to population centers, great and small, where fuel problems exist. Likewise the railroads might with a similar if not equal advantage to solution of the fuel situation quit the wasteful practice of burning their condemned cars to make a cheap recovery of the iron and steel parts. In both practices the railroads of the country have wantonly destroyed no one may say how many hundreds of millions of cords of perfectly good fuel that might have been used both to conserve standing timber and to save in coal consumption.

Not many days ago the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, with headquarters here, gave public announcement that along the tracks of some of its lines were large quantities of replaced cross-ties that would be given for fuel free to any who would take them away. That was a good thing and a patriotic thing to do and we hope it may be extensively emulated. Railroads and interurbans might go a little farther and haul their old ties and condemned cars to points where the fuel situation is acute and then add to the condition of obtaining such wood for fuel the trifling cost there might reasonably be added to cover transportation. It would in the aggregate add millions of cords of wood to the general fuel supply of the country, relieve the peculiar stresses of the coal situation somewhat and, not least of considerations, would set up a salutary example of the prevention of waste.

Such an opportunity to obtain fuel at almost no cost would be a boon to multitudes of poor everywhere and it would also do something to insure the comfort and relieve the anxieties of a good many to whom the fuel problem is not price but fuel at all.

It is surmised that in selecting a shock unit to give the American troops their baptism of fire in the European trenches the Kaiser wanted to test the mettle of his new foe. Quite likely. The meager details do not indicate that he found anything especially happy in the result of the experiment save that the much-coveted American prisoners were taken. Such accounts as have come of the affair indicate that the Americans, trapped and surprised, gave a very creditable account of themselves. The Kaiser need not fuss himself about American fighting quality. The blood that shed heroic renown on the "hornet's nest" at Shiloh, on the "bloody angle" at Cold Harbor and on Pickett's charge and on Pickett's repulse at Gettysburg still courses in American veins. War may be new in its method and practice, but valor is the same old stuff it always has been, and none who have met Americans in battle ever discounted American valor more than once.

A wild-eyed mob of pacifists in New York, in behalf of Socialist Hilquitt's mayoralty candidacy, acclaimed Bob La Follette as the "next president of the United States." This goes to show several things, but none more clearly than that the war must go on to some distinct conclusion to make America safe for rational beings. This country has a deal more than Prussian militarism to overcome before it can be called secure.

The food conservation propaganda is going to be one of the very best little movements with a meaning all its own that Americans have ever entertained. Anything that will encourage the correction of wasteful practices and the abandonment of piggish habits of feeding is a blessing in whatever guise it may come.

It's all over but the shouting, and you will do well to save a bit of your voice for the better news that will come from the seat of war "over there" in a few days.

What Mr. Kerensky seems to want his friends abroad to understand is that Russia just now is having troubles of her own.

THE HEARTS OF MOTHERS.

The hearts of mothers are hid things. In these days of woe, And troops of strange thoughts move therein Silently and to fro.

They are not thoughts of yesterday, Or thoughts of you and me, And that which we have done or do, By air, or land, or sea.

But these are thoughts steel-bright with pain, And death-thoughts bare and stark, And shining thoughts of armaments That glitter through the dark.

They move, old passions and revolts, Fresh-called, yet stiff with scars, To music crimsoned with the clash Of endless, ancient wars.

And those who summon memories From pathways of the sun, When death spoke life most solemnly Ere new life was begun,

They dream of a strange blooming That dawns in greater birth, The trail, bright flower of selflessness Brought back again to earth.

They feel, the Givers of all Life, Great need to give again, The utmost dower of womanhood, All mystery—all pain.

Help the War-Camp Recreation Service

President Wilson himself has directed the attention of the chambers of commerce and citizens of American communities in the training camp districts to one big way in which they can do a valuable war bit.

"The greatest civilian gathering in Washington since the war began," is one expert observer's appraisal of the convention in Washington late in October at which the activities of the War-Camp Community Recreation Service were planned.

Recreation inside the camps is being taken care of by many agencies, from the Y. M. C. A. up and down. What happens to the soldier in training when he gets beyond the camp boundaries becomes most important.

The War-Camp Recreation Service would surround each training camp with a zone of hospitable homes and social circles welcoming the men in training into a round of pleasurable recreation.

Clean camp life is fine. But all these men now in camp came from homes. The change is a big one. What they need most to relieve camp life is CLEAN HOME LIFE.

Perhaps the Chambers of Commerce in the Cities and towns throughout the Country could be appealed to with entire propriety to assist you in this matter. In any event, let me assure you of my warm support. Sincerely yours, Woodrow Wilson

The Peril of a Prussian Peace

BY JOHN SPARGO.

From my boyhood days I have been an ardent anti-militarist and pacifist. For more than a quarter of a century I have gladly given myself unreservedly to the war upon war.

I am still an ardent anti-militarist and pacifist. I hate war as much as ever I did. Above all else I want to see peace securely established.

Nevertheless, I confess that at this time I am more afraid of a Prussian peace than I am of a continuance of the war, horrible as that is. Prussian militarism seeking to shape the conditions of world peace is more to be feared than when it is sharpening its sword for war.

The essence of Prussian militarism is this: It organizes all the resources of civilization to the end of establishing domination over all peoples. With endless ingenuity it has perverted to that ignoble and base end all the finest achievements of civilized man. In order that these mighty forces may be made of benefit to all mankind, and that the freedom of all peoples may be secured, and fraternal co-operation be substituted for brute force in the organization of the life of the world, Prussian militarism must be destroyed.

If I am asked whether militarism is only dangerous when it is Prussian; whether it is not a fact that French militarism, British militarism, and now American militarism, are equally dangerous and objectionable, I answer: That the essence of militarism lies not in the possession of trained armies, well equipped. It lies, rather, in the determination to use these forces for conquest and dominion.

At present England is not an organized camp. Industrially it is a vast arsenal. But England has not organized her resources for the purpose of conquest and dominion. Instead, she has created the vast military machine she has in order to protect herself and her neighbors against Germany's aggression. England has become a great military nation, temporarily, but she is not a militaristic nation.

France, too, has been forced to abandon her normal pursuits and to develop her military power to an extent undreamed of, but France is not a militaristic nation.

The American people and themselves in a position similar to the people of France and England. Hating war and militarism, as our history clearly and abundantly proves, we have been compelled to develop an enormous army in order to protect the rights and the lives of our citizens and those international principles and institutions without which civilization can not be maintained. We have no desire to dominate the world. We seek no aggrandizement, no annexations of territory, no commercial advantages. We do not even seek revenge for the wrongs we have suffered at the hands of Germany. Our sole purpose is the establishment of the security of all nations against the lawless and despotic conduct of a nation which acknowledges no right save might, the great power which despises the methods of civilization and insists upon the methods of barbarism.

Peace is paramount to us. We prefer the plow to the sword. We are happier in the triumphs of industry than in the triumphs of war. We fight only because we must; because the argument of brute force is the only argument the Prussian barbarian can comprehend or respect.

If peace were made today upon the terms which Prussia has caused to be circulated throughout the world there could be no guarantee that the peace would be enduring. The vast Prussian military machine would be maintained. Still all the resources of the German empire would be organized for the purpose of dominating and ruling the life of the world and of subjecting all nations to the will and purpose of Germany. Under such conditions no nation which preserved that self-respect and love of independence which are essential to freedom and progress would dare lessen its armaments. To do so would be equivalent to suicide. The nations would have to continue to waste their substance in military preparations against the inevitable day of German assault.

The United States, which has never heretofore maintained an army of any size, would have to maintain as a part of its permanent organization a vast army, capable of meeting any other vast army. It would have to enter into alliances with other nations as means of protecting itself against other alliances. The Prussian peace would thus fasten upon us, and upon all other nations, a military burden as great as that which the war has forced upon us and them.

If, instead of a premature peace upon terms dictated by Prussia, we wait for the peace which will be possible upon our own terms, and those of our allies, when Prussia is obliged to acknowledge defeat and to surrender, we shall be in a position to throw off the military burden which would crush us to the ground. We shall be able to deny Prussia the right to maintain a menace to the common weal of the nations, and so doing assure our own safety and freedom of life. Progressive disarmament is only possible when Prussian militarism shall have been destroyed.

Stripped of all disguises and subtleties, the Prussian plan is a peace which will restore the status quo ante. Everything to be as it was in the days before Prussia made war upon civilization—in outward appearance, that is. Essentially, things would be very different. Germany would be advanced a long way toward the realization of the cherished ambition of world domination. Having achieved this, she would turn her hands to the task of repairing the damage thus wantonly wrought. Germany would soon be again ready to make war; and who can consider her record and doubt that she would do so?

At this time Prussia making peace is more to be feared than Prussia making war. This is no time for weakening. The interest of all civilized nations is in the defeat of the German people—require the defeat of the central empires and the establishment of those principles of international law which Germany has flouted and denied.

In every war of vast magnitude peace must be well intentioned, but unguided, people urge peace when peace is perilous. Thus it was in the dark days of the civil war; the pacifists of the time urged Lincoln to make peace, and Lincoln was denounced by them far more bitterly than anyone has had the hardihood to denounce President Wilson. Today every sane person in the land knows that Lincoln was justified in the course he took, and that the pacifists were wrong. Had the council of the pacifists prevailed it would have been a great disaster to civilization.

Prussian contempt for civilization and law forced us into this war against our wishes and inclinations. We shall not lay down the sword until we have forced Prussian-ruffed Germany to respect civilization and international law. We must insist upon an end being put to the anarchy and brutal arrogance of Prussian militarism.

We are for peace, now as ever, but not for the peace which Prussia would impose upon the world—the peace which comes from submission to the tyrant's yoke. We are for the peace of justice and righteousness; and we mean to attain it, no matter what the sacrifice may be.

GOOD CITIZENS IN POLITICS.

(Indianapolis News.)

A development noted in previous campaigns and especially evident this year in state contests is the increasing activity and political solidarity of the business and professional classes.

ministers, church people, business men and others. It used to be popular to call politics a "dirty game" which could not help but soil those who mixed in it. How it could ever be made a cleaner game if the reputable citizens stayed out and let gamblers, crafters, crooks and the undesirable of the community play it to suit themselves was never explained. We can not have good government unless the good people of town and state take an interest in it. As long as they do not, politics will continue to be a "dirty game," government will continue to be wasteful and dishonest.

So the entrance of church people, of the women's clubs, of high class business men into politics, gives heartening promise of cleaner politics and honest government. This element has acted militantly and practically as a body in the campaign at Muncie in the attempt to overthrow Mayor Bunch and his crowd, and to bring about a change in conditions of which good citizens are ashamed. In the Indianapolis campaign this element will be largely thrown to the support of Mr. Jewett, who can be elected and who is believed best able to make and maintain a clean city.

There is no danger, as some seem to fear, that the good people will be soiled by politics. Rather, they will remove some of the soil from politics. Why should politics be a "dirty game?" It is simply a means of electing men to govern. All men take a part in it to the extent, at least, of voting. It should, therefore, be no better or worse than are the men of the entire nation taken as a whole. It is worse because the better elements, having in the past left the disreputable element to control it by taking the most active interest in it. The only way things can be bettered is for the reputable classes to oust from political power the selfish and dishonest classes. A start in this direction is being made.

It was a presentation to Mr. Lincoln of a photograph of Abraham Lincoln Rogers, who was born at Rock Haven, Pa., at noonday, March 4, 1865, during the hour in which Abraham Lincoln took the oath of office the second time as president of the United States. The presentation was made by his mother, Mrs. T. C. Rogers. In the gown shown here there is a suggestion of the Turkish woman's costume in the richly beaded and em-

Notes of the D. A. R.

At the monthly meeting of Mary Penrose Wayne chapter held at the library on Monday afternoon interest centered particularly in an address on Mexico given by a resident there, Mrs. H. H. Markley, who is visiting in the city at the home of Mrs. D. J. Griswold. Mrs. Markley told of her own life and that of her family and her interesting descriptions concerned the religious and social life of the people among whom she lives near the interior of the country. She described the great resources and beauty of the country and the possibilities of the soil. The real people of Mexico, those untouched by the bad of the invaders, are a simple and peace-loving people, both Mexicans and the Indians left of the Aztec race. The "greaser" is the Mexican who has copied the bad, the man who has grown wicked as the people of other lands enter and deprive the Mexicans of what is theirs by inheritance.

Mrs. George Bliss, regent, presided at the meeting. Reports were read by Dr. Jessie C. Calvin, of Red Cross work, and by Mrs. J. B. Crankshaw concerning the conservation of food committee. Mrs. Edward White reported on the relic room in the court house, particularly the attendance, which is very good.

The annual conference of the state organization of D. A. R. opens tomorrow evening at the Claypool hotel, Indianapolis.

Mrs. Henry A. Beck is the retiring regent and the two aspirants for the office are Mrs. S. E. Perkins, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Frank Felter, of Huntington. Mrs. Otto Rott, of Bloomington, is the only announced candidate for vice regent and there are two known candidates for the treasurer's office. Delegates from Mary Penrose Wayne chapter are the regent, Mrs. George S. Bliss, and Mrs. James B. Crankshaw. The ladies leave on Wednesday for Indianapolis.

Restoration of the American Kitchen

(By H. E. BARNARD.)

The war has restored the kitchen to its pioneer importance as the center of the home. A woman is rich or poor nowadays according to her kitchen economy; a patriot or a slacker, according to her kitchen activities. For years kitchen work has been losing its importance in home making. House-

WHEN YOU ORDER GROCERIES FOR WHEATLESS DAY BE SURE TO ORDER A POUND OF

"BETTER THAN BREAD"

Craig's Corn Wafers are taking the place of bread on wheatless days. You can spread them with butter, or use them for any purpose for which bread is used. The crispy brown color is just suggestive of the splendid flavor that makes you want more of them. Made from cornmeal and sweetened just enough, they appeal to the appetite of young and old.

Craig's Corn Wafers make it easy for the housewife. No longer does she have to puzzle about what to serve in place of bread on wheatless days. She just substitutes the Corn Wafers in its place and smiles, for she knows the Corn Wafers are just the thing. They are good any day, and if you'll try them for tomorrow you'll want them every day. Order a pound with your groceries.

wives have lost interest in cooking and have found only drudgery in the most important work in the home. How many housewives will confess "I love to make salads, but I loathe dishwashing?" Now comes war's necessities and kitchen work, even conscientious dishwashing, becomes a patriotic service. Food Administrator Hoover has told us over and over again how the little savings in the kitchen multiplied by the 20,000,000 kitchens in this country will conserve enough food to feed our suffering allies.

Many women who for years have been content to leave their kitchen in charge of a servant have rediscovered that it is an interesting place during the long hours they have put in canning and conserving food for next winter's use. They see the drudgery of kitchen work through clearer glasses and realize as they have never done before that it is not the work but the way the work is done that makes it a servile task. After all, the kitchen is only a practical working laboratory in which the cook takes complex chemical compounds, such as meat and flour and turns them into other compounds which are transformed in the wonderful laboratory or the body into heat and energy.

To be able to prepare food in such a way that it is wholly satisfactory for the body's needs, is more than an art, it is a real science. Our war for democracy is reaching down into every home. It is rescuing us as a people from the depths of selfishness and carelessness into which we had fallen. It is teaching into every kitchen and transforming it into a place where labor becomes service and the simplest duty a definite contribution to the immense effort necessary to bring us victory.

BERNHARD'S HOME LIFE IS DESCRIBED AS SIMPLE.

The forthcoming personal visit of Mrs. Sarah Bernhardt, who will make her final farewell appearances in Fort Wayne at the Majestic at an early date, has aroused much interest in the city. Sarah Bernhardt, traveling with her are often asked to tell something of her home life. They say it is simple to a fault. Her little country house in Brittany was once a provincial fort. When the soldiers, who used to occupy it, left, she bought the building. It is furnished simply. Not a trace of luxury. A few pictures in the living room which does duty also as a studio. The bathroom is all primitive Breton ware. The bedrooms are almost as bare of decorations as those of a nun. In her Paris home, a four-story house on the Boulevard Peretie, not far from the Parc Monceau, Mme. Bernhardt gives her fantasy free play. Rare works of art, rich draperies, costly pictures adorn her studio and reception rooms. In a place of honor is a large, full-length portrait of her made long ago by Clairin. The chairs and tables in her salon and her dining room are works of art. All her surroundings speak of faultless taste.

1918 EVENING DRESS TO BE STRAIGHT CLINGING MODELS.

Many of the prettiest evening frocks are straight, clinging little models of very supple velvet, untrimmied save for a flower or ornament somewhere about the bodice.

Frocks there are in softly brilliant colors, coral, rose, American beauty, celestial blue, apple green and orchid or in deep purple, auvergne, sapphire and black.

Dancing frocks are short, but there are trained frocks, with trains that may be tucked up and fastened without spoiling the skirt lines when the wearer wants to dance. The evening frock high in the back and décolleté only in front is featured, and is to be worn with a hat for restaurant dinners, etc., or without the hat for informal evening social functions. The built-up back of the bodice is often of one layer of tulle or chiffon, but it does make a difference in the character of the frock.

With evening frocks the narrow skirt is often obtained by a clinging swirl of drapery narrowing from hips to ankles and perhaps wandering off at last in a thin little train. The line at the foot is very irregular and some softly transparent or semi-transparent underskirt may fill in the omissions; or, if this irregular line does not ascend too high, silk stockings assume the responsibility.

ARMY LESSON FOR AMERICAN HOUSEKEEPERS; FEEDING UNITED STATES ARMY IN THE FIELD

A UNITED STATES ARMY FIELD KITCHEN.

BY BIDDY BYE.

Woman does not like to camp out. The work of feeding her family is always too hard.

No matter how energetic she might be, almost any nice housekeeper would be appalled at the prospect of getting dinner in a kitchen like the one above pictured.

And what a variety of foods the cooks and bakers must know how to prepare!

potatoes, onions, canned tomatoes, prunes, jam, evaporated apples and peaches, coffee, sugar, evaporated milk, vinegar, pickles, salt, pepper, cinnamon, lard, butter, syrup and instant cereal. Some of the more important articles are listed below.

canned corn beef, dried and canned fish, cornmeal, canned vegetables, canned fruit, chocolate and tea, cereals, and special for holidays. Cooking for soldiers is far from easy, but it can be done by men under conditions which women would call "impossible."

"Show me a company of happy, snappy men, full of 'pep,' and I will know that the cook of that company is on his job," says a colonel.

The statement like the soldier's reaction, can be applied to home cooking.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur it
body Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If peevish, feverish and sick, give "California Syrup
of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again.
All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleaning. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly
on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

Sarah Bernhardt "THE DIVINE SARAH" Sends Nuxated Iron To the French Soldiers to Help Give Them Strength, Power and Endurance

General Gibson Says It Should Be Used By Every Soldier Who Goes to the Front—That He Himself Is Hale and Hearty In His 91st Year, He Attributes Largely To His Recent Use of Nuxated Iron.

Remarkable experience of Dr. James Louis Beyea who, at nearly 80 years of age, obtained astonishingly increased strength and renewed energy with a short course of this remarkable product.

What every soldier most needs is tremendous "stay there" strength, power and endurance, with nerves of steel and blood of iron. To produce this result, there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron, says Dr. James Louis Beyea, former medical college adjunct-professor and army surgeon. A large quantity of this valuable product was sent to the French soldiers by Mme. Sarah Bernhardt. I have taken it myself and prescribed it for my patients and some of my old comrades in arms, with practically unflinching results. It certainly puts the "pep" of life into the blood.

If General Gibson's advice were followed and every soldier who goes to the front carried a package of Nuxated Iron in his kit, I am sure that the men would not only be better, stronger fighters, but that we would have far less sickness in the army and much less work for the Red Cross and army hospitals to do. Notwithstanding the fact that I am nearing my 80th birthday, a short course of Nuxated Iron has made me feel like a new man, giving me astonishingly increased strength and renewed energy.

General Horatio Gates Gibson says Nuxated Iron has brought back to him in good measure that old buoyancy and energy that filled his veins in 1847 when he made his triumphant entry with General Scott into the City of Mexico and that he attributes the fact that he is hale and hearty in his 91st year, after an active military life with service in both the Mexican and civil wars largely to his recent use of this wonderful product.

Another remarkable case is that of General David Stuart Gordon, noted Indian fighter and hero of the battle of Gettysburg. General Gordon says: "When I became badly run down this year, I found myself totally without the physical power to 'come back' as I had done in my younger days. I tried different 'so-called tonics' without feeling any better, but finally I heard of how physicians were widely recommending organic iron to rebuild new red blood and rebuild strength in worn out bodies. As a result, I started taking Nuxated Iron and within a month it had aroused my weakened vital forces and made me feel strong again, giving me an endurance such as I never hoped to again possess.

* Former Health Commissioner of Chicago, Wm. R. Kerr said: As Health Commissioner of the City of Chicago, I was importuned many times to recommend different medicines, mineral waters, etc. Never yet have I gone on record as favoring any particular remedy. But in the case of Nuxated Iron I feel an exception should be made to the rule. From my own experience with it, I feel that it is such a valuable remedy that it ought to be used in every hospital and prescribed by every physician in this country, and if my endorsement shall induce anaemic, nervous, run down men and women to take Nuxated Iron, and receive the wonderful tonic benefits which I have received, I shall feel greatly gratified that I made an exception to my life long rule in recommending it.

Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician, who has studied both in this country and great European Medical Institutions, said: Nuxated Iron is a wonderful remedy. Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination and life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of twenty and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man. In fact, a young man he really was, notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking Nuxated Iron. He had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in bad health—he was careworn and nearly all in—now at 50, after taking Nuxated Iron, a miracle of vitality and life came beaming with the buoyancy of youth.

If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run-down instead of dosing themselves with habit-forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages, I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, preventing it before it could take root in thousands of cases, and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, kidney, liver, heart trouble and other dangerous maladies. Thousands of people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron, which is so strongly endorsed by Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, the world's most noted actress, and which has been used with such surprising results by Dr. James Louis Beyea, General Gibson and Gordon, and former Health Commissioner Kerr, of Chicago, and which is prescribed and recommended by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine, nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they can not take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent or over in four weeks' time. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat, Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may feel obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

A GREAT CHANGE ENTERS INTO LIFE OF STOREKEEPER

A certain unassuming gentleman in this city who happens to be a prominent dealer in furniture and who up to a few weeks ago had become a recluse because of his physical condition tells this remarkable and most interesting tale:

"For a number of years," he said, "I have been so closely confined to my business working zealously to make my store representative in every respect that wear and tear finally got me, my face became drawn and haggard and my disposition seemed to urge people to evade me. It was then that I began to despise my own company. My bookkeeper who has been with me a long time, one day suggested that I needed a rest and that my nerves required attention. She told me that her father had been in the state of health which I was experiencing and that he had taken Phosphated Iron. 'Look at him now,' she said. 'He works ten hours a day and appears to be the happiest man in the world, which he believes he is, he says.'"

"All this happened less than a month ago. I followed the advice and look at me now. Back in the harness with a smile all the while. I am feeling more fit than ever. When I see a tired looking face the name of Phosphated Iron immediately comes in my mind. I am convinced that it is converting many a worn out body into a life rich in thought, ambition and enthusiasm."

Special Notice—To insure physicians and patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine in capsules only.

RUSSIA WILL DO HER PART

Premier Kerensky Resents Construction of His Interview. WILL NOT SHIRK DUTY TO ALLIES Repeats, However, That His Country Must Have a Deal of Aid.

Petrograd, Monday, Nov. 5.—Russia is still doing her utmost to do her duty. She will continue to do her duty. She is the views of Premier Kerensky, whose secretary in his name protested today against any other interpretation of his recent interview with the Associated Press. David Soyko, the premier's secretary, made the following statement regarding "the misinterpretation by some of the London press" of the interview: "I have seen Premier Kerensky with reference to the interview and shown him quotations from the English press. He was very much astonished at the manner in which his plain statements were received in London. Whoever read the whole interview can draw but one conclusion from it. Russia was doing, is doing and still will do her utmost in carrying on her share of the common cause against the enemy, having devoted all her might from the very first days of the war, when England only began her vast preparations and America was still neutral."

"Russia, which always was much poorer economically than her mighty allies now naturally feels the pinch of war more than England and America and therefore is justified in the contention that the allies now should shoulder the heavier burden assist her unreservedly with war material and finances. In the matter of her requirements."

"The minister-president in this interview pointed out that even if the allied countries appreciate fairly the great part Russia has played and still is playing in the war and that some were inclined to attack her bitterly because of the great difficulties with which she is confronted, she will continue to do her duty."

M. Soyko said the interpretation of the American press of his interview were pleasing to M. Kerensky.

ARM SCRATCHING IS LIGHT ELECTION DAY

Number of Vaccinations Are Expected to Constantly Decrease.

Fewer arms were scratched for inoculation against smallpox on election day, than in any like period since the wholesale vaccination order for children started two weeks ago. There were times on Tuesday when only two or three children were in the corridors of the city hall.

The vaccination rush is believed to be on the wane. Health officers state that they expect fewer inoculations each day until the vaccination period is over. There have been more than 6,000 points of vaccine used since the inoculation started.

The smallpox has spent its force in Fort Wayne, health men state definitely. They expect the number of cases to grow less from now on. Fort Wayne has been more fortunate in checking the spread of the disease than many other middle western cities which are caught in the sweep of the illness.

New cases of smallpox reported are: Cora Harvey, 818 Huestis avenue, and in the Reed family. 2104 Sherman street.

COUNCIL OF DEFENSE MEETS WEDNESDAY

Matters of Great Importance Will Be Presented, Full Attendance Desired.

The Council of Defense will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Commercial club. President W. H. Schuler has a number of matters of great importance to present and desires a full attendance. The September meeting of this organization was not held because of other pressing duties but all matters coming up at that time were promptly attended to by the executive committee.

At the meeting Wednesday night a proposition will be considered to collect and clean the clothing left behind by those who were called into the draft army and send them to the stricken old men and boys of Belgium, France, Russia and Serbia. Most of this clothing would be destroyed before the soldiers return unless special care was given it and when the glad day comes when the boys are back home they will need and get new suits.

The Council of Defense has learned from the state council that the Pennsylvania company has a number of ties spread along the lines west of Pittsburgh which they would be glad to turn over to those who have no fuel, providing they haul them away from the lines.

SPECIAL USE FOR MITE BOX OFFERING

Local Red Cross Plans to Make Aprons for Workers from Money Collected.

The little mite-box in front of the Red Cross headquarters on East Berry street, is to play another important part. The money dropped in the box for the next few days is to be used for making aprons for the workers of the chapter. The idea is to make twenty-five aprons so that all the workers of the surgical dressing department may be dressed in white. All who can should bring their own aprons but the extra supply will be kept on hand so that anyone wishing to drop in the workshop a while when up town will always find an apron for them.

The executive committee of the Red Cross workshop will meet Tuesday night at the Commercial club and as a number of important questions will come up it is desired that everyone be present.

The Little society of Hosland has donated $110 to the general fund. Patterson Fletcher Co. gave a new showcase to the workshop. The Singer Sewing Machine company has donated two more machines to Red Cross work. They will be used at the Y. W. C. A., where Red Cross work is being done.

Mrs. A. E. Fauve, who is making an inspection trip of the northern Indiana Red Cross chapters to promote more interest in the work, visited the Commercial club and the workshop. Mrs. Blount and Mrs. H. W. McNamee, of Washash, spent Tuesday visiting the local warehouse.

NO ORDERS TO MOVE ENEMY ALIENS BACK

But May Have to Get Away from the Coast, Says Gregory.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Attorney General Gregory declared today that no orders had been given to remove enemy aliens 100 miles from the coast line, where they could not occupy observation posts, but indicated that the government seriously was considering what steps should be taken to see that they are in no position to gather information in this morning's German newspapers. The new administration, they find, is seriously considering letting the post of vice chancellor die with the retirement of Dr. Karl Helfferich, should his resignation be accepted, instead of filling it with Deputy von Payer or any other radical member of the reichstag. The reichstag party leaders, in counting up the assurances given them by Secretary von Kuehlmann, now discover that among these there was no promise regarding the vice chancellorship, was careful to say he was not authorized to promise this and could not negotiate about a new appointment because his colleague, Dr. Helfferich, had not yet resigned. Deputy Ebert, president of the socialist group in the reichstag, called upon Chancellor von Hertling Sunday afternoon to remind him that the socialists had made it a condition of their support that a radical deputy taken into the cabinet, the imperial cabinet and the Prussian cabinet. They declare they laid down this condition as an absolutely indispensable one. Vorwaerts, the socialist organ, today takes a firm stand against any legislation with the ministerial posts.

ALLIED GOVERNMENTS MUST ACT TOGETHER

More Than Mere Technical Questions of War at Rome Conference.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The coming meeting in Rome of the premiers of England, Italy and France is indicated by official dispatches issued today. To be of greater use than only the consideration of military measures to meet the German drive into Italy. M. Painleve, the French premier, was accompanied to the Italian capital by Franklin Bouillon, the French minister of missions in Rome. The chief of staff and General Robertson, the chief of staff, were awaiting the premiers in Rome, and in the meantime have been concerning measures for the co-operation of French and British troops with the Italian armies. General Smuts, of South African fame, is also in attendance with Lloyd George, the British premier. An explanation of the general purposes of the gathering of the statesmen and soldiers is given in the cablegram as follows:

"It is necessary that there should be a large plan of concerted action between the governments themselves in addition to the technical military actions and orders, hence the call to the premiers and political heads of the entente."

The advisability of creating an inter-allied war committee may possibly be discussed and attracts much attention here.

PROGRESSIVES IN GERMANY DOUBTFUL

Not Certain That They Have Gained Anything in Late Bargaining.

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—The fear of the progressive elements in Germany that they may have been cheated in their bargaining with Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann for a government of a more parliamentary nature, is plainly evident in this morning's German newspapers. The new administration, they find, is seriously considering letting the post of vice chancellor die with the retirement of Dr. Karl Helfferich, should his resignation be accepted, instead of filling it with Deputy von Payer or any other radical member of the reichstag. The reichstag party leaders, in counting up the assurances given them by Secretary von Kuehlmann, now discover that among these there was no promise regarding the vice chancellorship, was careful to say he was not authorized to promise this and could not negotiate about a new appointment because his colleague, Dr. Helfferich, had not yet resigned. WARNS KAISER THAT HE MUST BE HONEST

German Socialist Leader Says Broken Word Will Bring a Fight.

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—In an address on Sunday at Elbing, West Prussia, Philipp Scheideemann, the German socialist leader, said his party would support the new German government if it kept its promises, including those for equal rights in Prussia, abolition of political censorship and concessions to labor. The support of the socialists also was conditioned, he said, on the carrying out by the government of a clear and firm foreign policy in furtherance of everything compatible with Germany's honor and future for the attainment of a speedy and lasting peace. Otherwise, said Herr Scheideemann, the socialists would fight the new government as they had fought the Michaelis regime.

Equal rights in Prussia were granted and control by reichstag majority over the makeup of the government and its policies were established—developments which were springing into being before their eyes there would be no excuse, Herr Scheideemann declared, for refusing to negotiate peace with Germany on the pretext that it was ruled autocratically.

THINKING OF THE FUTURE

Germany Now Less Concerned With the War Map Than the Trade Map.

SEES ROCKY ROAD FOR TRADE AHEAD

Kaiser Warned That Month of War Means Year of Business Difficulty.

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—In the midst of the general excitement in Germany over the victories with China and Riga fronts and the demands for revision of the peace program in accordance with the new war map, German business classes are beginning to obey the injunction to consider the commercial map as well.

An increasing amount of attention is devoted by the newspapers to the growing difficulties of re-establishing German foreign trade after the war. Articles in serious newspapers even of pan-German views are found almost every day in which it is pointed out that diplomatic breaks with China and Central and South American republics instead of being a source of amusement on account of the military unimportance of these nations, mean the loss of Germany's hard won commercial position in these markets and increase the difficulty of the uphill fight to rebuild the foreign trade after the war.

See Great Difficulties.

Business men protest that these difficulties will be virtually insuperable if the government persists in its plan of establishing a control of imports and shipping after the return of peace and of restricting private initiative. Some of them go further and demand indemnification by the state of men engaged in foreign trade for war losses and state financial assistance in the post-bellum offensive against foreign markets.

The thought that Germany shipping might be barred or restricted in the ports of Germany's present enemies which has long been scoffed at by shipping and export has now come to the business world as a real menace. Discussions of peace conditions, even in the most virulent pan-German war organs emphasize the necessity of again procuring for German shipping the most favored nation treatment for foreign harbors which was formerly enjoyed, as a vital condition of the settlement after the war.

Want to Prepare For It.

Considerable attention is devoted to the reform of the British consular service and the demand is voiced that measures be taken without delay to bring German consular and trade intelligence service up to date and that all preparations be made during the war so that German trades may have a favorable start in the race to secure raw materials the instant peace is concluded.

The situation is realized with a special keenness in Hamburg where in repeated articles by business experts the government has been warned that the plans to promote the recovery of German exchange and keep down prices by establishing an official purchasing monopoly would merely result in rival nations securing the security world supply of foodstuffs and raw materials.

Got a Warning.

There is a well authenticated story of a conference between Emperor William, Field Marshal von Hindenburg, Gen. von Ludendorff and Albert Ballin, head of the Hamburg-American line, during last summer in which the Hamburg shipping magnate after listening to the glowing account of the military situation given by the military leaders told the emperor that even a month of the war meant an additional year in getting out of the slough of ruin after the war. He declared he did not expect to live to see Germany out of her difficulties.

BURNS IS NO EQUAL FOR CHAMPION HERMAN

Jersey City Man Almost Knocked Out in Fight at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—Pete Hermann, of New Orleans, bantamweight champion, was awarded a decision by Referee Goldman over Frankie Burns, of Jersey City, here last night at the end of a twenty-round bout.

It was Hermann's fight all the way, and in the opinion of many ringside authorities, it was only Burns' ability to stand punishment, and his ring generalship, that saved him from being knocked out.

Hermann was credited with thirteen rounds, Burns four, and three were even. Burns led the fighting in the early rounds, taking the offensive and apparently seeking to bring the fight to a close by the knockout route. After the tenth, however, he tired out, and with the exception of a rally in the fourteenth, was as good as out of it. In rounds five, eight, twelve, fifteen and eighteen Hermann started furious offensive tactics, chasing Burns around the ring and raining blows on his ribs and face. He seemed to have everything but a knockout blow. Burns' other rounds were in the fourth, seventh and tenth. He delivered several hard body blows in the seventh that seemed to bother Hermann considerably.

In the eighteenth round it looked as though Burns would be unable to stay the limit. The bell found him groggy and weakening. The final round saw Hermann apparently as fresh as when he started. He rained rights and lefts on his opponent, and a knockout seemed certain just before the final gong, when the champion had Burns in his own corner, administering severe punishment. A crowd estimated at about 10,000 including several hundred soldiers from Camp Shelby, Miss., witnessed the fight.

The betting ranged from 9 to 5, before the fight started, to 7 to 5 during the early rounds, with Hermann the favorite.

Last night's fight is the last for Hermann before entering the national army November 13. He received $6,000 for last night's fight.

HARPER A "SIMON LEGRIE."

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 6.—Those who thought that Coach Harper would give the Notre Dame players an afternoon off Monday were disappointed, for the players, although not in the best of shape following the terrific hammering received against the Army on Saturday, were out for light work. The long, tedious ride from the Atlantic seaboard that ended in a magnificent serenade in South Bend at midnight Sunday left them in a far from frisky condition.

Harper warned his men against over-confidence, and predicted that Notre Dame would meet the stiffest kind of opposition against Morningside college at Sioux City, Iowa, Saturday. Few of the men were injured in Saturday's battle.

"Big Frank" Rydzewski had an old wound on the forehead aggravated, and Brandy, the midwest back field man, who scored the touchdown that won the game, suffered a broken nose. Neither showed up for practice.

HERMAN MARRIED.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—Peter Herman, bantamweight champion of the world, was secretly married Sunday night to Miss Anna Bohlan, 18 years old, it was learned here today. Herman had intended to be married Monday evening after his fight with Frankie Burns, but decided he did not want to go to the altar with the scars of battle on his face. The couple separated after the wedding and did not meet again until after last night's bout. Mrs. Herman is anxious to see the fight, but will not be permitted to do so.

Press Agent Says Game is to Decide Championship of Middle West.

Hammond, Ind., Nov. 6.—The professional football championship of the middle west will be decided Sunday when the Cornell-Hamburgs and the Hammond Clabys meet in the Hammond park. The two teams are considered the strongest in this part of the county and this will be the first time they have had a chance to test each other. The Cornell-Hamburgs, who are coached by Alderman McDonough, of the Fifth ward, have defeated Maywood, Racine and Milwaukee. Hammond, under the direction of Ed Greene, former Pennsylvania captain, has defeated Davenport, Wabash and Pine Village.

It must be confessed that Hammond has a live wire press agent. Last week we were told that the Pine Village-Hammond game was to determine the championship of the state. This week we are told the game with the Cornell-Hamburgs is to decide the championship of the middle west. The next game, the world's championship, will be played at stake.

Because of the rough and unpolished tactics of the Cornell-Hamburgs, there are few self-respecting teams that will play them.

BILLIARDIST SHAW A WONDER.

The Academy billiard parlors were crowded to the doors both yesterday afternoon and evening to see Lew Shaw, the champion billiard and pool player, play billiards and pool and make his wonderful fancy shots. Mr. Shaw also made a run of 175 at three-ball billiards and two runs of fifteen balls at pool playing, fifteen balls or no count. Those who saw Mr. Shaw's exhibition say it was the best ever given in the city. This evening at 8 p. m. Mr. Shaw will meet the best player in the city at the 100 or no count game of billiards, fancy shots after the game.

BADGERS PREP FOR OHIO

Madison, Wis., Nov. 6.—Signal practice with new plays for the Badgers variety, eleven and scrimmage for the second and third teams Monday afternoon opened the week of training for the Ohio State battle here Saturday. Ohio is the most feared of the Badgers' opponents, but Coach Richards is working out a defense for Jack Wiley's wonderful pair of half backs, Harley and Stinchcomb, and he is confident that if his team shows the improvement this week that it did last, Wisconsin will win.

PURDUE TAKES IT EASY.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 6.—Purdue rested Monday because there is no game Saturday. The players came through the Northwestern game practically unscathed, although several are slightly lame. This week Coach O'Donnell will work his men for the Indiana game, Nov. 24, the last on Purdue's schedule, at Bloomington. The game with Wabash a week from next Saturday should not be hard.

Johnny Evers associated with American league people all during the world's series. The result is that everybody seems convinced that John of Troy is to land in the American somewhere next year as a manager. So much for association, but flying with crows doesn't make a sparrow a singer.

MINUTE MEN OF FOOTBALL—HURRY-UP YOST

(By Paul Purman.)

The return of Michigan to the western conference and the attempt to stage a post-season game between Chicago and Michigan recall one of the greatest records of western football, both in its inception and realization and its unfortunate culmination.

The record referred to is that of Fielding Yost's at Michigan, beginning in 1901 and ending in 1905, a defeat of the Wolverines in 1905, a defeat which caused an upheaval in the western conference and resulted in Michigan leaving the big eight.

During those years Michigan did not suffer a defeat and piled up a total of about 2,000 points against all opponents who registered less than 100 against the Yost machine.

It was the day of Willie Heston, of Boss Weeks, of Babe Carter, Dan McGuin and others whose names will go down in the football hall of fame so long as the game is played on American college grids. These were the famous teams of which Yost demanded and received "a point a minute," a slogan which gave him the name of "Hurry-up Yost."

Since 1905 Yost has developed wonderful teams. Unable to get games in the western conference he has been forced to play smaller schools in the middle west to drive for his big eastern games, usually with Cornell, Pennsylvania and Syracuse.

Yost's choice as coach of Michigan was indirectly due to the illness of a player on the Ohio Wesleyan team of 1897. Yost was coaching the Ohio college at that time and when he started with his squad to Ann Arbor for the Michigan game found he had just eleven men who could qualify as football players. Arriving at Ann Arbor one of the men suddenly became ill. Wesleyan agreed to play if Michigan would permit Yost to fill in. Michigan, needing practice and anticipating an easy victory, consented.

Owing to the skill and finesse with which Yost played the game the game ended a scoreless tie. A few years later when Michigan needed a coach Yost was remembered and he was secured.

Yost was born in Fairview, W. Va., April 20, 1871, and after the usual high school training entered Ohio Northern university. The next year he entered West Virginia university, where he played tackle in 1894 and 1895, going to Lafayette in 1896.

The next year he coached at Ohio Wesleyan and won the Ohio state title. Championships then became a mania with the smiling Yost. In 1898 he coached Nebraska and won the Missouri valley conference title. In 1899 he went to Kansas, beat Nebraska and again won the title. In 1900 he won the Pacific coast title for Leland Stanford and found time to coach San Jose overall the school into the normal school championship and Lowell high of San Francisco, to the prep school title in an elimination contest embracing twenty-eight schools.

The next year Yost went to Michigan and for three years won the conference title, losing it the fourth year in the game with Chicago.

When he is not coaching football teams Yost is busy with his oil interests in Kentucky.

Born in the oil district of West Virginia Yost has always followed the oil fields. He is also interested in a hydro-electric power company in Tennessee.

BOXING PLAYS BIG PART IN BAYONET INSTRUCTION

Washington, Nov. 6.—Boxing lessons will teach bayonet work to men now in the camps. The commission on training camp activities, through Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft, of Princeton university, announced the arrangements today under which champions, ex-champions and near champions of the ring will teach the basic footwork to the soldiers. The training is principally in shadow boxing, the motions being almost the same as those used in actual bayonet fighting. Films have been made of Kid McCoy, Jim Corbett, Johnny Kilbane and Benny Leonard in action. Some of the instructors appointed are Benny Leonard, Kid McCoy, Battling Levinsky, Johnny Schiff, Ritchie Mitchell, Packey McFarland and Charlie White.

SPORT RAVINGS

The Hammond press agent is certainly covering a lot of territory with all his championship dope.

If next Sunday's game between the Cornell-Hamburgs and Hammond is to decide the championship of the middle west and Hammond should win and the Friars should defeat Racine, it would seem that the Friars have as perfect right to claim the title as Hammond. It will be recalled that Racine defeated Hammond.

Canton Bulldogs defeated Youngstown Patricians Sunday by a score of 5 to 0. The Massillon Tigers defeated the Columbus Panhandles by a score of 28 to 0.

Five football teams in the east are still undefeated. They are: Dartmouth, Williams, Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson and Stevens. Army and Brown, previously unbeaten, lost Saturday. Washington and Jefferson will battle Pittsburgh next Saturday.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN.

Boston, Nov. 6.—Favorable responses have been received to inquiries made of the New England colleges as to the advisability of holding the annual cross-country championship this fall, and the event will be run over the Franklin park course in this city Nov. 17. Teams will be entered from Williams, Bowdoin, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston college and Tufts.

WHAT'LL YOU BET HE DOES?

Des Moines, Nov. 6.—Mike Gibbons may go to France with American Sammlies to lick the Kaiser. Such a possibility was disclosed yesterday when it was learned from the Minnesota scrappers' training camp that the phantom is studying French. Gibbons is boxing instructor to thousands of drafted selects at Camp Dodge, Iowa.

"Mike is heart and soul in this army game, and wants to do all he can to lick the Kaiser," said Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager.

Gibbons starts training here this week for a ten-round bout with Harry Greb at Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 4.

"BULL" PULLS A ZIM. Bull Muldoon was a husky loon. Always ready to fight with any tramp. But he struck it tough—they used him rough in a U. S. army service camp.

He watched with glee a football spree and opined "that is pretty soft for me." "I'll knock 'em dead," Bull Muldoon said. "I'll mix up in this gay soiree."

Now Shorty Dunn was a son-of-a-gun. He weighed one-five in his army rag. But he learned his game and earned his fame Under the eyes of old Coach Sags.

"The ground I'll wipe with that little snipe" Said Bull Muldoon as he sized up Dunn. And he chuckled with joy as he planned to toy With Shorty, the pygmy son-of-a-gun.

But Shorty Dunn had all the fun. He kicked Bull's ribs and he climbed his frame. He broke a few bones and laughed at Bull's groans. And Bull had enough of the football game.

"War Strain" Shattering Nerves of Millions!

Doctors Urge Wide-Spread Use of Bitro-Phosphate for Restoring Wasted Nerve Energy, Increasing Strength, Power of Endurance and for Putting Flesh on Bones of Thin Folks.

Dr. Joseph D. Harrigan, Formerly Visiting Specialist to the North Eastern Dispensary, N. Y., says: "Nerve Weakness is a Curse to the Nation—Legions of Men and Women Have Become Prematurely Old, Simply for No Other Reason Than the Want of More Bitro-Phosphate in Their Systems."

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"No wonder we have so many people with shattered nerves and other complaints," says Dr. Joseph D. Harrigan. "I tell you with all seriousness that weak, nervous, anemic delicate folks especially those who are thin and all run down, should be careful what they use."

JOSEPH D. HARRIGAN M.D.

Clinical and hospital reports, plus my personal experience, have convinced me that the nerves need organic phosphate in a state of combination essentially the same as that naturally contained in them, an organic or physiological phosphate that is really assimilable, such as bitro-phosphate. And people cannot get this in sufficient quantities from the cooked foods they eat, nor from the so-called "blood tonics." Patients who were apparently physical wrecks, who foolishly thought they needed only a blood tonic to enrich the blood, have come to me for treatment, trembling and shaking, their nerve forces almost exhausted and in many cases the administering of bitro-phosphate has produced seemingly magical results. Common sense as well as experience should teach those who suffer that the most logical and sensible thing to do is to put into their systems the very substance that is lacking, and that is organic phosphate—bitro-phosphate, not simply a tonic to enrich the blood nor mixtures containing stimulant drugs and diluted phosphorus in combinations that often upset the stomach and do little or no good, but on the contrary do great harm in many instances. Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anemic or run-down take a natural, harmless, unadulterated strength and tissue building substance, such as bitro-phosphate, for two weeks or so, and you will soon see most astonishing results in many instances in cases under fifty years of age, while others who are prematurely feeble will often feel to a marked degree the increase in nerve energy, strength of body and mind, power of endurance, and desire to be "up and doing." Why, I now have in mind the case of a gentleman well advanced in years who has been using bitro-phosphate only a short while. Formerly he complained of various ailments, but now he shakes hands with a grasp and a smile that tell better than words the remarkable increase of nerve energy and strength that has taken place in his body. I have often said, and I again unhesitatingly assert that physicians as well as those who suffer, should be grateful to Pelouze, the French scientist, who discovered this form of organic phosphate, which, when taken into the human system, is quickly converted into healthy, living tissue.

Anyone who suffers in this or any other city, can easily test and see what the taking of bitro-phosphate will do. Before taking it, however, make a note of your weight. Also see how steadily you can point your finger at a certain spot for one minute without becoming nervous, shaky or your arm trembling. After trying this simple experiment, take one 5-grain bitro-phosphate tablet after each meal, three times daily for a few days, then try the experiment again. If the results justify what has been stated, continue its use for a while and you may happily note the day to day increase of nervous energy, power of endurance, healthy tissue, celerity of thought and action and improvement in general.

NOTE—According to authoritative medical journals the form of organic phosphate mentioned above which is dispensed by drug stores in this country as bitro-phosphate, is recommended by the great English authority, Sir James Barr, and such noted European specialists as de Gasquies, Bulow, Eulow and Valardi. The dose usually prescribed is one 5-grain tablet three times per day, but those who wish to personally test this substance are cautioned against compounds or mixtures which may contain only a small percentage of the genuine organic phosphate. As Dr. Harrigan has pointed out, in order to derive the greatest benefit it should be taken in its pure unadulterated state and it is well therefore to remember to ask for Bitro-Phosphate. It is sold in this city by the P. & N. Pharmacy, Dreier Drug Co., and all good druggists.

Officer Degitz and Buick made a hurried run and took the man to Hope hospital. Three years ago Johnston was overcome with gas while working in a trench and was rescued by Officer Degitz. HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of Danderine at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

SKULL CRUSHED.

Frank McKinley, of Spencerville, Killed by Falling Tree.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 6.—Frank McKinley, of Spencerville, aged 35, employed as a timber cutter by an Auburn firm, was killed when a falling tree struck him on the head, crushing his skull.

The accident occurred in a woods four miles east of this city. McKinley was working with Fred Witt, of Auburn, and they had finished sawing a tree and had stepped back to await its fall when a big limb from another tree was broken off, striking McKinley on the head. He died thirty-five minutes later.

Coroner Hinklin, of DeKalb county, who had passed by the scene of the accident a few minutes before it happened, gave his permission to remove the body to the Chappell undertaking parlors of this city. McKinley was making his temporary home at Auburn. Surviving besides his parents at Spencerville, are a divorced wife and 13-year-old child at White Pigeon, Mich.

L. A. METZ DEAD.

Well Known Resident of Leesburg Succumbs to Heart Trouble.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 6.—Death came suddenly late Sunday night to L. A. Metz, a resident of Leesburg. Mr. Metz was 60 years old, and although in failing health his death was not expected as he was up and around and had returned Sunday from a visit with relatives at Indianapolis. Surviving besides the widow are two sons, Lester Metz, of Indianapolis, and Hollis Metz, of Leesburg. A sister, Mrs. Emory Leedy, resides in Abbeville, Ga. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon.

TWO HURT AT PORTLAND.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 6.—While John Lanning and William Runyon were driving rapidly on East Main street their automobile struck a dump policeman which hurled their machine into the air, the car tumbling over several times before coming to a stop. The men were thrown fifty feet and both were badly hurt. The auto was almost a total wreck, the windshield being smashed to splinters, the fenders being bent in, the radiator smashed and some of the wheels burst off. Mr. Lanning's face was cut and he sustained a wound at the back of his head. Runyon was unconscious when picked up and his injuries cannot be foretold at the present time. They were taken to the hospital.

AFFIDAVIT AGAINST FRANKS.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 6.—Affidavits against Ervin Franks and wife, charging Sabbath breaking, were filed in the court of Mayor Mock this morning by Chief of Police Henry Fritz. The affidavits were filed as the result of a police call sent in by neighbors when the Franks engaged in another quarrel. It is thought that Mrs. Franks left the city this morning, although she was to appear this afternoon in juvenile court. When Mayor Fritz went to quiet the trouble at the Franks home it is said that he was threatened with a stove poker by Mrs. McConey, mother of Mrs. Franks.

COAL SITUATION IMPROVES.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 6.—The coal situation is improving in Portland and in Jay county. This is due partly to some coal which is coming in as well as the milder weather. Many of the people are burning wood and have not started their coal stoves as yet. It is likely that the fuel administrator, John W. Holmes, will call a meeting of the retailers of this county this week when the situation will be gone over carefully and a reasonable price put on coal and wood.

BREAKS AN ARM.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 6.—Audley Moser, son of A. D. Moser, of First street, fell on the sidewalk Sunday evening and broke the right arm at the wrist. This morning Dr. Costello set the bone, the boy having passed a painful night. Audley had just recovered from a long siege of rheumatism, when he developed emphysema. He was ready to start in school Monday morning if this accident had not happened.

FORMER WABASH MAN DEAD.

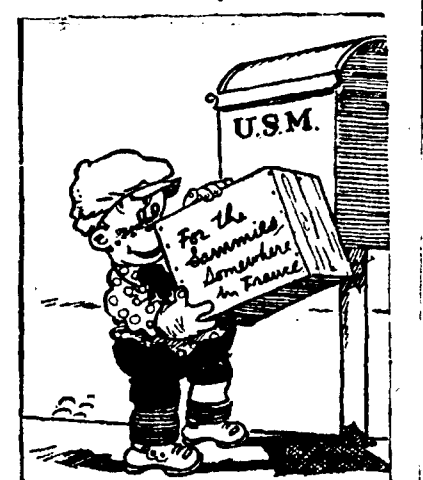

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 6.—Naaman McNamee, age 87, for fifty-two years a resident of Wabash, died at his home here Sunday. Death was preceded by a long illness. For two years he had been identified with local mercantile establishments. He is survived by a widow and one daughter.

INJURIES FATAL.

RED CROSS SEALS

Desired That Seals be Placed on All Parcels Going to Soldiers in France.

The sale of Red Cross seals opened Tuesday in order that every package going to the soldiers in France could carry a seal. The usual date for opening this sale is November 25 but the early date was set because of the desire of the National Anti-Tuberculosis society and the Red Cross society. The parcels being sent to Europe must leave the local postoffice before November 15 in order to reach the boys "over there" by Christmas day.

The order came to Mrs. J. R. Meriwether to put the seals on sale too late to arrange for the opening Tuesday. A number of downtown places were chosen and the seals were placed on sale there. This did not mean that no one else had a right to sell them, but anyone desiring to do so may call or telephone to the office of the Anti-Tuberculosis society in the Noll building, phone No. 993.

The committee met Monday and placed the seals on sale at a number of places. On the committee were Mrs. Meriwether, Mrs. E. E. Keller, Mrs. N. D. Doughman, Henry Beadell and Charles R. Lone. The stores where the seals may be bought are: Wolf & Desmar's, Steele-Myers, E. R. Rode's, Frank's, Tepper's, Patterson-Fletcher's, Shields, Lehman's (clothing store), Lehman's (book store), Golden's, Alter's Cigar Store, Riegel's Cigar Store and Lauer's Cigar Store (Wayne and Calhoun).

GIRL'S ENVIRONMENT SUSPENDS SENTENCE

Viola Harris is Given Final
Chance to Prove Her
Good Intentions.

Viola Harris, the 22-year-old wayward girl who was arrested by Detective Sergeant Pappert Monday evening for stealing money from her former landlady, was let go upon her promise to report twice a week to Matron Winch. The girl's environment is of the poorest, and her training doubtful.

She has a child but is not living with it nor her husband, having obtained a divorce some time ago.

The girl stole the money from Mrs. Lee, 112 West Main street, where she had been staying for a long time. Mrs. Lee befriended the girl during a sickness but had ordered her to leave because she did not work for a living. The girl took rooms elsewhere but visited the Lee family on Sunday evening. She left the place at 7 o'clock, but returned Sunday night about 11 o'clock. Creeping through the bedroom wherein Mrs. Lee was sleeping she obtained $18 from an adjoining room. When arrested the girl denied the crime, but later admitted it. It seems that she has a mania for clothes, $7.50 of the money going for a pair of shoes. A future sentence will rest entirely upon the girl's conduct.

kulher saloon, faced a charge of selling liquor to minors. Investigation showed that he sold beer, whisky and blackberry to Floyd Wise, aged 17 years, but refused it to his companion Louis Bower, aged 16. Bower, however, was given some of the stuff by his companion and got intoxicated. Things looked black for Bonkey until it developed that Mrs. Wise was present when young Wise bought some of the liquor. She was given a severe lecture and Judge Kerr promised to file an affidavit against her if she took the young fellow into a saloon with her again. The trio left from Garrett and had driven to Fort Wayne to look at a prospective home. Bonkey was given $25 and costs.

The cases of Ernest Marlin and William Bernhard, charged with loitering, were dismissed. Charles Moller, a drunk, was fined $10 for public intoxication.

Arrest Speeder.
A bad accident, due to excessive speed, took place at the corner of Holman and Calhoun streets, Tuesday. A Peerless Dry Cleaning machine driven by Charles J. Hiedel, was run into and demolished by a Merchants' special delivery car, driven by Joe Cummins. Both machines were wrecked and Bernard C. Meyers, 1807 Monroe street, was badly hurt. Cummins was placed under arrest Tuesday morning and will be tried Wednesday morning.

Duke's Daughter Is Engaged to Officer

LADY MAUD CAVENDISH

The engagement of Lady Cavendish, daughter of the Duke of Devonshire, governor general of Canada, to Captain A. A. Mackintosh has just been announced.

soldiers, thereby saving them as fighting units for their country and for humanity. The Y. M. C. A. will be a helpful aid in much of the work of the Red Cross, and will, in addition thereto, supply our soldiers on the battle lines with healthful, wholesome and necessary recreations and amusements in the intervals between their nerve-racking work in the trenches. will guard and protect them from the many temptations and immoral diseases incident to camp life so destructive alike to their fighting qualities, manhood and character; will instill them with courage and patriotism and bring to them the consolation of the Christian religion in the darkest hours of their lives. The campaign of the Y. M. C. A. to raise funds for this great work should have the assistance of every patriotic citizen.

Harry P. Fletcher gives this expression of his views: The Y. M. C. A. work, in training camp and on the foreign fields is one of the greatest necessities in the war and a cause worthy of everyone's support. The liberty loan brought forth the financial backing, the Red Cross administers to the injured and relieves the physical needs, the Y. M. C. A. brings to the boys mental and spiritual recreation and reminds them of the great fact that while this world war is changing maps and overthrowing customs, God and man's own responsibility for righteousness abide and will ever abide unchanged.

Still Others Speak.
Still others are as emphatic and enthusiastic in their endorsement of the movement as those already quoted.

H. G. Keegan says: "Our imperative compelling and awful need of men, money and ammunition for this war is superlative to our need to conserve and care for our human and material equipment. Of course, we need the Y. M. C. A. and we must add it to our list of factors to be supported."

"Every word, every act of those with whom a young man comes in contact builds or destroys his manhood," says Judge Sol A. Wood. "The Y. M. C. A. proposes to give our soldier boys the right environment. We must give, give, give until it hurts."

Thomas B. Coppock says: "I believe the Y. M. C. A. work is of the greatest necessity; that it is one of the ways in which we stay-at-homes can give moral backing and real assistance to our boys in the fields."

Says F. J. Thieme: "I am convinced that the Y. M. C. A. work is as deeply as important as the Red Cross in conducting this war. The Y. M. C. A. is the only agency that will return our boys to us clean in body and mind."

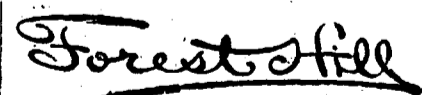

Elwin M. Hulise says: "I consider the work of the Y. M. C. A. at our camps both at home and abroad of the utmost importance."

Chairman E. F. Yarnelle says: "We are in the war. It is no choice of ours. It may be long and serious. We must realize this now. Great work is before us. There is no better plan for preparation than the work of the Y. M. C. A. who make and keep our men clean and strong."

Charles A. Meigs says: "Anyone who has visited Fort Benjamin Harrison or any of the other camps knows the value of the Y. M. C. A. headquarters. During the winter they will be the only comfortable places our boys will have to write and rest. In France and on the other fronts they will mean a thousand times more."

TO ESTABLISH AN EXCHANGE

Woman County Agent Would Aid in Distribution of Food.

URGES SUGAR LIMIT TO 6 SPOONS A DAY

Miss Erwin Gives Forceful Talk Before Harlan Women.

A market for canned goods and other household foods may be established in Fort Wayne in order to allow the rural women of the county to dispose of their surplus food stuffs. Split among rural women on this subject is being sought by Mabel D. Erwin, special county agent for Allen county, who is sending a questionnaire to all farm women who are members of rural clubs. If the farmers' wives answer the questionnaire, Erwin will be able to determine the surplus of food in the county.

less fortunate city sisters a section of the city market may be taken exclusively for their use or a special home market be established at the court house.

"We are only asking the farm women to sell a part of their surplus food," said Miss Erwin in discussing the new movement. "The city folks are willing to pay a good price for the canned fruit and other goods. It is only a plan of distribution which will aid both the city and country people. The city families need food and the rural housewives can secure extra spending money by selling what might be wasted."

To all members of Allen county rural clubs Miss Erwin is mailing the following communication, to ascertain the feeling of farm women towards the establishing of a food exchange:

"Many housekeepers have this season conserved large quantities of perishable products by canning and preserving so that in many homes there is a considerable surplus. On the other hand families that have been unable to can enough for themselves are desirous of buying these products. This is not a plan for listing canned products for the army supply. Glass cans are not easily shipped. The government officials have stated emphatically that they have no intention of taking over surplus home-canned goods. Our plan is to conduct a marketing campaign to aid you in selling your surplus fruits and vegetables. If you have no surplus, hand this to a neighbor who has. She may be interested.

county home demonstration agent, or to the president or secretary of your club. Accompanying the communication is a questionnaire which seeks to learn the number of surplus cans which the rural housewife may have on her cellar shelves. The questions ask the number of cans of fruit and vegetables, glasses of jelly and quart jars of other products canned.

"I want the women to understand that these lists are not for government use but only to aid us in establishing a ground for learning if an exchange market could be held," said Miss Erwin, Tuesday.

Cut Down Sugar.
"Sugar Saving" was the subject of an address given by Miss Erwin before the Women's club, of Harlan, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Erwin was accompanied to Harlan by County Agent A. J. Hutchins and wife.

"Try to limit each member of your family to six tablespoonsful of sugar a day," urged Miss Erwin. "We have been using eight spoons for each person and we can drop two spoons full with benefit to our health. France is now down to two spoons full of sweet a day for her people.

"Americans have used too much sugar. They have hurt their health and wasted large quantities of the sweet. Sugar use is largely their habit. Many people think we must have three spoons full of sugar to a cup of coffee. They do not stir the sugar in the drink. Most of the sugar goes out in the dish water.

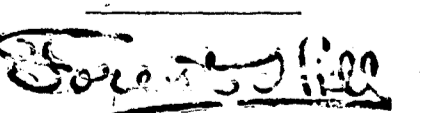

"Make use of honey, sorghum, maple syrup, corn syrup and Orleana (sugar substitute) instead of pure sugar."

to get the sugar properties. Use the jams and jellies which have already been put up and are rich in sugars. "If the women of the land decided to lessen the sugar use the men will have to put up with it. Less sugar can be used in pies, cakes, desserts and custards and not injure the product.

Sites Columbia City.
"I want to pay a tribute to the spirit of the high schools boys and girls of Columbia City. They have banded together in a pledge not to eat any more candy until the war is over.

"From people who live there I learn that they are keeping the pledge. If they can give up their natural appetites for the help of our fighting men 'over there,' we older folks can dispense with much of our over sugar using."

The talk we well received and several members of the Women's club promised to start the sugar saving program at once.

AMERICANISM THE ISSUE IN CHICAGO

Democrats and Republicans Are Fused Against Socialists.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Interest in the election here today centered in the choice of twelve judges of the superior court and two judges of the circuit court. The republicans and democrats united in the nomination of a fusion ticket, which is opposed by full socialist and independent tickets. The election will be the first real test of the war attitude of Chicago, according to statements by both the fusion forces and the socialists.

The final statement from fusion headquarters says: "We are fighting Germany at the polls today in Chicago just as surely as Pershing's men are fighting Germany in the trenches."

At 10 o'clock it was said the vote was very heavy for a judicial election and that the prospects were for a sweeping victory over the socialists. In districts settled by persons of German birth or parentage it was reported that the voters were largely casting anti-socialist ballots.

summoned to its aid many of the talented people of the city who have given willingly of their time and energies to make the affair a memorable artistic success. It is the hope of the University club and its many friends that the people will come loyally to the support of the enterprise, for as doing, they are creating the financial means to aid in the cause of democracy in the great world war.

Lieutenant Willson Coming.
Lieutenant James D. Willson, in charge of the navy recruiting station in Kansas City, has been secured to give a brief talk before the acts of the "Army and Navy" show. He comes for the sole purpose of lending his aid to the war fund which the University club will secure from the proceeds of the big event.

Miss Kettler's Part.

Orders From Chicago.
The orders sent out from the headquarters of the central department at Chicago are as follows:
"Pursuant to instructions from the war department of October 29, 1917, the following named privates, medical section, enlisted reserve corps (Rec'd Cross Hospital Unit "M"), are called into service, transferred to the medical department of the regular army, and will proceed from their homes to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., and report to the commanding officer of that post for assignment to the medical officers' training camp for intensive training in the duties of sanitary soldiers."

The order came as a great surprise at this time as they were not expecting to be called into service for several weeks. Mr. Harold, included in the list, has been a member of the Sentinel staff for a year or so. During his residence here he has made many friends.

NEW YORK HAS

the votes of these fighting men, now stationed in training camps on this side and overseas. The soldier-sailor vote has been estimated at about 50,000 and it will be about a month before it is known how these men voted.

At the close of the campaign almost unparalleled for its bitterness and many sensational charges and counter charges campaign managers of the four parties issued statements claiming victory. The fusion party predicted that Mayor John Purroy Mitchell would be re-elected by a plurality of at least 50,000. Tammany Hall claimed that County Judge John P. Hyland, democrat, would be elected by 70,000 plurality.

Ex-State Senator William M. Bennett, the republican nominee who defeated Mayor Mitchell at the primaries, asserted he would get 275,000 votes, and Morris Hillquit, the wealthy candidate of the socialist party, was certain he would poll 250,000.

Guard Against Fraud.
Extraordinary measures were taken to guard against illegal practices at the polls. The police protection was greater at polling places than ever before, while the volunteer watchers exceeded the police by many thousands.

Included among the workers were many prominent society women. While the main interest in the election was centered in the mayoralty, the question of granting suffrage to women by amendment to the state constitution attracted unusual attention. The suffragists have adopted a vigorous statewide campaign for their cause and are confident of victory.

expected that if the scheme has not already been worked in Fort Wayne that the effort will be made soon. Police are on the look out for persons who might carry on the trade of cellar looting. Stringent prosecution will follow if persons are found to be guilty of the deception, which may mean the loss of much of a housewife's summer canning.

Meatless Day.
Meatless day is gaining a hold in Fort Wayne. There was less meat consumed in the city on Tuesday than during either of the former meatless efforts.

Restaurants are aiding the movement for meat saving in an impressive fashion. In the majority of the downtown eating houses there was no meat to be had. Blue and white cards, hanging back of the long counters and standing upon tables read: "This is Meatless Day," thus offering the customer the opportunity of volunteering for patriotic food saving.

Butchers say that many housewives called up on Monday afternoon and evening asking if Tuesday was to be another meatless period. When told that election day was to be meatless there was generally a neglecting of the placing of meat orders, it is stated.

Singing Pledges.
Food card pledges are going out over the city in hundreds. The committees of women, who assumed the responsibility of distributing the cards on Monday, are at their task with a will. Several of the twenty city districts were nearly canvassed before the close of the first day.

The women, under direction of Mrs. Franklin Mead, who are doing the distributing say that they are meeting with warm response. They find many cards have already been signed at the request of school children in the family.

ALL ARE YET

CLAIMING IT

Two men, Dailey and Griebel, are acting as voting machine repair men and were busy workers during the early morning hours when they were whisked from one part of the city to another to answer the "help" summons.

Was Playing Safe.
In the Twenty-third precinct the socialists had appointed a woman for poll watcher, as is their right under the law. As is expected, the representative of that party watched the first inspection of the voting machine by election officers of the precinct.

When the machine had been found to be in order the watchers from the republican and democratic parties left the polling place. The woman watcher refused to leave the room, she was reported to election officials. She preferred to remain where she could watch better, the party agent explained. It was only after obtaining an order from the city clerk to evict the watchers that the woman was induced to retire to the outside of the voting room, it is told.

There were several early morning calls at the city clerk's office from election officers who asked how voters might be registered for the election. They were told that the registration period has passed.

Several of the larger factories and shops of the city will close at 4 o'clock in order to allow time for voting. In no case was a factory closed during the morning hours. A part of the industries will not shut down at all, it having been agreed that the workmen take time out at the noon hour.

Voting Machine Trouble.

There were fourteen announcements of voting machine troubles reported to the office of the city clerk before noon. Nine of the calls for "help" came in shortly after 6 o'clock. Precincts in which the devices failed to respond at once were the 18th, 20th, 1st, 15th, 13th, 28th, 23rd, 17th and 6th. In some precincts it was reported that the machines failed to work. In others the levers refused to work. In every case the mechanics who answered the calls found that the devices were in good mechanical order.

In the eighteenth precinct it was found that nine votes were already registered for the socialist candidate for county clerk from that ward. In all other cases the three party lists stood at zero for every name. Where the nine votes had been given to the socialist candidate by oversight of the men who adjusted the machines, a note was taken of the number and nine votes will be subtracted from that candidate when the final total is made Tuesday night.

Close Campaign.
The municipal campaign closed Monday night with a meeting in the assembly room of the court house held under the auspices of the Young Men's League for mayor club. The speakers were Howard Benninghoff, Avery M. Groves, Byron Hayes, George A. Bittler, Louis Duntun, Otto Koenig, John C. Hoffman and Maurice C. Niezer. Harry W. Muller, presided.

May Cause Trouble.
There may be a real negro problem develop in the election, state election officers. It is understood that several negroes are demanding the right to vote whose names cannot be found to be registered any place.

Two colored men voted by affidavit at the high school building. No record can be found of their having registered. It is thought that they may not have registered.

Lack of understanding of election proceedings on the part of negroes may cause some real trouble before nightfall, it is feared. It is understood that several colored men who have been in the city but a short time are expecting to vote in the election.

The colored vote will be a figure in the city contest. More than 1,000 negroes are believed to live in the city and more than 300 are eligible to vote.

Will Get Returns.
Election commissioners will meet in the council chamber at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening to receive the official returns. They do not expect to get any of the certified sheets until 7:30 o'clock. Their work of totaling all figures will not be completed before midnight. Between that time and morning they will send out the notice of election to the successful candidates.

SUSPECT HOSPITAL PLOTTER.

Police quarters have under surveillance a man whom it is almost certain was the cause of the empty bottles with the fire underneath at the Lutheran hospital. Between that time and morning they will send out the notice of election to the successful candidates.

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN ESTABLISH A HEARTY AGREEMENT

nouncement once more of the desires and intentions shared by the two governments in relation to China is advisable.

"The governments of the United States and Japan recognize that territorial propinquity creates special relations between countries, and consequently, the government of the United States recognizes that Japan has special interests in China, particularly in the part to which her possessions are contiguous.

Territorial Integrity Guaranteed.

"The territorial sovereignty of China nevertheless remains unimpaired and the government of the United States has every confidence in the repeated assurances of the imperial Japanese government that while geographical position gives Japan special interests they have no desire to discriminate against the trade of other nations or to disregard the commercial rights heretofore granted by China in treaties with other powers.

"The governments of the United States and Japan deny that they have any purposes to infringe in any way the independence or territorial integrity of China, or that they desire to acquire any special rights or privileges that would effect the independence or territorial integrity of China or that would deny to the subjects or citizens of any country the full enjoyment of equal opportunity in the commerce and industry of China."

"I shall be glad to have your excellency confirm this understanding of the agreement reached by us."

"Accept, excellency, the renewed assurance of my highest consideration."

(SIGNED) "ROBERT LANSING."

"His excellency, Viscount Kikujiro Ishii, ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Japan, on special mission."

The Japanese Acknowledgment.
"The special mission of Japan, Washington, Nov. 2, 1917."

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of today communicating to me your understanding of the agreement reached by us in our recent conversations touching the question of mutual interests of our governments in the commerce and industry of China."

"I am happy to be able to confirm to you, under authorization of my government, the understanding in question set forth in the following terms: (Here the special ambassador repeats in the language of the agreement as given in Secretary Lansing's note.)

(SIGNED) "K. ISHII"
"Ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Japan, on special mission."

Honorable Robert Lansing, secretary of state."

Lansing Comments On It.

In his statement accompanying the announcement Secretary Lansing said: "Viscount Ishii, and the other Japanese commissioners, who are on their way back to their country, have performed a service to the United States as well as to Japan which is of the highest value. There had unquestionably been growing up between the people of the two countries a feeling of suspicion as to the motives inducing the activities of the other in the east, a feeling which, if unchecked, promised to develop a serious situation. Rumors and reports of improper intentions were increasing and were more and more believed to legitimate commercial and industrial enterprises without ulterior motive were presumed to have political significance, with the result that opposition to these enterprises were aroused in the other country."

The attitude of constraint and doubt thus created was fostered and encouraged by the campaign of falsehood which for a long time had been adroitly and secretly carried on by Germans, whose government as a part of its foreign policy desired to sow alienation this country and Japan that it would be at the chosen time no difficult task to cause a rupture of their good relations. Unfortunately, there were people in both countries, many of whom were entirely honest in their beliefs, who accepted every false rumor as true and aided the German propaganda by declaring that their own government should prepare for the conflict which they asserted was inevitable, that the interests of the two nations in the far east were hostile, and every activity of the other country in the Pacific had a sinister purpose.

Distrust Not General.
"Fortunately this distrust was not so general in either the United States or Japan as to affect the friendly relations of the two governments but there is no doubt that the feeling of suspicion was increasing and the untrue reports were receiving more and more credence in the minds of the people which were made on both sides of the Pacific to counteract a movement which would jeopardize the ancient friendship of the two nations."

"The visit of Viscount Ishii and his colleagues has accomplished a great change of opinion in this country. By frankly denouncing the evil influence which has been at work by openly proclaiming the policy of Japan is not one of aggression, and by declaring that there is no intention to take advantage commercially or industrially of the special relations of China created by geographical position the representatives of Japan have cleared the diplomatic atmosphere of the suspicion which had been so carefully spread by our enemies and by misguided and over-zealous people in both countries. In a few days the propaganda of years has been undone, and both nations are now able to see how near they come to being led into a trap which had been skillfully set for them."

Discussions Were Frank.
"Throughout the conferences which have taken place Viscount Ishii has shown a sincerity and candor which dispelled every doubt as to his purpose and brought the two governments into an attitude of confidence toward each other which made it possible to discuss every question with frankness and cordiality. Approaching the subjects in such a spirit and with the mutual desire to remove every possible cause of controversy the negotiations were marked by a sincerity and good will which from the first inspired their success."

"The results of the negotiations are of the highest importance to the peace and stability of the Pacific and the world."

which was reached as to the principles governing the policies of the two governments in relation to China. The understanding is formally set forth in the notes exchanged and now made public. The statements in the annex require no explanation. They not only contain a reaffirmation of the 'open door' policy but introduce a principle of non-interference with the sovereignty and territorial integrity of China, which generally applied, is essential to international peace as clearly declared by President Wilson and which is the very foundation also of pan-Americanism as interpreted by this government.

Japan to Help in War.

"The removal of doubts and suspicions and the mutual declaration of the new doctrine as to the Far East would be enough to make the visit of the Japanese commission to the United States historic and memorable, but it accomplished a further purpose, which is of special interest to the world at this time in expressing Japan's earnest desire to co-operate with this country in waging war against the German government. The discussions, which covered the military, naval and economic activities to be employed with due regard to relative resources and ability, showed the same spirit of sincerity and candor which characterized the negotiations resulting in the exchange of notes."

"At the present time, it is inexpedient to make public the details of these conversations, but it may be said that this government has been gratified by the assurance of Viscount Ishii and his colleagues that their government desired to do their part in the suppression of Prussian militarism and were eager to co-operate in every practical way to that end. It might be added, however, that complete and satisfactory understandings upon the matter of naval co-operation in the past for the purpose of attaining the common object against Germany and her allies have been reached between the representative of the imperial Japanese navy, who is attached to the special mission of Japan, and the representative of the United States navy."

Praise for Ishii.

"It is only just to say that the success which has attended the intercourse of the Japanese commission with American officials and with private persons as well is due in large measure to the personality of Viscount Ishii, the head of the mission. The natural reserve and hesitation which are not unusual in negotiations of a delicate nature disappeared under the influence of his open friendliness, while his frankness won the confidence and goodwill of all. It is doubtful if a representative of a different temperament in so short a time had done so much for our government as Viscount Ishii has done. He has placed on a better and firmer basis the relations between the United States and Japan. Through him the American people have gained a new and higher conception of the reality of Japan's friendship for the United States, which will be mutually benefited in the future."

"Viscount Ishii will be remembered in this country as a statesman of high attainments, as a diplomat with a true vision of international affairs and as a genuine and outspoken friend of America."

No Principle Sacrifice.

No American principle has been sacrificed in this agreement, in the opinion of the officials of the United States government itself, in the cases of Mexico, Cuba and other American republics and in the Monroe doctrine itself. It has been foremost in the assertion of the doctrine of special privileges by reason of the geographical and economic relations.

Japan has special interests of a semi-political nature in Shantung which principle she has not been able to carry out in the present war, by reason of its vicinity to Port Arthur, to Korea and to the Japanese islands. Also, the prosperity of the great island of Formosa and its successful administration of Japan is largely dependent upon control in the Chinese province of Fui Kien, separated only by a narrow strait.

Japanese railroad concessions in Manchuria also are regarded as proper objects of special Japanese interest not to detail large privately-owned Japanese business interests in China proper. The vital importance to Japan of the maintenance in China of a strong government capable of affording protection against violence and against the danger of foreign intrigue for such Japanese interests is freely admitted by American officials, hence the willingness to consummate this agreement.

German Plans Upset.
Though only hinted at in Secretary Lansing's statement, it is known that the Germans had calculated to weaken the American campaign against Germany in Europe by obliging the Washington government to keep at home a large section of the United States army and its maintenance in Pacific waters, a numerous American naval fleet, to guard against an invasion from Japan.

Now it is believed that the United States not only can deal with its prosecution of the war with a freer hand, but that Japan will be able greatly to augment the efforts she has been making to sweep the Pacific and Indian oceans clear of German raiders; to aid the allied navies in the Mediterranean and possibly even to employ Japanese troops in the campaign against Germany.

tion into the Adriatic. It is the strong, natural defense before Venice. The Piave and Tagliamento rise within a few miles of each other, the one flowing south and the other east, and a retirement there might not affect seriously the defenses of the Venetian region.

The morale of the Italian soldiers is reported to be improving. The food supplies have been replenished. Indications are that the resisting power of the Italians is rising, the soldiers having been urged by the Austrian high command to cross the Tagliamento as soon as it was reached.

There has been no marked infantry activity on the western front but the artillery duels are intense on important sectors, including the Flanders. Field Marshal Haig probably is preparing for another onslaught against the German lines, especially in the neighborhood of the Houthout forest between Dixmude and Ypres.

LOSS OF LINE FORESEEN.

London, Nov. 6.—The eventuality of an Austro-German crossing of the Tagliamento had been foreseen clearly since the Italian retreat began, according to a dispatch dated last Monday from the correspondent of the Daily Mail at Italian headquarters in northern Italy.

The correspondent emphasized the seriousness for Italy in the sudden shrinking of the waters of the Tagliamento. He writes:

"Where so much has gone against Italy it would seem that even the Tagliamento has played her false. The enemy however, has not yet been able to push further than the bridgehead of Pinzano and it will be materially difficult for him to bring up his invading strength for some time. The fighting around the river has not been on a great scale. If the Austrians have crossed it has been largely because they had to do with troops desperately fatigued."

"The situation is changing somewhat. The Italians have been re-evacuated and have had some rest. There are many signs that their power of resistance is rising. The morale of the Italian army is improving and the Austro-Germans are being forced to retreat."

rival of some allied comrades probably is all that is needed to turn them again into a stubbornly resisting force."

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Monday, Nov. 5.—(By The Associated Press.)—The crossing of the Tagliamento at Pinzano by a considerable force of the enemy should not be a surprise as this has been foreseen from the heavy pressure the Austro-Germans were concentrating on the Italian left wing. The river Tagliamento is only one of a series of defenses. Its main purpose was to retard the enemy advance and to gain time for the Italians to rehabilitate and reconcentrate. The Tagliamento has served that useful purpose and the enemy now is faced by another main line of defense and other water courses.

What line the Italians have chosen for their final stand cannot be indicated.

Two theories prevail concerning the outcome of the present operations. One is that the Italian army will concentrate along a chosen line with the French and British reinforcements. The other, that the Austro-Germans will not push on much further because of the coming winter. General Cadorna is using strong measures to restore efficiency of his troops and will repress sternly the few who falter. An order posted warns all those belonging to the mobilized forces that if they fail to report within five days they will be treated as deserters in the face of the enemy. It is also stated that the army is being retrained and that the morale of the Italian army is improving and the Austro-Germans are being forced to retreat.

Mrs. Catherine Mills, of 1205 Organ avenue, celebrated her eightieth birthday anniversary on Sunday and many friends and relatives called to congratulate her and extend good wishes. Mrs. Mills' daughter, Mrs. Jessie Zuber arranged a little surprise for her mother, which was enjoyed by all present.

the effect of restoring normal conditions rapidly.

Local Banks Unable to Supply the Demand for Coppers—Mints Make More.

A real penny famine exists in Fort Wayne and the local banks are unable to get more. A call to a number of larger cities reveals that they also are very short. The reason for it all is the war taxes which has made it necessary to pay several cents extra on theater tickets, carfare, cigars, etc. Local banks have asked that the children's banks be opened and the pennies sent to the banks, and although many have done this it is thought that there are a number still unopened.

Every day the theater managers ask for thousands of pennies, but are unable to get all their need. Five hundred dollars worth of pennies used to be plenty for any bank, but this amount lasts no time at all now. The United States mints are turning out a number of the coppers a day, but still have not enough to supply the demand.

TOP PRICES PAID FOR HAY AND OATS

Street Market Has Fair Crowd—New Corn Begins to Be Received.

A copy of the law relating to the separation allowances has not yet arrived but as soon as it comes the committee will begin work. Monthly allowances will be obtained for the families of the soldiers as provided by the law approved by President Wilson, October 6, 1917. Under this law each soldier must send to his wife one half of his pay and if under court order, he must send a specified amount to a divorced wife, a certain part of which circumstances will determine.

The benefits of the bill began November 1. A wife without children receives $15 a month; with one child, $25; with two children, $32.50; and $5 for each additional child up to $50 a month. These sums will be paid in addition to half the soldier's pay. Provision is made for other dependent relatives.

ORGANIZE WHITLEY COUNTY FOR CAMPAIGN

Total of $6,000 Will be Raised for the Y. M. C.

A. War Fund.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—The county has been organized into units of townships and corporations and lieutenants have been appointed to conduct the drive for $6,000 in Whitley county November 11-18 for the Y. M. C. A. The appointment of townships and corporations has been made and Columbia City must furnish $710 and Columbia township the like amount. Township meetings will be held where necessary and well known business men of the city are going into the drive with a big rush.

Columbia City Short Items.
Mrs. Fred Morches, head of the drive in Whitley county for food conservation, as concerns the securing of pledges from every family in the county, has received a congratulatory telegram from Federal Food Inspector H. H. Barnard at Indianapolis, on the excellent work done so far in the county. In the telegram Mr. Barnard adds that Indiana was fourth in the nation Monday.

Dr. Ben F. Lindell took Mrs. Geo. Bauer, of Thornecreek township, to the Mayo hospital, Rochester, Minn., Sunday afternoon, to undergo an operation for goiter, with which the well known lady is suffering considerably, and much weakened from its effects.

Word comes from Camp Taylor, supposedly this time authentic, that every Whitley county soldier has been transferred from Camp Taylor to Hattiesburg, with the exception of Sheeler, Yontz, Lorber, Kennedy, Harshbarger and Jernigan. Corporal Ralph Strouse and Corporal Frank Hull, whose disposal was hitherto unknown, both were sent to Hattiesburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ruch will leave soon for Chaffee, Mo., to spend the winter with their son, Samuel Ruch and family.
The Roberts-Burnworth real estate company reports the sale of 42 acres of land owned by John Settlemier, of Thornecreek township, to his neighbor, Edward Metz, for $3,000, with possession subject to tenant's rights.

Robert McNagy and family moved to Indianapolis and spent Sunday with the former's brother, Captain Phil McNagy, at the officers' school.
In order to accommodate the school students the public library has added an extra hour and one-half, opening through the week at 12 o'clock noon, instead of 1:30. This is done to give country folks more time to conveniently spend for reference work.

Jonathan Hartman was reported very low with leakage of the heart Monday afternoon at his home near Larell and every hope of his recovery has been abandoned.

Mrs. John T. Schoenauer, aged 55, well known lady residing east of Laud, was found unconscious late Saturday afternoon by her husband, who broke through the door of her room, and immediately learned by the wood alcohol fumes what she had done. Dr. S. R. White was called from Laud, and soon resuscitated Mrs. Schoenauer, who had barred the door of her room and pulled down the blinds before swallowing the poisonous fluid from a cup. Mrs. Schoenauer several months ago attempted taking her life by swallowing lye. Illness is believed to be the foundation of her derangement.

Menace of Japanese Issue Has Passed Away

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN ESTABLISH A HEARTY AGREEMENT

WORK OF GERMAN INTRIGUE IS UNDONE

Washington, Nov. 6.—Japan and the United States have reached a complete agreement in regard to China and at the same time have arrived at a clear understanding as to military, naval and economic co-operation in the war against Germany.

This momentous development was announced today by Secretary Lansing, who made public notes exchanged by him and Viscount Ishii, the special Japanese ambassador, formally recording an agreement recognizing that Japan has a special interest in China, but pledging the independence and territorial integrity of the great eastern republic and reaffirming the doctrine of the "open door" for commerce and industry.

In a statement accompanying the note Mr. Lansing said: Viscount Ishii and members of his mission now on their way home have performed a service of the highest value to the United States as well as to Japan by clearing away misunderstandings which if unchecked promised to develop a serious situation in the far east.

He spoke of an attitude of constraint and doubt fostered by a campaign of falsehood and secretly carried on by the Germans, and said that through the frankness and courtesy of the Japanese commissioners, the propaganda of years had been undone in a few days.

Word First From China. Until last night when an Associated Press cable dispatch from Peking announced that the Japanese ambassador there had informed the Chinese foreign office of the signing of an agreement by Secretary Lansing and Viscount Ishii, it had not been known generally that the delicate far eastern question had been taken up at the conferences between the commissioners and American officials. In fact it was stated authoritatively soon after the mission's arrival in Washington that such problems would not be touched upon and as the conferences progressed the general understanding was that such subject as Japan's need for steel for ship building and American gold for trade balances were engrossing attention. It develops that these latter questions have been left to the resident ambassador, Almon Stieglitz, to work out with the proper officials of the American government. Comment on the dispatch from Peking was withheld last night because of an understanding between the two governments that the announcement had been made today simultaneously at Washington and Tokio.

Lansing's Announcement. Following is the state department's announcement: "On Friday, November 2, 1917, the secretary of state and Viscount Ishii, the special Japanese ambassador, exchanged at the department of state the following notes dealing with the policy of the United States and Japan in regard to China: "Department of State, Washington, November 2, 1917: "Excellency: I have the honor to communicate herein by understanding of the agreement reached by us in our recent conversations touching the questions of mutual interest to our governments relating to the republic of China. "In order to silence reports that have from time to time been circulated, it is believed by us that a public announcement is warranted."

PRESIDENT WILSON GOES HOME TO VOTE

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Wilson left today for Princeton, N. J., to vote in the local election, planning to return here immediately afterward. It was his first visit to his home since last summer. The president was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, Secretary Tumulty and Rear Admiral Grayson, his physician. Secretary Tumulty planned to vote in Jersey City and to receive election returns at New York tonight.

NEW YORK HAS BITTER FIGHT

Battle for Mayoralty is Most Strenuous in a Long Period.

All Candidates Are Claiming a Lead, With Mitchell Fighting Field.

New York, Nov. 6.—New York is holding its quadrennial mayoralty election today. Fair weather that ushered in the day led to predictions by the various campaign managers that a record breaking vote would be polled.

Of the 696,509 voters who registered, it was expected that at least 675,000 would cast their ballots. The polls opened at 6 o'clock and close at 5 o'clock this afternoon. In other years the result of a mayoralty election here was known within a few hours after the closing of the polls, but an element of doubt has entered into the situation this year owing to the delay that will arise in counting the vote of thousands of soldiers and sailors in military service.

HAIG STARTS NEW ATTACK

Launches Fresh Blow on West Front Against Germans.

SATISFACTORY IS PROGRESS HE SAYS

French Make Thrust Upon Aisne Sector and Have Reported Gains.

London, Nov. 6.—The British attacked this morning on the Flanders front in the neighborhood of Passchendaele. The war office reports that satisfactory progress is being made. The statement follows: "An attack was launched at 6 o'clock this morning against the enemy's position in the neighborhood of Passchendaele. Our troops are reported to be making satisfactory progress. Yesterday evening Lincolnshire troops raided German trenches in the neighborhood of Hulluch and brought back a few prisoners."

FRENCH MAKE GAINS.

Paris, Nov. 6.—The French broke into the German lines at several points last night and took prisoners, the war office announces. A German attack near Carnillet, on the Champagne front was repulsed. The communication follows: "We carried out several surprise attacks against the German lines, especially west of Auberville and south of St. Quentin. "A German attack on our small posts west of Carnillet was repulsed. "On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun) front the artillery fighting was rather vigorous in some sectors. "In Belgium there were patrol encounters. Elsewhere the night was calm."

SHARP BATTLE IN PROGRESS.

British Front in Belgium, Nov. 6.—By The Associated Press.—A sharp battle is being waged at Monselmarkt village north of Passchendaele. A struggle also is proceeding at Polderhoek chateau.

RUSSIANS ROUT TURKS.

Petrograd, Nov. 6.—The attack recently by the Russian troops on the Caucasus front is being continued vigorously and further successes are reported by the war office. The statement follows: "We ejected the Turks from their trenches and pressed them back in the direction of Komah. In the Tohovlin region in the Ongett sector our scouts overcame Turkish outposts. "Elsewhere there were only fusillades and scouting operations."

SEAT SALE OPENED TODAY

Rush for Tickets for Big "Army and Navy" Show at Majestic.

GENEROUS SUPPORT OF PATRIOTIC EVENT

Lieut. James D. Willson Comes from Kansas City to "Do His Bit."

DRESS REHEARSAL TONIGHT.

A full dress rehearsal for "The Army and Navy" show will begin at 7:15 at the Majestic theater tonight.

At 10 o'clock this morning, with the opening of the seat sale for the great "Army and Navy" show under the direction of the University club, there was a splendid demand for seats for the entire run of the production at the Majestic theater. The big event will occupy the stage of the Majestic on the evenings of Thursday, Friday and Saturday and Saturday afternoon at a matinee performance. That the plan of the University club to produce this wonderful entertainment and devote every cent of the net proceeds to patriotic uses has appealed to the people everywhere, is shown by the generous support evidenced by the early seat sale for the four performances. The dress rehearsal to take place on the Majestic stage this evening will round up the numerous details of the production to be given in its entirety for the first time on Thursday evening. Last night's ensemble rehearsal was a wonderful exhibition of all that has been accomplished through intensive training and rehearsals for the past month.

Lew Shank, as Independent, is Confusing Mayoralty Election.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—Interest in the municipal election in Indianapolis today has been heightened by the candidacy for mayor of "Lew" Shank, one time mayor of the city and former vaudeville performer, who defeated in the republican primary last March became the candidate of a home rule party. Other mayoralty candidates are Charles W. Jewett, republican, and Richard Miller, democrat. Each of three parties have nominated a complete ticket. Because of the adverse ruling of the supreme court recently women in the state will not vote as they had expected, following the passage of the suffrage bill by the legislature. The law was declared unconstitutional by the courts. Indiana soldiers who are away from home also will be deprived of a vote at this election, although an absent voter's bill was passed by the legislature last winter. The bill as passed did not take municipal elections into consideration. Municipal elections were general throughout the state, but it was an off year for state and county elections.

The order was received from Major General Carter.

Those Who Must Go. Those included in the order are the following: Herbert Ehinger, 421 Monroe street, Decatur. Mitchell Fullerton, Hantsville, Ohio. NO AGENTS IN CELLARS

Housewives Told to Call Police if Persons Try to See Provisions.

Food Pledges Are Going Out Over City and Are Being Signed.

There are no government agents sent out to investigate citizens' cellars. If a person comes to your house and says that he or she is a federal agent, upon the mission of investigating the food supply in your cellar, call the police. This warning is issued by local food administrators after several calls have been received, asking if the government is making a cellar census. It is reported that efforts have been made to gain admittance to private cellars in Fort Wayne by this deception.

By no means let anybody who claims to be an army agent enter your cellar, is the explicit warning by food administrators. Reports from Indianapolis state that many cellars have been looted there by persons who represented themselves as being federal officers and who demanded the right to look through the cellars. The storage rooms were thus looted either at night or by gaining entrance through a way provided by the supposed food agent. Many other cities have suffered from these vandals who stated that they were from Washington. It is (Continued on Page 18, Column 1).

HAMBURG BIRTH RATE TAKES AN ALARMING DROP

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—The birth rate in Hamburg, Germany, according to the latest weekly statistics, has fallen below 7.1 per thousand as compared with 7.1 during the first week of June, which itself was highly alarming as indicating a serious decline in the number of births. There were more than 50 per cent. more deaths than births during the week although the mortality is still somewhat lower than June, owing to the improvement in food conditions through the availability of fresh vegetables.

AUSTRO-GERMAN FORCES COMPEL AN EVACUATION

General Cadorna Abandons His Line On Tagliamento and Retreats to New Defenses.

GERMANS PLAN AN ATTACK ON VENICE

Berlin, Nov. 6.—(Via London).—The Italian line on the Tagliamento river has been won by the Austro-Germans, it was officially announced today by the German general staff. The Italians have evacuated the entire line along the river to the Adriatic coast.

The German statement says that from the Pella valley to the Colbricon, north of Sugana valley, the Italians are retreating. (This region includes the front along the Dolomites and the Carnic Alps). Confutations, the German statement adds, indicate that the route taken by the retreating Italians is between the mountains and the sea, through the upper Italian plain.

Amsterdam, Nov. 6.—Commenting on the Austro-German advance in the direction of Venice, the semi-official Berlin news agency prepared the public for an attack on the famous art center. It contends that Venice has developed into an important center of war industries.

FORCED TO MOVE BACK.

Rome, Nov. 6.—The Italians have been compelled to evacuate territory in the mountainous area north of the plains of northern Italy in order to establish their new line, the war office reports. The enemy occupied this territory after the Italian withdrawal. The statement follows: "Besides persisting in intensified pressure from the zone of the upper Tagliamento against our left wing the enemy has pushed various detachments toward the middle and lower course of the river. Some hostile vanguards which came into contact with detachments of a grenadier brigade southeast of St. Vito-Al-Tagliamento were repulsed. "To establish our new line we were compelled to evacuate portions of the territory of the mountainous area which were occupied by the enemy."

Italy's armies along the Tagliamento are menaced by another Austro-German stroke similar to the one which caused the great retreat from the Isonzo line. The river has been crossed and an advance in force by the invaders from Pinzano, the place of crossing southward would place the Italian army along the Tagliamento in almost the same position from which it retreated on the Isonzo.

There are indications that the crossing, which was made where the river narrows between hills, was not in great force but that Austro-Germans have not yet been able to advance greatly from the Tagliamento, however, breaks the Italian mastery of the western bank, unless General Cadorna's men can drive the Teutons back again. West of the Tagliamento, around Pinzano, the ground is not cut up by many small streams and canals as it is further south and the aim of the German staff may be to drive a wedge from Pinzano southwest toward the river Livenza in the hope of cutting off the Italian right wing. A strong Italian blow, however, might crush the force now which has crossed and eliminate its possible danger.

General Cadorna has not announced officially that the Tagliamento was the line on which the Italians would make a strong attempt to save Venice, and dispatches from his headquarters report its eventual crossing was foreseen and probably prepared against. The river Livenza is short and narrow and would offer few natural advantages. The river Piave, twenty-five miles west of the Tagliamento, would seem to be as strong naturally as the Tagliamento.

The Piave flows south and then southwest from the Carnic Alps to Belluno, a few miles below which it makes a wide curve and then goes in a southerly direction.

GERMANY HAS HAD REFORMS

Momentous Week is Claimed by Herr Erzberger, the Catholic Leader.

LATE SHAKEDOWN BENEFITS PEOPLE

Permanent Political Gain Said to Have Been Allowed by Kaiser.

Berlin, Monday, Nov. 5.—(Via London).—"While the troops of the central allies were forcing their way across the Tagliamento, Germany at home quietly passed the political Rubicon and in the space of five days changed from an autocracy into a democracy," declared Matthias Erzberger, leader of the centrist party in an interview today with the Associated Press correspondent.

"This has been the most momentous week since the founding of the empire," said Herr Erzberger in a recital of the incidents leading to the solution of the recent political crisis. "Its achievements represent a permanent political gain for the German people. In view of the July and October happenings the majority leaders were convinced of the hopelessness of permitting the old system to prevail. Through the chief of the civil cabinet they imparted their convictions to the crown, urging the imperative need of a co-ordinated, cohesive governmental policy in foreign and domestic issues and harmonious governmental collaboration with the Reichstag during the war at least."

Herr Erzberger then told how Count von Hertling reserved his decision to accept the chancellorship until he had conferred with the party leaders. On the advice of the latter the emperor's plan of separating the chancellorship and the presidency of the Prussian ministry, he said, had been dropped. Foreign minister von Kuehlmann had also participated in the conference Herr Erzberger declared, urging the need of instituting a parliamentary procedure because it was the only solution of the crisis and because of the unfavorable impression that would be made abroad if the current attempt failed to succeed.

Dr. von Kuehlmann is desirous that the outside world should know that a new political era has set in in Germany—that his intervention was not in vain as it was decided to take parliamentary into responsible positions, continued Herr Erzberger. "I desire to say," concluded the centrist leader, "that not only are the majority leaders and Chancellor von Hertling in complete working harmony in foreign and domestic issues, but that the pact has the full sanction of the emperor, who has given Count von Hertling a free hand."

The clerical party now has the chancellor and the progressives in all probability will be awarded the post of vice-chancellorship, while the national-liberals will be represented in the vice presidency of the Prussian cabinet.

Uncle Sam is determined that all his nephews fighting in France shall have as big Christmas boxes as relatives and friends here want to send them—up to twenty pounds, if mailed early enough.

The French government recently gave notice that, because of its inadequate rail facilities, it could not transport any parcels-post package weighing over seven pounds.

Now the United States war department announces that it will handle all Christmas packages for the American expeditionary forces in France, on the lines there which have been built and are being operated by our nine railway regiments.

Accordingly the postoffice department has issued a new order under which a Christmas package weighing up to twenty pounds may be sent to a soldier in France, but these regulations must be strictly observed:

"In addressing give the name of the soldier, the name of the unit to which he is attached and send it in care of the Commanding General, Port of Embarkation, Pier J, Hoboken, N. J. The package must comply with the regular postal regulations, and, in addition, the articles sent must be packed in a wooden box not more than two cubic feet in extent. It must be well strapped and should have either a hinged or a screwed top. No perishable foodstuffs may be sent. The box should be marked to indicate it is a Christmas package and should reach Hoboken not later than Dec. 5. The rate of postage is 12 cents a pound."

To be sure it will get to France in time, mail your Christmas box before Nov. 15.

SHOPMEN HONOR RETIRED FOREMAN

Peter J. Scheid Presented
With Chair and Given
Surprise Party.

P. J. Scheid, the veteran car machine shop foreman, who was placed on the honor roll Nov. 1, 1917, was the recipient of a joyous surprise Saturday evening when about fifty of his fellow shopmates gathered at his home in East DuWald street to spend the evening with Mr. Scheid. Mr. H. T. Hogan acted as spokesman for the shopmen, and after an elegant address reminiscent of the past fifty years that they were associated together they presented Mr. Scheid with a fine rocker which the shopmen had purchased for the occasion. The evening was spent in playing progressive euchre and in the joyous musical numbers played on the piano by Mr. Grover Scheid, of Grand Rapids. At a late hour refreshments were served. The occasion was long to be remembered by all present, and after wishing Mr. Scheid many years of good health and enjoyment of life, the party left for their homes. Those who were present were B. H. OYSTER SUPPER THURSDAY.
General Electric Firemen Commence Preparations For Feast.

The first of the monthly "big eats" of the volunteer firemen at the General Electric works takes place Thursday evening and some of the firemen have already commenced the fast which always precedes the monthly feast, or rather that their appetites may be equal to the demand. There are forty-two members in the company and not one will be absent from the table when "oats" is called. Usually these feasts are chicken dinners, but at the one Thursday oysters will compose an important part of the menu. They will be cooked and served by a committee composed of firemen. After the dinner, which will follow immediately the blowing of the whistle at the close of working hours, there will be a business session and later some card and shuffle games. There will be one of these dinners each month during the winter and spring.

Steve Kennert, a crane operator in the induction department of the General Electric works, has gone to the country, six miles south of the city, to hunt a day or two.

MEETING SOLDIER BROTHER.

H. C. Meeker, engineer in the transformer department of the General Electric works, has gone to Chicago to meet his mother and his brother and accompany them to Long Island. The brother is a soldier and expects to leave Long Island soon for some point in France to take up active duties in the war. His mother and brother propose to spend as much time with him before he departs for the seat of war as possible and they will remain at Long Island until the hour of his departure.

HARRY HAMM IS NOW A FOREMAN

Management of Car Machine Shops.

Harry Hamm is now foreman of the car machine shop of the Pennsylvania, a position from which Peter J. Scheid was relieved to the pension department November 1, after working for the company over forty-eight years. Mr. Hamm is eminently qualified for the position, having been the assistant foreman several years and while holding that office, acting as general foreman on occasions when Mr. Scheid was absent either from sickness or other cause. Mr. Hamm learned the machinist's trade in the Pennsylvania shops and was working as a journeyman machinist in the main shop when he was called to the car machine shop as assistant foreman. He has also took active part in the athletic and sporting events and movements among the shopmen and it quite popular with them.

SALAZAR, SPANISH TENOR, TO APPEAR IN THE SAN CARLO OPERA

Musical Fort Wayne and its environs are just now engrossed in the coming performance, at the Palace theater next Wednesday evening, by the San Carlo Grand Opera company, of which mention has been made in these columns. The event is of widespread interest, judging from the many requests for seats reaching Mr. Harry L. Tinker, of Wolf & Dessauers, local manager of the affair. The members of the Morning Musical club, under whose auspices the San Carlo organization visits the city for the first time, will attend the performance in a body, and indications are that one of the largest and most fashionable audiences seen at the Palace in years, will gather to hear the production of Verdi's massive opera, "Aida."
In the company's recent New York three-week engagement this opera was chosen to inaugurate the "season," and it is pleasing to learn, through Mr. Tinker, that almost the identical cast of principals that appeared in the opera in the metropolis, will be heard here. The only exception is that Miss Frances Ingram, the distinguished contralto of the Chicago Opera company, will participate in the production, singing her great role of Amneris, daughter of the king. Miss Ingram comes as a "guest" artist for the occasion, a fact which should lend deep interest in an affair already assured of success.

The popularity of the prices, which will enable all to share in the pleasures of the occasion, will prove a notable feature and be a boon to music lovers and others who love grandeur and beauty in musical art.
The regular seat sale will open at the Palace theater tomorrow morning.

SOMETHING MISSING.

In the heat that has attended discussion of some issues of the city campaign just closed many have perhaps failed to note the absence of a venerable subject of political dispute. "Law enforcement" has had no place in the controversies of the hustings in this contest. He is indeed a very old inhabitant who can recall a precedent to this state of affairs in a municipal contest in this city.

No longer ago than in the last city campaign that issue was uppermost, as it had been in previous battles of the parties for control of the local government for a time that is almost immemorial. This year the issue has been dead and wholly ignored. A partial reason may be found in the fact that the parties of the saloon are numbered in Indiana by reason of the prohibition law enacted by the last legislature. There could be no profit in attention to an issue whereof the determination already had been so definitely settled. But even without the prohibition law's intervention in this campaign we believe there would have been no attempt to revive the rancorous and disturbing old question of an "open" as against a "closed" town.

Eight years of consistent and rigorous law-enforcement have served to content practically the whole body of the people and by far the larger part of the saloonkeepers with an honest and steadfast enforcement of the law. Almost twenty-five years ago the administration of Col. C. B. Oakley inaugurated a policy of law-enforcement that at the time was thought to be about the last word in practical rigor. And it is to be said in the interest of truth that Mayor Oakley's "lid" had a pretty tight fit, though there were some saloons that contrived to run the blockade constantly. Then came a period of about a dozen years when the policy of law-enforcement was only spasmodic—short periods when the flagrancy with which the "liberal" policy was abused constrained the authorities to clap on the lid and keep it on until it appeared that saloonists were disposed to "be good" or until aroused public sentiment had abated.

There is no reason to question that the "open" town policy had favor with the majority in those days. After two years of Mayor Oakley's "closed" town policy, he was repudiated at the polls by a heavy majority. Successive administrations permitted a fluctuating latitude of "liberalism" and granted a varying degree of extra-legal indulgence until the coming in of the administration of Jesse Grice when law-enforcement was quite suddenly and unexpectedly, and with uncommon rigor made the rule and order. It was a blow the liquor interests were not looking for and great was the wail, for upon an understanding or misunderstanding wholly different many saloonists and their friends had supported the republican party in the election that carried Mr. Grice into the city hall. Four years later the question of law-enforcement dominated the campaign. Just before the election Mayor Hosey, then running for the term he is now completing, made an unequivocal declaration that if elected he would enforce the laws. The pledge was jeered by his opponents and thoroughly discounted by the liquor interests. But Mayor Hosey meant it and it is to be said for him that never in its history has this city worn a lid so nearly airtight as the one it has had since January, 1914. The Grice policies were continued and strengthened. The city has been "closed."

After eight years of this salutary policy the people have come to accept the conditions it imposes as the normal and proper status of the city. It is our belief that even if the saloons were not to be extinguished by law next spring there would be no public toleration for a revival of the "open" town policy. We believe that a majority of liquor dealers would themselves oppose such a revival. And it also is our belief that though the prohibition law had not eliminated the question there would have been no law-enforcement issue in this campaign. Eight years of thorough decency and rigorous enforcement of the law have served to make clear to everybody how much better conditions now are than formerly and to bring united public sentiment to support of salutary policies that have wrought much for the moral aspects of Fort Wayne.

WOOD AS FUEL.

From railway sources we hear much that concerns the gravity of the fuel situation. To a railroad the fuel situation means coal. To the domestic consumer the fuel situation may mean anything that will burn in stove or furnace.

Lately it has been the subject of something of a propaganda that the embarrassments of the coal situation may be considerably modified by the development of a wood situation. No doubt that is true. The railroads themselves perhaps can assist greatly to solve the fuel problem by complete abandonment of a consistent practice of vast waste of combustibles. That is to say the railroads, instead of destroying every year many millions of discarded cross-ties by burning them in heaps along their tracks, might take the pains to haul those ties to population centers, great and small, where fuel problems exist. Likewise the railroads might with a similar if not equal advantage to solution of the fuel situation quit the wasteful practice of burning their condemned cars to make a cheap recovery of the iron and steel parts. In both practices the railroads of the country have wantonly destroyed no one may say how many hundreds of millions of cords of perfectly good fuel that might have been used both to conserve standing timber and to save in coal consumption.

Not many days ago the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, with headquarters here, gave public announcement that along the tracks of some of its lines were large quantities of replaced cross-ties that would be given for fuel free to any who would take them away. That was a good thing and a patriotic thing to do and we hope it may be extensively emulated. Railroads and interurbans might go a little farther and haul their old ties and condemned cars to points where the fuel situation is acute and then add to the trifling cost there might reasonably be added to cover transportation. It would in the aggregate add millions of cords of wood to the general fuel supply of the country, relieve the peculiar stresses of the coal situation somewhat and, not least of considerations, would set up a salutary example of the prevention of waste.

Such an opportunity to obtain fuel at almost no cost would be a boon to multitudes of poor everywhere and it would also do something to insure the comfort and relieve the anxieties of a good many to whom the fuel problem is not price but fuel at all.

It is surmised that in selecting a shock unit to give the American troops their baptism of fire in the European trenches the Kaiser wanted to test the mettle of his new foe. Quite likely. The meager details do not indicate that he found anything especially happy in the result of the experiment save that the much-coveted American prisoners were taken. Such accounts as have come of the affair indicate that the Americans, trapped and surprised, gave a very creditable account of themselves. The Kaiser need not fuss himself about American fighting quality. The blood that shed heroic renown on the "hornet's nest" at Shiloh, on the "bloody angle" at Cold Harbor and on Pickett's charge and on Pickett's repulse at Gettysburg still courses in American veins. War may be new in its method and practice, but valor is the same old stuff it always has been, and none who have met Americans in battle ever discounted American valor more than once.

A wild-eyed mob of pacifists in New York, in behalf of Socialist Hilquitt's mayoralty candidacy, acclaimed Bob La Follette as the "next president of the United States." This goes to show several things, but none more clearly than that the war must go on to some distinct conclusion to make America safe for rational beings. This country has a deal more than Prussian militarism to overcome before it can be called secure.

The food conservation propaganda is going to be one of the very best little movements with a meaning all its own that Americans have ever entertained. Anything that will encourage the correction of wasteful practices and the abandonment of piggish habits of feeding is a blessing in whatever guise it may come.

It's all over but the shouting, and you will do well to save a bit of your voice for the better news that will come from the seat of war "over there" in a few days.

What Mr. Kerensky seems to want his friends abroad to understand is that Russia just now is having troubles of her own.

THE HEARTS OF MOTHERS.
The hearts of mothers are hid things
In these days of woe,
And troops of strange thoughts move therein
Silently to and fro.

They are not thoughts of yesterday,
Or thoughts of you and me,
And that which we have done or do,
By air, or land, or sea.

But these are thoughts steel-bright with pain,
And death-thoughts bare and stark,
And shining thoughts of armaments
That glitter through the dark.

They move, old passions and revolts,
Fresh-called, yet stiff with scars,
To music crimsoned with the clash
Of endless, ancient wars.

And those who summon memories
From pathways of the sun,
When death spoke life most solemnly
Ere new life was begun.

They dream of a strange blooming
That dawns in greater birth—
The frail, bright flower of selflessness
Brought back again to earth.

They feel, the Givers of all Life,
Great need to give again
The utmost dower of womanhood,
All mystery—all pain.

Help the War-Camp Recreation Service

President Wilson himself has directed the attention of the chambers of commerce and citizens of American communities in the training camp districts to one big way in which they can do a valuable war bit.

The greatest civilian gathering in Washington since the war began, is one expert observer's appraisal of the convention in Washington late in October at which the activities of the War-Camp Recreation Service were planned.

Recreation inside the camps is being taken care of by many agencies, from the Y. M. C. A. up and down. What happens to the soldier in training when he gets beyond the camp boundaries becomes most important.

The War-Camp Recreation Service would surround each training camp with a zone of hospitable homes and social circles welcoming the men in training into a round of pleasurable recreation.

Clean camp life is fine. But all these men now in camp came from homes. The change is a big one. What they need most to relieve camp life is CLEAN HOME LIFE.

Perhaps the Chambers of Commerce in the Cities and towns throughout the Country could be appealed to with entire propriety to assist you in this matter. In any event, let me assure you of my warm support. Sincerely yours, Woodrow Wilson

BY JOHN SPARGO.

From my boyhood days I have been an ardent anti-militarist and pacifist. For more than a quarter of a century I have gladly given myself unreservedly to the war upon war.

I am still an ardent anti-militarist and pacifist. I hate war as much as ever I did. Above all else I want to see peace securely established.

Nevertheless, I confess that at this time I am more afraid of a Prussian peace than I am of a continuance of the war, horrible as that is. Prussian militarism seeking to shape the conditions of world peace is more to be feared than when it is sharpening its sword for war.

The essence of Prussian militarism is this: It organizes all the resources of civilization to the end of establishing dominion over all peoples. With fiendish ingenuity it has perverted to that ignoble and base end all the finest achievements of civilized man. In order that these mighty forces may be made of benefit to all mankind, and that the freedom of all peoples may be secured, and fraternal co-operation be substituted for brute force in the organization of the life of the world, Prussian militarism must be destroyed.

If I am asked whether militarism is any dangerous when it is Prussian; whether it is not a fact that French militarism, British militarism, and now American militarism, are equally perilous and objectionable, I answer that the essence of militarism lies not in the possession of trained armies, well equipped. It lies, rather, in the determination to use these forces for conquest and dominion.

At present England is a vast arsenal. But England has not organized her resources for the purpose of conquest and dominion. Instead, she has created the vast military machine she has in order to protect herself and her neighbors against Germany's aggression. England has become a great military nation, temporarily, but she is not a militaristic nation.

France, too, has been forced to abandon her normal pursuits and to develop her military power to an extent undreamed of, but France is not a militaristic nation.

The American people and themselves in a position similar to the position of France and England. Having war and militarism, as our history clearly and abundantly proves, we have been compelled to develop an enormous army in order to protect the rights and the lives of our citizens and those international principles and institutions, without which civilization can not be maintained. We have no desire to dominate the world. We seek no aggrandizement, no annexations of territory, no commercial advantages. We do not even seek revenge for the wrongs we have suffered at the hands of Germany. Our sole purpose is the establishment of the security of all nations against the lawless and despotic conduct of a nation which acknowledges no right save might, the great power which despises the methods of civilization and insists upon the methods of barbarism.

Militarism is repugnant to us. We prefer the plow to the sword. We are happier in the triumphs of industry than in the triumphs of war. We fight only because we must; because the argument of brute force is the only argument the Prussian barbarian can comprehend or respect.

If peace were made today upon the terms which Prussia has caused to be circulated throughout the world there could be no guarantee that the peace would be enduring. The vast Prussian military machine would be maintained. Still all the resources of the German empire would be organized for the purpose of dominating and ruling the life of the world and of subjecting all nations to the will and purposes of Germany. Under such conditions no nation which preserved self-respect and love of independence which are essential to freedom and progress would dare lessen its armaments. To do so would be equivalent to suicide. The nations would have to continue to waste their substance in military preparations against the inevitable day of German assault.

The United States, which has never heretofore maintained an army of any size, would have to maintain as a part of its permanent organization a vast army, capable of meeting any other vast army. It would have to enter into alliances with other nations as means of protecting itself against other alliances. The Prussian peace would thus fasten upon us, and upon all other nations, a military burden as great as that which the war has forced upon us and them.

If, instead of a premature peace upon terms dictated by Prussia, we wait for the peace which will be possible upon our own terms, and those of our allies, when Prussia is obliged to acknowledge defeat and to throw off the military burden which would crush us to the ground. We shall be able to deny Prussia the right to maintain a menace to the common weal of the nations, and in so doing assure our own safety and freedom to live. Progressive disarmament is only possible when Prussian militarism shall have been destroyed.

Stripped of all disguises and subtleties, the Prussian plan is a peace which will restore the status quo ante. Everything is to be as it was in the days before Prussia made war upon civilization—in outward appearance, that is. Essentially, things would be very different. Germany would be advanced a long way toward the realization of the cherished ambition of world domination. Having devastated her neighbors, laid their fields and vineyards to waste, and destroyed their industry and commerce, forcing them to struggle for a generation to repair the damage thus wantonly wrought, Germany would soon be again ready to make war; and who can consider her record and doubt that she would do so?

At this time Prussia making peace is more to be feared than Prussia making war. This is no time for weakening. The interest of all civilized mankind—and require the defeat of the German people—require the establishment of those principles of international law which Germany has flouted and denied.

In every war of vast magnitude earnest and well intentioned, but misguided, people urge peace when peace is perilous. Thus it was in the dark days of the civil war; the pacifists of the time urged Lincoln to make peace, and Lincoln was denounced by them far more bitterly than anyone has had the hardihood to denounce President Wilson. Today every sane person in the land knows that Lincoln was justified in the course he took, and that the pacifists were wrong. Had the council of the pacifists prevailed it would have been a great disaster to civilization.

Prussian contempt for civilization and law forced us into this war against our wishes and inclinations. We shall not lay down the sword until we have forced Prussia—ruled Germany to respect civilization and international law. We must insist upon an end being put to the anarchy and brutal arrogance of Prussian militarism.

We are for peace, now as ever, but not for the peace which Prussia would impose upon the world—the peace which comes from submission to the tyrant's yoke. We are for the peace of justice and righteousness; and we mean to attain it, no matter what the sacrifice may be.

GOOD CITIZENS IN POLITICS.

(Indianapolis News.)

A development noted in previous campaigns and especially evident this year in state contests is the increasing activity and political solidarity of the respectable and high-class elements—ministers, church people, business men and others. It used to be popular to call politics a "dirty game" which could not help but soil those who mixed in it. How it could ever be made a cleaner game if the reputable citizens stayed out and let gamblers, grafters, crooks and the undesirable of the community play it to suit themselves was never explained. We can not have good government unless the good people of town and state take an interest in it. As long as they do not, politics will continue to be a "dirty game," government will continue to be wasteful and dishonest.

So the entrance of church people, of the women's clubs, of high class business men into politics, gives heartening promise of cleaner politics and honest government. This element has acted militantly and practically as a body in the campaign at Muncie in the attempt to overthrow Mayor Bunch and his crowd, and to bring about a change in conditions of which good citizens are ashamed. In the Indianapolis campaign this element will be largely thrown to the support of Mr. Jewett, who can be elected and who is believed best able to make and maintain a clean city.

There is no danger, as some seem to fear, that the good people will be soiled by politics. Rather, they will remove some of the soil from politics. Why should politics be a "dirty game"? It is simply a means of electing men to govern. All men take a part in it to the extent, at least, of voting. It should, therefore, be no better or worse than are the men of the entire nation taken as a whole. It is worse because the better elements have in the past left the disreputable element to control it by taking the most active interest in it. The only way things can be bettered is for the reputable classes to oust from political power the selfish and dishonest classes. A start in this direction is being made.

The presentation was made by his mother, Mrs. T. C. Rogers. BEET-ROOT GOWN IS BOTH ORIENTAL AND FRENCH

BY BETTY BROWN.

More and more are women today inclining toward the individual in costume—the expression of a personality or a mood—rather than the slavish following of an established mode. In the gown shown here there is a suggestion of the Turkish woman's costume in the richly beaded and embroidered jacket and the soft, flowing underbodice of white crepe.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Feiertag, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kiefer, and Mrs. O. E. Paulson, the Misses Augusta Rippe, Wilma Froese, Ruth Wolf, Edna Behne, Frieda Kamp and Mr. Herbert Kramer. Notes of the D. A. R.

At the monthly meeting of Mary Penrose Wayne chapter held at the library on Monday afternoon interest centered particularly in an address on Mexico given by a resident there, Mrs. H. H. Markley, who is visiting in the city at the home of Mrs. B. J. Griswold.

Mrs. Markley told of her own life and that of her family and her interesting descriptions concerned the religious and social life of the people among whom she lives near the interior of the country. She described the great resources and beauty of the country and the possibilities of the soil. The real people of Mexico, those untouched by the bad of the invaders, are a simple and peace-loving people, both Mexicans and the Indians left of the Aztec race. The "greaser" is the Mexican who has copied the bad, the man who has grown wicked as the people of other lands enter and deprive the Mexicans of what is theirs by inheritance.

Mrs. George Bliss, regent, presided at the meeting. Reports were read by Dr. Jessie C. Calvin, of Red Cross work, and by Mrs. J. B. Crankshaw concerning the conservation of food committee. Mrs. Edward White reported on the relief room in the court house, particularly the attendance, which is very good.

The annual conference of the state organization of D. A. R. opens tomorrow evening at the Claypool hotel, Indianapolis. Mrs. Henry A. Beck is the retiring regent and the two aspirants for the office are Mrs. S. E. Perkins, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Frank Welter, of Huntington. Mrs. Otto Rott, of Bloomington, is the only announced candidate for vice regent and there are two known candidates for the treasurer's office. Delegates from Mary Penrose Wayne chapter are the regent, Mrs. George S. Bliss, and Mrs. James B. Crankshaw. The ladies leave on Wednesday for Indianapolis.

Restoration of the American Kitchen (By H. E. BARNARD.)

The war has restored the kitchen to its pioneer importance as the center of the home. A woman is rich or poor nowadays according to her kitchen economies; a patriot or a slacker, according to her kitchen activities. For years kitchen work has been losing its importance in home making. Housewives have lost interest in cooking and have found only drudgery in the most important work in the home. How many housewives will confess "I love to make salads, but I loathe the dishwashing?" Now comes war's necessities and kitchen work, even conscientious dishwashing, becomes a patriotic service. Food Administrator Hoover has told us over and over again how the little savings in the kitchen multiplied by the 20,000,000 kitchens in this country will conserve enough food to feed our suffering allies.

Many women who for years have been content to leave their kitchen in charge of a servant have rediscovered that it is an interesting place during the long hours they have put in canning and conserving food for next winter's use. They see the drudgery of kitchen work through clearer glasses and realize as they have never done before that it is not the work but the way the work is done that makes it a servile task. After all, the kitchen is only a practical working laboratory in which the cook takes complex chemical compounds, such as meat and flour and turns them into other compounds which are transformed in the wonderful laboratory of the body into heat and energy.

To be able to prepare food in such a way that it is wholly satisfactory for the body's needs, is more than an art, it is a real science. Our war for democracy is reaching down into every home. It is rescuing us as a people from the depths of selfishness and carelessness into which we had fallen. It is reaching into every kitchen and transforming it into a place where labor becomes service and the simplest duty a definite contribution to the immense effort necessary to bring us victory.

WHEN YOU ORDER GROCERIES FOR WHEATLESS DAY BE SURE TO ORDER A POUND OF

"BETTER THAN BREAD"

Craig's Corn Wafers are taking the place of bread on wheatless days. You can spread them with butter, or use them for any purpose for which bread is used. The crispy brown color is just suggestive of the splendid flavor that makes you want more of them. Made from cornmeal and sweetened just enough, they appeal to the appetite of young and old.

Craig's Corn Wafers make it easy for the housewife. No longer does she have to puzzle about what to serve in place of bread on wheatless days. She just substitutes the Corn Wafers in its place and smiles, for she knows the Corn Wafers are just the thing. They are good any day, and if you'll try them for tomorrow you'll want them every day. Order a pound with your groceries.

With evening frocks the narrow skirt is often obtained by a clinging swirl of drapery narrowing from hips to ankles and perhaps wandering off at last in a thin little train. early date, has aroused much interest in the divine Sarah herself. Those traveling with her are often asked to tell something of her home life. They say it is simple to a fault. Her little country house in Brittany was once a provincial fort. When the soldiers, who used to occupy it, left, she bought the building. It is furnished plainly. Not a trace of luxury. A few pictures in the living room which does duty also as a studio. The furniture is all primitive Breton ware. The bedrooms are almost as bare of decorations as those of a nun. In her Paris home, a four-story house on the Boulevard Pereire, not far from the Gare Montparnasse, Mrs. Bernhardt gives her fantasy free play. Rare works of art, rich draperies, costly pictures adorn her studio and reception rooms. In a place of honor is a large, full-length portrait of her made 20 years ago by Clairin. The chairs and tables in her salon and her dining room are works of art. All her surroundings speak of faultless taste.

1918 EVENING DRESS TO BE STRAIGHT CLINGING MODELS.

Many of the prettiest evening frocks are straight, clinging little models of very simple velvet, untrimmied save for a flower or ornament somewhere about the bodice.

Frocks there are in softly brilliant colors, coral, rose, American beauty, celestial blue, apple green and orchid or in deep purple, aubergine, sapphire and black.

Dancing frocks are short, but there are trained frocks, with trains that may be tucked up and fastened without spoiling the skirt lines when the wearer wants to dance.

The evening frock high in the back and décolleté only in front is featured, and is to be worn with a hat for restaurant dinners, etc., or without the hat for informal evening social functions. The built-up back of the bodice is often of one layer of tulle or chiffon, but it does make a difference in the character of the frock.

With evening frocks the narrow skirt is often obtained by a clinging swirl of drapery narrowing from hips to ankles and perhaps wandering off at last in a thin little train. The line of the foot is very irregular and some softly transparent or semi-transparent underskirt may fill in the omissions; or, if this irregular line does not ascend too high, silk stockings assume the responsibility.

ARMY LESSON FOR AMERICAN HOUSEKEEPERS; FEEDING UNITED STATES ARMY IN THE FIELD

A UNITED STATES ARMY FIELD KITCHEN.

BY RIDDY BITE.

Woman does not like to camp out. The work of feeding her family is always too hard.

No matter how energetic she might be, almost any nice housekeeper would be appalled at the prospect of getting dinner in a kitchen like the one above pictured.

And what a variety of foods the cooks and bakers must know how to prepare!

The garrison ration of the army menu consists of twenty-five staple articles. They are fresh beef, bacon, flour, baking powder, dried beans, rice, potatoes, onions, canned tomatoes, prunes, jam, evaporated apples and peaches, coffee, sugar, evaporated milk, vinegar, pickles, salt, pepper, cinnamon, lard, butter, syrup and lemon extract. Some of the more important substitutes are likely to be canned corn beef, dried and canned fish, cornmeal, canned vegetables, canned fruit, chocolate and tea, cereals, and special for holidays.

Cooking for soldiers is far from easy, but it can be done by men under conditions which women would call "impossible."

"Show me a company of happy, snappy men, full of pep," and I will know that the cook of that company is on his job," says a colonel.

The statement, like the soldier's ration, can be adapted to home consumption.

Cut this out carefully and send it to the Federal Food Administrator, Room 20, State House, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Do not send it to Washington. Send it to Indianapolis.

This is the same as the pledge card, and just as official. Do not sign this if you have signed a pledge card. Do not sign a pledge card if you sign this.

And the food administration will mail you other helpful things later, perhaps.

To sign this card is a patriotic privilege. It will make you a leader in your neighborhood in the task of saving certain foods for our soldiers and our allies.

body Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

THESE BIG GUNS BARKON THE TAGLIAMENTO

This battery of big guns was placed along the Tagliamento as a second line defense before the Italian troops began the campaign in the Alps. These guns constituted part of the defenses to which General Cadorna's army retreated when the Germans and Austrians poured through the mountain passes, and helped materially to check the German advance.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If peevish, feverish and sick, give
"California Syrup
of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.
Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting
food which is clogged in the bowels
passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again.
All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleaning. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly
on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that
Company."—Advertisement.

Sarah Bernhardt

The World's Most Noted Actress

Sends Nuxated Iron

To the French Soldiers to Help Give Them Strength, Power and Endurance

General Gibson Says It Should Be Used By Every Soldier Who Goes to the Front—That He Himself Is Hale and Hearty In His 91st Year, He Attributes Largely To His Recent Use of Nuxated Iron.

Remarkable experience of Dr. James Louis Beyer who, at nearly 80 years of age, obtained astonishingly increased strength and renewed energy with a short course of this remarkable product.

What every soldier most needs is tremendous "stay there" strength, power and endurance, with nerves of steel and blood of iron. To produce this result, there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron, says Dr. James Louis Beyer, former medical college adjunct-professor and army surgeon. A large quantity of this valuable product was sent to the French soldiers by Mrs. Sarah Bernhardt. I have taken it myself and prescribed it for my patients and some of my old comrades in arms, with practically unflinching results. It certainly puts the "pep" of life into the blood.

If General Gibson's advice were followed and every soldier who goes to the front carried a package of Nuxated Iron in his kit, I am sure that the men would not only be better, stronger fighters, but that we would have far less sickness in the army and much less work for the Red Cross and army hospitals to do. Notwithstanding the fact that I am nearing my 80th birthday, a short course of Nuxated Iron has made me feel like a new man, giving me astonishingly increased strength and renewed energy.

General Horatio Gates Gibson says Nuxated Iron has brought back to him in good measure that old buoyancy and energy that filled his veins in 1847 when he made his triumphant entry with General Scott into the City of Mexico and that he attributes the fact that he is hale and hearty in his 91st year, after an active military life with service in both the Mexican and civil wars largely to his recent use of this wonderful product.

Another remarkable case is that of General David Stuart Gordon, noted Indian fighter and hero of the battle of Gettysburg. General Gordon says: "When I became badly run down this year, I found myself totally without the physical power to 'come back' as I had done in my younger days. I tried different 'so-called tonics' without feeling any better, but finally I heard of how physicians were widely recommending organic iron to renew red blood and rebuild strength in worn out bodies. As a result, I started taking Nuxated Iron and within a month it had aroused my weakened vital forces and made me feel strong again, giving me an endurance such as I never hoped to again possess.

Former Health Commissioner of Chicago, Wm. R. Kerr, said: As Health Commissioner of the City of Chicago, I was importuned many times to recommend different medicines, mineral waters, etc. Never yet have I gone on record as favoring any particular remedy. But in the case of Nuxated Iron I feel an exception should be made to the rule. From my own experience with it, I feel that it is such a valuable remedy that it ought to be used in every hospital and prescribed by every physician in this country, and if my endorsement shall induce anemic, nervous, run down men and women to take Nuxated Iron, and receive the wonderful tonic benefits which I have received, I shall feel greatly gratified that I made an exception to my life long rule in recommending it.

Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician, who has studied both in this country and great European Medical Institutions, said: Nuxated Iron is a wonderful remedy. Not long ago a man came to me, who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of twenty and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact, a young man he really was, notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking Nuxated Iron. He had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in bad health—at 46 was careworn and nearly all in—now at 50, after taking Nuxated Iron, a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth.

If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run-down instead of dosing themselves with habit-forming

A GREAT CHANGE ENTERS INTO LIFE OF STOREKEEPER

A certain unassuming gentleman in this city who happens to be a prominent dealer in furniture and who up to a few weeks ago had become a recluse because of his physical condition tells this remarkable and most interesting tale:

"For a number of years," he said, "I have been so closely confined to my business working zealously to make my store representative in every respect that wear and tear finally got me, my face became drawn and haggard and my disposition seemed to urge people to evade me. It was then that I began to despise my own company. My bookkeeper who has been with me a long time, one day suggested that I needed a rest and that my nerves required attention. She told me that her father had been in the state of health which I was experiencing and that he had taken Phosphated Iron. 'Look at him now,' she said. 'He works ten hours a day and appears to be the happiest man in the world, which he believes he is.'"

"All this happened less than a month ago. I followed the advice and took it at once. Back in the harness with a smile all the while. I am feeling more fit than ever. When I see a tired looking face the name of Phosphated Iron immediately comes in my mind. I am convinced that it is converting many a worn out body into a life rich in thought, ambition and enthusiasm."

Special Notice.—To insure physicians and patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine in capsules only.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat, Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder-aches.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Advertisement

Premier Kerensky Resents Construction of His Interview.

WILL NOT SHIRK DUTY TO ALLIES

Repeats, However, That His Country Must Have a Deal of Aid.

Petrograd, Monday, Nov. 5.—Russia is still doing her utmost to carry on the war. She will continue to do her duty. These are the views of Premier Kerensky, whose secretary in his name protested today against any other interpretation of his recent interview with the Associated Press.

David Soyko, the premier's secretary, made the following statement regarding "the misinterpretation" of the interview: "I have seen Premier Kerensky with reference to the interview and shown him quotations from the English press. He was very much astonished at the manner in which his plain statements were received in London. Whoever read the whole interview can draw but one conclusion from it. Russia was doing, and still will do her utmost in carrying on her share of the common cause against the enemy, having devoted all her might from the very first days of the war, when England only began her vast preparations and America was still neutral.

"Russia, which always was much poorer economically than her mighty allies now naturally feels the pinch of war more than England and America and therefore is justified in the contention that the allies now should shoulder the heavier burden of the war, with their vast material and financial resources, in the matter of their requirements.

"The minister-president in this interview pointed out that every one of the allied countries appreciates fairly the great part Russia has played and still is playing in the war and that some were inclined to attack her bitterly because of the great difficulties with which she is confronted. She will continue to do her duty."

M. Soyko also made the interpretation of the American press of his interview, which was pleasing to M. Kerensky.

ARM SCRATCHING IS LIGHT ELECTION DAY

Number of Vaccinations Are Expected to Constantly Decrease.

Fewer arms were scratched for inoculation against smallpox on election day, than in any like period since the wholesale vaccination order for children started two weeks ago. There were times on Tuesday when only two or three children were in the corridors of the city hall.

The vaccination rush is believed to be on the wane. Health officers state that they expect fewer inoculations each day until the vaccination period is over. There have been more than 6,000 points of vaccine used since the inoculation started.

The smallpox has spent its force in Fort Wayne, health men state definitely. They expect the number of cases to grow less from now on. Fort Wayne has been more fortunate in checking the spread of the disease than many other middle western cities which are caught in the sweep of the illness.

New cases of smallpox reported are: Cora Harver, 818 Huestis avenue, and in the Reed family, 2014 Sherman street.

TAKE MOTOR BIDS.

City officials who visited the Lawton park swimming pool Monday decided to have the basin filled by water from the city mains and not from Spy Run creek water, as was originally planned. The outlet for the bathing pool will probably be into Spy Run creek, it was decided.

A building permit was issued to Buesching & Hagerman to remodel a butcher shop at 224 East Main street at a cost of $1,600.

COUNCIL OF DEFENSE MEETS WEDNESDAY

Matters of Great Importance

Will Be Presented, Full Attendance Desired.

The Council of Defense will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Commercial club. President W. H. Scheiman has a number of matters of great importance to present and desires a full attendance. The September meeting of this organization was not held because of other pressing duties but all matters coming up at that time were promptly attended to by the executive committee.

At the meeting Wednesday night a proposition will be considered to collect and clean the clothing left behind by those who were called into the draft army and send them to the stricken old men and boys of Belgium, France, Russia and Serbia. Most of this clothing would be destroyed before the soldiers return unless special care was given it and when the glad day comes when the boys are back home they will need and get new suits.

The Council of Defense has learned from the state council that the Pennsylvania company has a number of ties spread along the lines west of Pittsburgh which they would be glad to turn over to those who have no fuel, providing they haul them away from the lines.

SPECIAL USE FOR MITE BOX OFFERING

Local Red Cross Plans to Make Aprons for Workers from Money Collected.

The little mite-box in front of the Red Cross headquarters on East Berry street, is to play another important part. The money dropped in the box for the next few days is to be used for making aprons for the workers of the chapter. The idea is to make twenty-five aprons so that all the workers of the surgical dressing department may be dressed in white. All who can should bring their own aprons but the extra supply will be kept on hand so that anyone wishing to drop in the workshop a while when up town will always find an apron for them.

The executive committee of the Red Cross workshop will meet Tuesday night at the Commercial club and as a number of important questions will come up it is desired that everyone be present.

The Mite society of Hoagland has donated $10 to the general fund. Patterson Fletcher Co. gave a new show case to the workshop. The Singer Sewing Machine company has donated two more machines to Red Cross work. They will be used at the Y. W. C. A., where Red Cross work is being done.

Mrs. A. E. Fawcett, who is making an inspection trip of the northern Indiana Red Cross chapters to promote more interest in the work, visited the Goshen chapter, Tuesday. Mrs. Blaunt and Mrs. H. W. McNamee of Washab, spent Tuesday visiting the local warehouse.

NO ORDERS TO MOVE ENEMY ALIENS BACK

But May Have to Get Away from the Coast, Says Gregory.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Attorney General Gregory declared today that no orders had been given to remove enemy aliens 100 miles from the coast line, where they could not occupy observation posts, but indicated that the government seriously was considering what steps should be taken to see that they are in no position to gather information of value to the enemy.

"No such orders have been issued," said the attorney general in a statement. "The situation is under careful consideration, but there is nothing to report for publication at this time."

The attention of the secret service arms of the government has been directed for some time to the fact that Germans and German sympathizers near the coast, with practically no restrictions on their activities were in position to observe the government's war activities to a great degree and might do much harm by communicating them.

ALLIED GOVERNMENTS MUST ACT TOGETHER

More Than Mere Technical Questions of War at Rome Conference.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The coming meeting in Rome of the premiers of England, Italy and France is indicated by official dispatches here today to be of greater scope than only the consideration of military measures to meet the German drive into Italy. M. Painleve, the French premier, was accompanied to the Italian capital by Franklin Bouillon, the French minister of missions abroad. General Foch, chief of staff, and General Robertson, the chief of staff, were awaiting the premiers in Rome, and in the meantime have been concerning measures for the co-operation of French and British troops with the Italian army.

General Smuts, of South Africa fame, is also in attendance with Lloyd George, the British premier. An explanation of the general purposes of the gathering of the statesmen and soldiers is given in the cablegram as follows:

"It is necessary that there should be a large plan of concerted action between the governments themselves in addition to the technical military actions and orders, hence the call to the premiers and military heads of the entente."

The advisability of creating an inter-allied war committee may possibly be discussed and attracts much attention here.

COMMUNITY MEET AT KNITTING MILLS

Another big program has been arranged for the second meeting of the community center at the Wayne Knitting Mills.

Prof. G. E. Schaffer will direct the singing and will be assisted by a girls' quartet, the Big Four, and the Wayne Knit Mandolin club.

The feature of the program will be a discussion on "Needed West End Improvements" with five minute talks by A. P. Reuther, J. O. Brown, Max R. Miller, Mrs. Alice Phipps, Mrs. Lilla Walke and Col. D. N. Foster. Theodore P. Thieme will talk on "Better Government."

ARREST SUSPECTED

Automobile Thief

Detective Sergeants Rundell and Junk arrested a man giving his name as Ernest Marlene, Monday afternoon, on suspicion of his having stolen the machine in which he was riding and the tires which he was selling. The automobile had the motor substituted. The tires, eight in number, were all new and wrapped in their original covers. After being taken to the station Marlene denied his guilt and told the crooked partner story. The man will be held for further developments.

KIWANIS CLUB TO BANQUET TONIGHT

The Kiwanis club will hold one of its live wire meetings tonight at the Anthony hotel. Howard Benninghoff, president of the organization and toastmaster, will start the ball a rolling promptly at 6:30. Of unusual interest will be the talk by Congressman L. W. Fairfield. The affair which as a stag will be continued until the final election returns have been brought in.

Between the intervals, while the waiters are raiding the storerooms a quartet composed of four unknown club members, will give a musical program. The talk by Congressman Fairfield is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock.

SOME EARLY RETURNS.

Boston, Nov. 6.—The first twelve towns to report in today's election showed the following results: For governor, Mansfield (Dem.), 384; McCall (Rep.), 1,666.

PROGRESSIVES IN GERMANY DOUBTFUL

Not Certain That They Have Gained Anything in Late Bargaining.

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—The fear of the progressive elements in Germany that they may have been cheated in their bargaining with Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann for a government of a more parliamentary nature, is plainly evident in this morning's German newspapers. The new administration, they find, is seriously considering letting the post of vice chancellor die with the retirement of Dr. Karl Helfferich, should his resignation be accepted, instead of filling it with Deputy von Payer or any other radical member of the reichstag.

The reichstag party leaders, in counting up the assurances given them by Secretary von Kuehlmann, now discover that among these there was no promise regarding the vice chancellorship, was careful to say he was not authorized to promise this and could not negotiate about a new appointment because his colleague, Dr. Helfferich, had not yet resigned.

President of the socialist group in the reichstag, called upon Chancellor von Hertling Sunday afternoon to remind him that the socialists had made it a condition of their support that a radical deputy be taken into both the imperial cabinet and the Prussian cabinet. They declare they laid down this condition as an absolutely indispensable one. Vorwaerts, the socialist organ, today takes a firm stand against any legation with the ministerial posts.

GEORGE A. TREACE DIES AT CEDARVILLE

Deceased Had Been Resident of Cedar Creek Township for Forty Years.

George A. Treace, aged 62 years, died at his home near Cedarville Tuesday morning after an illness of four weeks. The deceased was a well known farmer, having resided in Cedar Creek township for forty years. He had long been a devoted member of the M. E. church at Cedarville.

Surviving relatives include the wife, a daughter, Mrs. Robert Stapleton; a son, Charles Treace, of Auburn; two brothers, Robert, of Fort Wayne, and Frank, of Chicago, and two sisters, Mrs. August Tonkel and Mrs. Willard Moss. Four grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Cedarville M. E. church at 10:30 a. m. Friday. Interment at Leo.

WARNS KAISER THAT HE MUST BE HONEST

German Socialist Leader Says Broken Word Will Bring a Fight.

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—In an address on Sunday at Elbing, West Prussia, Philipp Scheidemann, the German socialist leader, said his party would support the new German government if it kept its promises, including those for equal rights in Prussia, abolition of political censorship and concessions to labor. The support of the socialists also was conditioned, he said, on the carrying out by the government of a clear and firm foreign policy in furtherance of everything compatible with Germany's honor and future for the attainment of a speedy and lasting peace.

Otherwise, said Herr Scheidemann, the socialists would fight the new government as they had fought the Michaelis regime.

One equal right in Prussia was granted and control by reichstag majority over the makeup of the government and its policies were established—developments which were springing into being before their eyes—there would be no excuse, Herr Scheidemann declared, for refusing to negotiate peace with Germany on the pretext that it was ruled autocratically.

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN AFTER MORE WAGES

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—General chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, eastern division, representing 100 railroads east of Chicago, are in session here today considering the advisability of requesting increased wages. The meeting convened this morning and is expected to be in session until tomorrow night.

Preliminary to action on the question of wages, it is understood the general chairman will discuss the firemen's joint agreement with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the possibility of its abrogation. This agreement provides that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers act together in all general demands and movements affecting both organizations. It is said several general chairmen assert the firemen are profiting by this arrangement.

COURTS NOT CLOSED ON ELECTION DAY

Several Cases Are Disposed of in Both Circuit and Superior Branches.

Although Tuesday was election day both the circuit and superior courts continued in session and disposed of several matters. Report that the courts would close was in error.

Mary A. Nebb was granted a divorce from George Neeb and given the custody of the minor child. The court also ordered Neeb to pay $5 a week toward its support.

The suit brought by Matthias Hess against Elmer E. Morgan for $200 damages, was settled and dismissed.

In the case of Charles Herring against Dr. Albert Macbeth for $10,000 damages in which the jury found for the defendant, judgment on the verdict was rendered.

The suit for divorce brought by Charles Garver against Ellen Garver, which was sent to the DeKalb circuit court on a change of venue has been returned by agreement to the superior court. The defendant Tuesday filed a cross complaint.

JUST TWELVE YEARS

John Alleges That Junata Lied About Her Age.

When they were married, John F. Guebard sets out in his divorce petition, Junata Sloane Guebard gave her age as twenty-eight years. After the honeymoon John says he found that his wife is forty years old in fact. That is fraud, John alleges in his complaint. Junata also represented herself to John as being "a person of good repute and uncorrupted morals," the husband avers. John has found out that Junata committed a statutory offense only a few days before their marriage, he sets out. That is plain misrepresentation, John alleges. Hans C. McLand is attorney for the plaintiff.

THINKING OF THE FUTURE

Germany Now Less Concerned With the War Map Than the Trade Map.

Kaiser Warned That Month of War Means Year of Business Difficulty.

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—In the midst of the general exultation in Germany over the victories on the Isonzo and Riga fronts and the demands for revision of the peace program in accordance with the new war map, German business circles are beginning to obey the injunction to consider the commercial map as well.

An increasing amount of attention is devoted by the newspapers to the growing difficulties of re-establishing German foreign trade after the war. Articles in serious newspapers even of pan-German views are found almost every day in which it is pointed out that diplomatic breaks with China and Central and South American republics instead of being a source of amusement on account of the military unimportance of these nations, mean the loss of Germany's hard won commercial position in these markets and increase the difficulties of the uphill fight to rebuild the foreign trade after the war.

See Great Difficulties.

Business men protest that these difficulties will be virtually insuperable if the government persists in its plan of establishing control of imports and shipping after the return of peace and of restricting private initiative. Some of them go further and demand indemnification by the state of men engaged in foreign trade for war losses and state financial assistance in the post-bellum offensive against foreign markets.

The thought that Germany shipping might be barred or restricted in the ports of Germany's present enemies which has long been scoffed at by shipping and export has now come to the business world as a real menace. Discussions of peace conditions, even in the most virulent pan-German war organs, emphasize the necessity of again procuring for German shipping the most favored nation treatment in foreign harbors, which was formerly enjoyed, as a vital condition of the settlement after the war.

Want to Prepare For It.

Considerable attention is devoted to the reform of the British consular service and the demand is voiced that measures be taken without delay to bring German consular and trade intelligence service up to date and that all preparations be made during the war so that German trades may have a favorable start in the race to secure raw materials the instant peace is concluded.

The Situation is Realized with a special keenness in Hamburg where, in repeated articles by business experts the government has been warned that the plans to promote the recovery of German exchange and keep down prices by establishing an official purchasing monopoly would merely result in rival nations securing the scanty world supply of foodstuffs and raw materials.

Got a Warning.

There is a well authenticated story of a conference between Emperor Wilhelm, Field Marshal von Hindenburg, Gen. von Ludendorff and Albert Ballin, head of the Hamburg-American line, during last summer in which the Hamburg shipping magnate after listening to the glowing account of the military situation given by the military leaders told the emperor that every extra month of the war meant an additional year in getting out of the slough of ruin after the war. He declared he did not expect to live to see Germany out of her difficulties.

TO SUPPLY AMERICAN PRISONERS OF WAR

Washington, Nov. 6.—As the first step in the plans to supply necessities to American soldiers and sailors who may be captured and confined in German prison camps, the disbursing agent of the Red Cross at Berne, Switzerland, will be supplied with 4,500 tons of food immediately. This will comprise 1,800,000 individual rations, or enough to feed 100,000 men adequately for six months. From Berne the food will be sent at stated intervals in ten-pound packages to the several prison camps in Germany. Food for captured Americans will be the same quantity and quality as that supplied by the government to those in the fighting service. In addition to the regular rations for prisoners, a special ration for invalids is now being worked out. The special ration will comprise broth, malted milk, jellied chicken and such valuable helps in convalescence.

MILLER-MILLER.

Mrs. Josephine Miller, of 1342 High street, was quietly married Tuesday afternoon to George W. Miller, a prosperous and highly esteemed farmer of Milan township, who resides nine miles east of Fort Wayne, on the Mayville road. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Stewart, pastor of the Fort Wayne M. E. circuit, at the parsonage, 845 Columbia avenue.

BURNS IS NO EQUAL

FOR CHAMPION HERMAN

Jersey City Man Almost Knocked Out in Fight at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—Pete Hermann, of New Orleans, bantamweight champion, was awarded a decision by Referee Goldman over Frankie Burns, of Jersey City, here last night at the end of a twenty-round bout.

It was Hermann's fight all the way, and in the opinion of many ringside authorities, it was only Burns' ability to stand punishment, and his ring generalship, that saved him from being knocked out.

Hermann was credited with thirteen rounds, Burns four, and three were even. Burns led the fighting in the early rounds, taking the offensive and apparently seeking to bring the fight to a close by the knockout route. After the tenth, however, he tired out, and with the exception of a rally in the fourteenth, was as good as out of it. In rounds five, eight, twelve, fifteen and eighteen Hermann started furious offensive tactics, chasing his opponent around the ring and raining blows on his ribs and face. He seemed to have everything but a knockout blow. Burns' other rounds were in the fourth, seventh and tenth. He delivered several hard body blows in the seventh that seemed to bother Hermann considerably.

In the eighteenth round it looked as though Burns would be unable to stay the limit. The bell found him groggy and weakening. The final round saw Hermann apparently as fresh as when he started. He rained rights and lefts on his opponent, and a knockout seemed certain just before the final gong, when the champion had Burns in his own corner, administering severe punishment. A crowd estimated at about 10,000 including several hundred soldiers from Camp Shelby, Miss., witnessed the fight.

The betting ranged from 9 to 5, before the fight started, to 7 to 5 during the early rounds, with Hermann the favorite.

HARPER A "SIMON LEGREE."

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 6.—Those who thought that Coach Harper would give the Notre Dame players an afternoon off Monday were disappointed, for the players, although not in the best of shape following the terrific hammering received against the Army on Saturday, were out for light work. The long, tedious ride from the Atlantic seaboard that ended in a magnificent scene at South Bend at midnight Sunday left them in a far from frisky condition.

Harper warned his men against over-confidence, and predicted that Notre Dame would meet the stiffest kind of opposition against Morningside college at Sioux City, Iowa, Saturday. Few of the men were injured in Saturday's battle.

"Dig Frank," Rydzewski had an old wound on the forehead aggravated, and Brandy, the midge back field man, who scored the touchdown that won the game, suffered a broken nose. Neither showed up for practice.

HERMAN MARRIED.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—Peter Hermann, bantamweight champion of the world, was secretly married Sunday night to Miss Anna Boblanc, 18 years old. It was learned here today. Hermann had intended to be married Monday evening after his fight with Frankie Burns, but decided he did not want to go to the altar with the scars of battle on his face. The couple separated after the wedding and did not meet again until after last night's bout. Mrs. Hermann is anxious to see the fight, but will not be permitted to do so.

CORNELL-HAMBURG AND

HAMMOND MEET SUNDAY

Press Agent Says Game is to Decide Championship of Middle West.

Hammond, Ind., Nov. 6.—The professional football championship of the middle west will be decided Sunday when the Cornell-Hamburgs and the Hammond Clabys meet in the Hammond park. The two teams are considered the strongest in this part of the country and this will be the first time they have had a chance to test each other. The Cornell-Hamburgs, who are coached by Alderman McDonough, of the Fifth ward, have defeated Maywood, Racine and Milwaukee. Hammond, under the direction of Ed Greene, former Pennsylvania captain, has defeated Davenport, Wabash and Pine Village.

It must be confessed that Hammond has a live wire press agent. Last week we were told that the Pine Village-Hammond game was to determine the championship of the state. This week we are told the game with the Cornell-Hamburgs is to decide the championship of the middle west. The next game, the world's championship, will no doubt be at stake.

BILLIARDIST SHAW A WONDER.

The Academy billiard parlors were crowded to the doors both yesterday afternoon and evening to see Lew Shaw, the champion billiard and pool player, play billiards and pool and make his wonderful fancy shots. Mr. Shaw also made a run of 175 at three-ball billiards and two runs of fifteen balls at pool playing, fifteen balls or no count. Those who saw Mr. Shaw's exhibition say it was the best ever given in the city. This evening at 8 p. m. Mr. Shaw will meet the best player in the city at the 100 or no count game of billiards, fancy shots after the game.

BADGERS PREP FOR OHIO

Madison, Wis., Nov. 6.—Signal practice with new plays for the Badger varsity eleven and scrimmage for the second and third teams Monday afternoon opened the week of training for the Ohio State battle here Saturday. Ohio is the most feared of the Badgers' opponents, but Coach Richards is working out a defense for Jack Wice's wonderful pair of half backs, Harley and Stinchcomb, and he is confident that if his team shows the improvement this week that it did last, Wisconsin will win.

PURDUE TAKES IT EASY.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 6.—Purdue rested Monday because there is no game Saturday. The players came through the Northwestern game practically unscathed, although several are slightly lame. This week Coach O'Donnell will work his men for the Indiana game, Nov. 24, the last of Purdue's schedule. The last of the game with Wabash a week from next Saturday should not be hard.

MAX MEAN SOMETHING.

MINUTE MEN OF FOOTBALL—HURRY-UP YOST

(By Paul Purman.)

The return of Michigan to the western conference and the attempt to stage a post-season game between Chicago and Michigan recall one of the greatest records of western football, both in its inception and realization and its unfortunate culmination.

This record referred to is that of Fielding Yost at Michigan, beginning in 1901 and ending in Chicago's 2 to 0 defeat of the Wolverines in 1905, a defeat which caused an upheaval in the western conference and resulted in Michigan leaving the big eight.

During those years Michigan did not suffer a defeat and piled up a total of about 3,000 points against all opponents who registered less than 100 against the Yost machine.

It was the day of Willie Heston, of Boss Weeks, of Babe Carrier, Dan McGinn and others whose names will go down in the football hall of fame so long as the game is played on American college grounds.

These were the famous teams of which Yost dreamed and received "a point a minute," a slogan which gave him the name of Hurry-up Yost.

Since 1905 Yost has developed wonderful teams. Unable to get games in the western conference he has been forced to play smaller schools in the middle west to drive for his big eastern games, usually with Cornell, Pennsylvania and Syracuse.

Yost's choice as coach of Michigan was indirectly due to the illness of a player on the Ohio Wesleyan team of 1907. Yost was coaching the Ohio college at that time when he started with his squad to Ann Arbor for the Michigan game found he had just eleven men who could qualify as football players. Arriving at Ann Arbor one of the men suddenly became ill. Wesleyan agreed to play if Michigan would permit Yost to fill in. Michigan, needing practice and anticipating an easy victory, consented.

Owing to the skill and finesse with which Yost played the game the game ended a scoreless tie. A few years later when Michigan needed a coach Yost's playing was remembered and he was secured.

Yost was born in Fairview, W. Va., April 29, 1871, and after the usual high school training entered Ohio Northern university. The next year he entered West Virginia university, where he played tackle in 1894 and 1895, going to Lafayette in 1896.

The next year he coached at Ohio Wesleyan and won the Ohio state title. Championships then became a mania with the smiling Yost. In 1898 he coached Nebraska and won the Missouri valley conference title. In 1899 he went to Kansas, beat Nebraska and again won the title. In 1900 he won the Pacific coast title for Letland Stanford and found time to coach San Jose normal school into the normal school championship and Lowell high of San Francisco, to the prep school title in an elimination contest embracing twenty-eight schools.

The next year Yost went to Michigan and for three years won the conference title, losing it the fourth year in the game with Chicago.

When he is not coaching football teams Yost is busy with his oil interests in Kentucky. Born in the oil district of West Virginia Yost has always followed the oil fields. He is also interested in a hydro-electric power company in Tennessee.

SPORT RAVINGS

The Hammond press agent is certainly covering a lot of territory with all his championship dope.

If next Sunday's game between the Cornell-Hamburgs and Hammond is to decide the championship of the middle west and Hammond should win and the Friars should defeat Racine, it would seem that the Friars have as perfect right to claim the title as Hammond. It will be recalled that Racine defeated Hammond.

Canton Bulldogs defeated Youngstown Patricians Sunday by a score of 3 to 0. The Massillon Tigers defeated the Columbus Panhandles by a score of 28 to 0.

Five football teams in the east are still undefeated. They are: Dartmouth, Williams, Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson and Stevens. Army and Brown, previously unbeaten, lost Saturday. Washington and Jefferson will battle Pittsburgh next Saturday.

The Grand Circuit during its forty-four years of existence has distributed $11,850,524 in purses and stakes. The Kentucky Trotting association has given forty-five meetings, only six being in membership with the Grand circuit, at which $2,332,280 has been paid in premiums.

STEIN PLASED WITH TEAM.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 6.—Coach Steinhilber, had no criticism for the Indiana team Monday after its performance of Saturday, when it went into the records as the first team to score against Ohio. The coach said: "Considering the fact that we have a new team and played against a veteran championship eleven, I think we did very well."

Indiana students think Steinhilber would have won if Harley had remained on the sidelines. In the first quarter, before Harley entered the game, the ball was in Ohio territory practically all the time and in possession of Indiana. New plays for De-pauw were given last night.

WHAT'LL YOU BET HE DOES?

Des Moines, Nov. 6.—Mike Gibbons may go to France with American Sammie to lick the Kaiser.

Such a possibility was disclosed yesterday, when it was learned from the Minnesota scrapper's training camp that the phantom is studying French. Gibbons is boxing instructor to thousands of drafted selects at Camp Dodge, Iowa.

"Mike is heart and soul in this army game, and wants to do all he can to lick the Kaiser," said Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager.

Gibbons starts training here this week for a ten-round bout with Harry Grob at Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 4.

"BULL" PULLS A ZIM.

Bull Muldoon was a husky loon. Always ready to fight with any tramp. But he struck it tough—they used him rough in a U. S. Army service camp.

He watched with awe a football spree. And opined, "That is pretty soft for me." "Oh knock 'em dead," Bull Muldoon said "I'll mix up in this easy solace."

Now Shorty Dunn was a son-of-a-gun. He weighed one-five in his army rags. But he learned his game and earned his fame. Under the eyes of old Coach Sager.

"The ground I'll wipe with that little snipe" Said Bull Muldoon as he sized up Dunn. And he chuckled with joy as he planned to toy with Shorty, the pygmy son-of-a-gun.

But Shorty Dunn had all the fun. He kicked Bull's ribs and he climbed his frame. He broke a few bones and laughed at Bull's groans. And Bull had enough of the football game.

MIGHT TRY IT.

(IT DON'T COUNT!)

The Kaiser might call the war informal after he's licked and save himself a lot of trouble.

Matty says he would like to get Buck Herzog. August Herrmann says he doesn't want Herzog. Which is about the wisest thing Augie has ever said, considering Herzog's popularity in Cincy.

Freddie Welsh is planning a comeback. We would advise Freddie to buy a few pies and train with Charley Chaplin.

FABLE.

I REGRET THAT I HAVE BUT ONE...

Jess Willard appeared at a training camp today and offered either to help train the Sammys without pay or to go to France as a private.

Now that we have informal football teams we must go a bit further with these suggestions: Informal ex—the kind that pop when you crack 'em; informal poker games—where you don't pay if you lose; informal prize fights, for Al McCoy and Jess Willard; informal automobile accidents—where you don't have to pay damages, etc., etc., etc.

Famous Referee Who Is Seriously Ill

Recent news dispatches from New York tell of the serious illness of Charlie White, the famous referee.

White is one of the veterans of the referee end of the boxing game and for years has been called upon to officiate at championship and near championship fights. He is credited with being one of the surest men who ever stepped into the ring.

The last bout of importance refereed by White was the Willard-Moran fight in New York about two years ago.

The

"War Strain" Shattering Nerves of Millions!

Dr. Joseph D. Harrigan, Formerly Visiting Specialist to the North Eastern Dispensary, N. Y., says—"Nerve Weakness is a Curse to the Nation—Legions of Men and Women Have Become Prematurely Old, Simply for No Other Reason Than the Want of More Bitro-Phosphate in Their Systems."

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"No wonder we have so many people with shattered nerves and other complaints," says Dr. Joseph D. Harrigan. "I tell you with all seriousness that weak, nervous, anemic delicate folks especially those who are thin and all run down, should be careful what they use."

JOSEPH D. HARRIGAN, M.D.

Clinical and hospital reports, plus my personal experience, have convinced me that the nerves need organic phosphate in a state of combination essentially the same as that naturally contained in them, an organic or physiological phosphate that is really assimilable, such as bitro-phosphate. And people cannot get this in sufficient quantities from the cooked foods they eat, nor from the so-called "blood tonics." Patients who were apparently physical wrecks, who foolishly thought they needed only a blood tonic to enrich the blood, have come to me for treatment trembling and shaking, their nerve force almost exhausted and in many such cases the administering of bitro-phosphate has produced seemingly magical results. Common sense as well as experience should teach those who suffer that the most logical and sensible thing to do is to put into their systems the very substance that is lacking, and that is organic phosphate—bitro-phosphate, not simply a tonic to enrich the blood, but a tonic to stimulate the system, and diluted phosphorus in combinations that often upset the stomach and do little or no good, but on the contrary do great harm in many instances. Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anemic or run-down take a natural, harmless, undiluted strength and tissue building substance, such as bitro-phosphate, for two weeks or so, and you will soon see most astonishing results in many instances in cases under fifty years of age, while others who are prematurely feeble will often feel to a marked degree the increase in nerve energy, strength of body and mind, power of endurance, and desire to be "up and doing." Why, I now have in mind the case of a gentleman well advanced in years who has been using bitro-phosphate only a short while. Formerly he complained of various ailments, but now he shakes hands with a grasp and a smile that tell better than words the remarkable increase of nerve energy, and strength that has taken place in his body. I have often said, and I again unhesitatingly assert that physicians as well as those who suffer, should be grateful to Dr. Harrigan, the French scientist, who discovered this form of organic phosphate, which, when taken into the human system, is quickly converted into healthy, living nerve tissue.

Anyone who suffers in this or any other city, can easily test and see what the taking of bitro-phosphate will do. Before taking it, however, make a note of your weight. Also see how steadily you can hold your finger at a certain spot for one minute without becoming nervous, shaky or your arm tiring. After trying this simple experiment, take one 5-grain bitro-phosphate tablet after each meal, three times daily for a few days, then try the experiment again. If the results justify what has been stated, continue its use for a while and you may happily note from day to day the increase of nervous energy, power of endurance, healthy tissue, clarity of thought and action and improvement in general.

NOTE—According to authoritative medical journals the form of organic phosphate mentioned above which is dispensed by drug stores in this country as bitro-phosphate, is recommended by the great English authority, Sir James Barr, and such noted European specialists as Dr. Pasquale, Bulow, Delage, Bokay and the Valerdi. The dose usually prescribed is one 5-grain tablet three times per day, but those who wish to personally test this substance are cautioned against concentrated or mixtures which may contain only a small percentage of the genuine organic phosphate. As Dr. Harrigan has pointed out, in order to derive the greatest benefit it should be taken in its pure undiluted state and it is well therefore to remember to ask for Bitro-Phosphate. It is sold in this city by the D. & N. Pharmacy, Dreier Drug Co., and all good druggists.

GOES TO AID THE SAME MAN TWICE Laborer in Two Trench Accidents Helped Both Times by Same Officer.

Officer Joseph Degitz again played the Good Samaritan to Sam Johnston, 619 Huffman street, Monday evening. Johnston, who is fifty-four years old, was at work in a gas line trench, near Indiana and Packard avenues. The soft ground began to slide and before he could get out of the excavation the earth material had covered his leg against a gas pipe, snapping it. Officers Degitz and Bauck made a hurried run and took the man to Hope hospital. Three years ago Johnston was overcome with gas while working in a trench and was rescued by Officer Degitz. Johnston is in the employ of the

The use of creosoted wood blocks, which originally began as paving material for city streets, has now spread into many other lines, according to a statement issued by the United States forest service, which says that the durability of such pavement, the noiselessness under heavy traffic, and its sanitary properties, give creosoted wood block special value for use where there is heavy trucking.

ANOTHER DUDLO MAN BUYS IN COUNTRY CLUB GARDENS

Country Club Gardens have a fascination for particularly the people employed in the manufacturing plants of the great industries of the city. The richness of the soil, the closeness to the city and to their work, and the many features of the gardens that appeal to everyone, naturally make the gardens popular among these people. Frank Greer, 312 West Williams street, who is employed at the Dudlo plant, has just purchased a lot in the gardens and intends to build there in the spring. The sale was made for the City & Suburban Building company by Frank Smiley.

HIGH COST OF LIVING RHYMES

By Belton Bralley

A dollar, a dollar my pocket book's holler,
My money all vanishes soon,
I've cut out my breakfast and now I'm afraid
I'll have to quit lunching at noon.

Hi Cost of Living! My food bills are giving
A heights exhibition, I see;
The little dog laughed to see such sports,
But it won't get a laugh out of me.

Old Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard
To dig up a bone for a meal,
But burglars had got in the night,
And stolen the treasure, and sold it with ease.

There was a crooked man and he had a crooked smile
And he used to make the money in a very crooked style
For he cornered necessities, which was very crooked indeed
And now he is hanging on a far from crooked reed.

Little Miss Muffet went to a buffet
To purchase some corns and wafers,
The owner he said and cried as he sped her:
"The price has been doubled today."

Since the beginning of the year the price of sulphuric acid in Japan has been steadily advancing owing to increased exports to Russia and China, and also to the allies for war purposes. As a result, some of the artificial-fertilizer companies have reduced their output of fertilizers and devoted their energies to the manufacture of sulphuric acid, while a number of companies have been established exclusively for the manufacture of the chemical. Its output has increased in a large measure, and some anxiety is entertained with regard to overproduction after the war.

SKULL CRUSHED.

Frank McKinley, of Spencerville, Killed by Falling Tree.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 6.—Frank McKinley, of Spencerville, aged 35, employed as a timber cutter by an Auburn firm, was killed when a falling tree struck him on the head, crushing his skull.

The accident occurred in a woods four miles east of this city. McKinley was working with Fred Witt, of Auburn, and they had finished sawing a tree and had stepped back to await its fall when a big limb from another tree was broken off, striking McKinley on the head. He died thirty-five minutes later.

Coroner Hinklin, of DeKalb county, who had passed by the scene of the accident a few minutes before it happened, gave his permission to remove the body to the Chappell undertaking parlors of this city. McKinley was making his temporary home at Auburn. Surviving, besides his parents at Spencerville, are a divorced wife and 13-year-old child at White Pigeon, Mich.

L. A. METZ DEAD.

Well Known Resident of Leesburg Succumbs to Heart Trouble.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 6.—Death came suddenly late Sunday night to L. A. Metz, a resident of Leesburg. Mr. Metz was 60 years old, and although in failing health his death was not expected as he was up and around and had returned Sunday from a visit with relatives at Indianapolis. Surviving besides the widow are two sons, Lester Metz, of Indianapolis, and Hollis Metz, of Leesburg. A sister, Mrs. Emory Leedy, resides in Albany, Ga. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon.

TWO HURT AT PORTLAND.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 6.—While John Lanning and William Runyon were driving rapidly on East Main street their automobile struck a dump policeman which hurled their machine into the air, the car tumbling over several times before coming to a stop. The men were thrown fifty feet and both were badly hurt. The auto was almost a total wreck, the windshield being smashed to splinters, the fenders being bent in, the radiator smashed and some of the wheels twisted off. Mr. Lanning's face was cut and he sustained a wound at the back of his head. Runyon was unconscious when picked up and his injuries cannot be foretold at the present time. They were taken to the hospital.

AFFIDAVIT AGAINST FRANKS.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 6.—Affidavits against Ervin Franks and wife, charging Sabbath breaking, were filed in the court of Mayor Meek this morning by Chief of Police Henry Fritz. The affidavits were filed as the result of a police call sent in by neighbors when the Franks engaged in another quarrel. It is thought that Mrs. Franks left the city this morning, although she was to appear this afternoon in juvenile court. When Marshal Fritz went to quiet the trouble at the Franks home it is said that he was threatened with a stove poker by Mrs. McConey, mother of Mrs. Franks.

COAL SITUATION IMPROVES.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 6.—The coal situation is improving in Portland and in Jay county. This is due partly to some coal which is coming in as well as the milder weather. Many of the people are burning wood and have not started their coal stoves as yet. It is likely that the fuel administrator, John W. Holmes, will call a meeting of the retailers of this county this week when the situation will be gone over carefully and a reasonable price put on coal and wood.

BREAKS AN ARM.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 6.—Audley Moser, son of A. D. Moser, of First street, fell on the sidewalk Sunday evening and broke the right arm at the wrist. This morning Dr. Costello set the bone, the boy having passed a painful night. Audley had just recovered from a long siege of rheumatism, when he developed smallpox. He was ready to start in school Monday morning if this accident had not happened.

FORMER WABASH MAN DEAD.

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 6.—Nathan McNamee, age 87, for fifty-two years a resident of Wabash, died at his home here Sunday. Death was preceded by a long illness. For two score years he had been identified with local mercantile establishments. He is survived by a widow and one daughter.

INJURIES FATAL.

Any drug store can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Thus prepared, you have a pint of really reliable cough remedy—one that can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief at all times.

There are many worthless imitations of this noted mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

RED CROSS SEALS

Desired That Seals be Placed on All Parcels Going to Soldiers in France.

The sale of Red Cross seals opened Tuesday in order that every package going to the soldiers in France could carry a seal. The usual date for opening this sale is November 25 but the early date was set because of the desire of the National Anti-Tuberculosis society and the Red Cross society. The parcels being sent to Europe must leave the local postoffice before November 15 in order to reach the boys "over there" by Christmas day.

The order came to Mrs. J. R. Meriwether to put the seals on sale too late to arrange for the opening Tuesday. A number of downtown places were chosen and the seals were placed on sale there. This did not mean that no one else had a right to sell them, but anyone desiring to do so may call or telephone to the office of the Anti-Tuberculosis society in the Noll building, phone No. 503.

The committee met Monday and placed the seals on sale at a number of places. On the committee were Mrs. Medlweher, Mrs. E. E. Keller, Mrs. N. D. Doughman, Henry Beadell and Charles R. Lane. The stores where the seals may be bought are: Wolf & Dessauer's, Steele-Myers, Rurde's, Frank's, Tepper's, Patterson-Fletcher's, Shields, Lehman's (clothing store), Lehman's (book store), Golden's, Alter's Cigar Store, Riegel's Cigar Store and Lauer's Cigar Store (Wayne and Calhoun).

MRS. REBECCA WOODS IS DEAD AT OSSIAN

Well Known Woman Passes Away at Home of Son Sunday Night.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Ossian, Ind., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Rebecca Woods, aged 73, passed away Sunday night about 10 o'clock at the home of her son, John A. Woods. Death was due to heart trouble and uremia. The deceased was born September 14, 1844, in Ridgeville, Ind., a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith. Her parents died when she was quite young and at the age of 13 years she came to Allen county to live with her brother, John Smith. When sixteen years of age she was married to Samuel Woods, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Woods, of Allen county. They were married at the groom's home and went to housekeeping in that vicinity. To this union were born ten children, four of whom survive and are as follows: John A. Woods, near Bethel, with whom she has been making her home for the past three years; Ben Woods, of Fort Wayne; Martha, wife of Harvey Reed, near the Wells-Allen country line, and Charlotte, wife of Clark Robb, of Bethel. The husband died Jan. 17, 1904. When very young Mrs. Woods united with the Bethel U. B. church and later became a member of the Sheldon M. E. church. The funeral will be Tuesday at 1 p. m., from the Bethel U. B. church, services conducted by Rev. Mr. Zartman, of Zanesville. Burial will be at Oak Lawn cemetery, Ossian.

Lucas M. Fry, a well known Ossian resident, died at the Lutheran hospital in Fort Wayne about 2 a. m. Sunday. Surviving besides the wife and daughter are Jacob, Adam and Andrew Fry, of Columbus, Ohio; Peter Fry, of West Jefferson, Ohio; Barbara, wife of William Hanna, of West Jefferson, Ohio; Hannah, wife of William Webb, of Jonesboro, Ark.; and Mary, wife of John Kauffman, of Bluffton. GIRL'S ENVIRONMENT SUSPENDS SENTENCE

Good Intentions.

Viola Harris, the 22-year-old wayward girl who was arrested by Detective Sergeant Pappert Monday evening for stealing money from her former landlady, was let go upon her promise to report twice a week to Milton Winch. The girl's environment is of the poorest, and her training doubtful.

She has a child but is not living with it nor her husband, having obtained a divorce some time ago.

The girl stole the money from Mrs. Lee, 112 West Main street, where she had been staying for a long time.

Mrs. Lee befriended the girl during a sickness but had ordered her to leave because she did not work for a living.

The girl took rooms elsewhere but visited the Lee family on Sunday evening. She left the place at 7 o'clock, but returned Sunday night about 11 o'clock. Creeping through the bedroom wherein Mrs. Lee was sleeping she obtained $18 from an adjoining room. When arrested the girl denied the crime, but later admitted it. It seems that she has a mania for clothes, $7.50 of the money going for a pair of shoes. A future sentence will rest entirely upon the girl's conduct.

Sells to Minors.
Fred Bonkey, bartender in the Sand-

kulher saloon, faced a charge of selling liquor to minors. Investigation showed that he sold beer, whisky and blackberry to Floyd Wise, aged 17 years, but refused it to his companion Louis Bowser, aged 16. Bowser, however, was given some of the stuff by his companion and got intoxicated. Things looked black for Bonkey until it developed that Mrs. Wise was present when young Wise bought some of the liquor. She was given a severe lecture and Judge Kerr promised to file an affidavit against her if she took the young fellow into a saloon with her again. The trio hail from Garrett and had driven to Fort Wayne to look at a prospective home. Bonkey was given $25 and costs.

The cases of Ernest Marim and William Bernhard, charged with loitering, were dismissed. Charles Mock, a drunk, was given $1 and costs and Fred Lepper, another drunk had his

Arrest Specior.
A bad accident, due to excessive speed, took place at the corner of Holman and Calhoun streets, Tuesday. A Peerless Dry Cleaning machine driven by Charles J. Riedel, was run into and demolished by a Merchants' special delivery car, driven by Joe Cummins. Both machines were wrecked and Bernard C. Meyers, 1807 Monroe street, was badly hurt. Cummins was placed under arrest Tuesday morning and will be tried Wednesday morning.

Laner Out.
Word has been received that Henry Laner, the man convicted for assault and battery on little girls at Welser park, has escaped from the penal farm. The man will undoubtedly be apprehended within a few days.

Duke's Daughter Is Engaged to Officer

soldiers, thereby saving them as fighting units for their country and for humanity. The Y. M. C. A. will be a helpful aid in much of the work of the Red Cross, and will, in addition thereto, supply our soldiers on the battle lines with healthful, wholesome and necessary recreations and amusements in the intervals between their nerve-racking work in the trenches, will guard and protect them from the many temptations and immoral diseases incident to camp life so destructive alike to their fighting qualities, manhood and character; will instill in them with courage and patriotism and bring to them the consolation of the Christian religion in the darkest hours of their lives. The campaign of the Y. M. C. A. to raise funds for this great work should have the assistance of every patriotic citizen.

Harry P. Fletcher gives this expression of his views: The Y. M. C. A. work, in training camp and on the foreign fields is one of the greatest necessities in the war and a cause worthy of everyone's support. The liberty loan brought forth the financial backing, the Red Cross administrators to the injured and relieves the physical needs, the Y. M. C. A. brings to the boys mental and spiritual recreation and reminds them of the great fact that while this world war is changing maps and overthrowing customs, God and man's own responsibility for righteousness abide and will ever abide unchanged.

Still Others Speak.
Still others are as emphatic and enthusiastic in their endorsement of the movement as those already quoted.

H. G. Keegan says: "Our imperative compelling and awful need of men, money and ammunition for this war is superior only to our need to conserve and care for our human and material equipment. Of course, we need the Y. M. C. A. and we must add it to our list of factors to be supported."

"Every word, every act of those with whom a young man comes in contact builds or destroys his manhood," says Judge Sol A. Wood. "The Y. M. C. A. proposes to give our soldier boys the right environment. We must give, give, give until it hurts."

Thomas R. Coppock says: "I believe the Y. M. C. A. work is of the greatest necessity; that it is one of the ways in which we stay-at-homes can give moral backing and real assistance to our boys in the fields."

Says F. J. Thieme: "I am convinced that the Y. M. C. A. war work is deeply as important as the Red Cross in conducting this war. The Y. M. C. A. is the only agency that will return our boys to us clean in body and mind."

Elwin M. Huise says: "I consider the work of the Y. M. C. A. at our camps both at home and abroad of the utmost importance."

Chairman E. F. Yarnelle says: "We are in the war. It is no choice of ours. It may be long and serious. We must realize this now. Great work is before us. There is no better plan for preparation than the work of the Y. M. C. A. who make and keep our men clean and strong."

Charles A. Moles says: "Anyone who has visited Fort Benjamin Harrison or any of the other camps knows the value of the Y. M. C. A. headquarters. During the winter they will be the only comfortable places our boys will have to write and rest. In France and on the other fronts they will mean a thousand times more."

NEW COAL PRICES.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Coal prices in the Palmyra, Massillon and Jackson fields of Ohio were increased today by the fuel administration as follows: Run of mine from $2.35 to $2.75; on prepared sizes, from $2.60 to $4; slack and screenings from $2.10 to $3.50.

Alaska recently had its first country fair. At Anchorage, in the Cooks Inlet country, a great competitive exhibit of agricultural, mining and fishing products was held. The Alaska railroad commission gave the project all possible aid. There were baseball games and other field sports.

COMMITTEES TO AID WORK

Advisory and Executive Bodies for Y. M. C. A. War Work Fund.

BUSINESS MEN

GIVE IT SUPPORT

Commend Movement to Secure $45,000 in Allen County.

Advisory and executive committees to direct and assist the movement to secure $45,000 as Allen county's share of the $35,000,000 which the Y. M. C. A. is raising in America for its work among the soldiers and prisoners of war both in this country and in Europe has just been named, and the list includes a number of Fort Wayne's biggest and most representative business men. The committees as chosen are:

Advisory Committee—E. F. Yarnelle, chairman; S. M. Foster, S. F. Bowser, H. C. Paul, J. M. Barrett, A. H. Perfect, S. B. Bechtel, Dr. M. F. Porter, Sr., E. O. Hoffman, F. S. Huntington, Herman Freilinger, A. F. Hall, Otto Schroll, A. S. Bond, E. Paul Mossman, O. N. Heaton, F. J. Thieme, E. J. Little, E. B. Greist.

Executive Committee—E. F. Yarnelle, chairman; S. M. Foster, S. F. Bowser, A. H. Perfect, S. B. Bechtel, A. S. Bond, F. J. Thieme, E. J. Little, E. B. Greist.

Many Pledges of Aid.

These and many other well-known

Fort Wayne men are pledging not only financial assistance but their time and their enthusiastic interest in the county-wide drive which starts next Sunday—quickly bring up Allen county's $45,000 share of the $35,000,000 assigned to this district, and they are confident that the importance of the Y. M. C. A. war work in looking after the welfare of the soldiers in camp and at the front, providing them with wholesome surroundings and many comforts will so readily appeal to the people that the response will be prompt and generous.

The executive committee, meeting at the Commercial club at noon today, took up the question of further organization and of preliminary subscriptions.

Work in the Schools.

Plans to give the schoolboys opportunity to aid in winning the war by assisting in the splendid war work of the Y. M. C. A. are going forward rapidly. Principals of the Fort Wayne schools in session last evening arranged to have a student organizer appointed in each school to direct the campaign among the boys.

Huntington county, which is a portion of the Third district in which Allen county is placed, has perfected an enthusiastic organization which will go "over the top" with Huntington county's quota. F. W. Caswell has been elected chairman of the Huntington county committee, with I. E. Potts as county organizer, J. R. Emley as treasurer and J. A. Kramien as secretary. Chairman Caswell, who was in Fort Wayne last evening, says Huntington county will not fail.

Business Men Endorse It.

Fort Wayne business men are giving the most cordial approval of the movement to aid the Y. M. C. A. in its war work, declaring it of vital importance to the welfare of the American soldier.

Says James M. Barrett: "For the winning of the present war, I regard the proposed work of the Y. M. C. A. in our army cantonments and in the military camps of Europe next in importance and a necessary supplement to the wonderful work of the Red Cross. The Red Cross feeds the hungry, clothes the naked, cures the sick and heals the wounds of injured

Woman County Agent Would Aid in Distribution of Food.

URGES SUGAR LIMIT TO 6 SPOONS A DAY

Miss Erwin Gives Forceful Talk Before Harlan Women.

A market for canned goods and other household foods may be established in Fort Wayne in order to allow the rural women of the county to dispose of their surplus food stuffs.

Spirit among rural women on this subject is being sought by Mabel D. Erwin, special county agent for Allen county, who is sending a questionnaire to all farm women who are members of rural clubs. If the farmers' wives express a willingness to share a part of their surplus canned goods with their less fortunate city sisters a section of the city market may be taken exclusively for their use or a special home market be established at the court house.

"We are only asking the farm women to sell a part of their surplus food," said Miss Erwin in discussing the new movement. "The city folks are willing to pay a good price for the surplus fruit and other goods. It is only a plan of distribution which will aid both the city and country people. The city families need food and the rural housewives can secure extra spending money by selling what might be wasted."

To all members of Allen county rural clubs Miss Erwin is mailing the following communication, to ascertain the feeling of farm women towards the establishing of a food exchange:

"Many housekeepers have this season conserved large quantities of perishable products by canning and preserving so that in many homes there is a considerable surplus. On the other hand families that have been unable to can enough for themselves are desirous of buying these products. This is not a plan for listing canned products for the army supply. Glass cans are not easily shipped. The government officials have stated emphatically that they have no intention of taking over surplus home-canned goods. Our plan is to conduct a marketing campaign to aid you in selling your surplus fruits and vegetables. If you have no surplus, hand this to a neighbor who has. She may be interested."

"If you have no surplus, but want to buy some of these products, make a note of this on the questionnaire. You can do your part by replying promptly, either to Mabel D. Erwin, emergency county home demonstration agent, or to the president or secretary of your club.

Accompanying the communication is a questionnaire which seeks to learn the number of surplus cans which the rural housewife may have on her cellar shelves. The questions ask the number of cans of fruit and vegetables, glasses of jelly and quart jars of other products canned.

"I want the women to understand that these lists are not for government use but only to aid us in establishing a ground for learning if an exchange market could be held," said Miss Erwin, Tuesday.

Cut Down Sugar.
"Sugar saving" was the subject of an address given by Miss Erwin before the Women's club, of Harlan, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Erwin was accompanied to Harlan by County Agent A. J. Hutchins and wife.

"Try to limit each member of your family to six tablespoonsful of sugar a day," urged Miss Erwin. "We have been using eight spoons for each person and we can drop two spoons full with benefit to our health. France is now down to two spoons full of sweet a day for her people."

"Americans have used too much sugar. They have hurt their health and wasted large quantities of the sweet. Sugar use is largely their habit. Many people think we must have three spoons full of sugar to a cup of coffee. They do not stir the sugar in the drink. Most of the sugar goes out in the dish water. "Make use of honey, sorghum, maple syrup, corn syrup and Orleans molasses instead of pure sugar. Eat more figs, dates and raisins in order to get the sugar properties. Use the jams and jellies which have already been put up and are rich in sugars. "If the women of the land decide to lessen the sugar use the men will have to put up with it. Less sugar can be used in pies, cakes, desserts and custards and not injure the product."

Sites Columbia City.
"I want to pay a tribute to the spirit of the high school boys and girls of Columbia City. They have banded together in a picnic not to eat any more candy until the war is over."

"From people who live there I learn that they are keeping the pledge. If they can give up their natural appetites for the help of our fighting men 'over there,' we older folks can dispense with much of our over sugar using."

The talk well received and several members of the Women's club promised to start the sugar saving program at once.

Are Fused Against Socialists.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Interest in the election here today centered in the choice of twelve judges of the superior court and two judges of the circuit court. The republicans and democrats united in the nomination of a fusion ticket, which is opposed by full socialist and independent tickets. The election will be the first real test of the war attitude of Chicago, according to statements by both the fusion forces and the socialists.

"The final statement from fusion headquarters says:
"We are fighting Germany at the polls today in Chicago just as surely as Pershing's men are fighting Germany in the trenches."
At 10 o'clock it was said the vote was very heavy for a judicial election and that the prospects were for a sweeping victory over the socialists. In districts settled by persons of German birth or parentage it was reported that the voters were largely casting anti-socialist ballots.

Orders From Chicago. The orders sent out from the headquarters of the central department at Chicago are as follows:

"Pursuant to instructions from the war department of October 29, 1917, the following named privates, medical section, enlisted reserve corps (Red Cross Hospital Unit "M"), are called into service, transferred to the medical department of the regular army, and will proceed from their homes to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., and report to the commanding officer of that post for assignment to the medical officers' training camp for intensive training in the duties of sanitary soldiers."

The order came as a great surprise to the time as they were not expecting to be called into service for several weeks. Mr. Harold, included in the list, has been a member of the Sentinel staff for a year and a half. During his residence here he has made many friends.

the votes of these fighting men, now stationed in training camps on this side and overseas. The soldier-soldier vote has been estimated at about 50,000 and it will be about a month before it is known how these men voted.

At the close of the campaign almost unparalleled for its bitterness and many sensational charges and counter charges campaign managers of the four parties issued statements claiming victory. The fusion party predicted that Mayor John Purroy Mitchel would be re-elected by a plurality of at least 50,000; Tammany Hall claimed that County Judge John P. Hyland, democrat, would be elected by 70,000 plurality.

Ex-State Senator William M. Bennett, the republican nominee who defeated Mayor Mitchel at the primaries, asserted he would get 275,000 votes, and Morris Hillquit, the wealthy candidate of the socialist party, was certain he would poll 250,000.

Guard Against Fraud. Extraordinary measures were taken to guard against illegal practices at the polls. The police protection was greater at polling places than ever before, while the volunteer watchers exceeded the police by many thousands. Included among the workers were many prominent society women. While the main interest in the election was centered in the majority, the question of granting suffrage to women by amendment to the state constitution attracted unusual attention. The suffragists have adopted a vigorous statewide campaign for their cause and are confident of victory.

nouncement once more of the desires and intentions shared by our two governments with regard to China is advisable.

"The governments of the United States and Japan recognize that territorial propinquity creates special relations between countries, and consequently, the government of the United States recognizes that Japan has special interests in China, particularly in the part to which her possessions are contiguous.

"The territorial integrity of China is a principle which remains unimpaired and the government of the United States has every confidence in the repeated assurances of the imperial Japanese government that while geographical position gives Japan such special interests they have no desire to discriminate against the trade of other nations or to disregard the commercial rights heretofore granted by China in treaties with other powers.

"The governments of the United States and Japan deny that they have any purposes to infringe in any way the independence or territorial integrity of China, and they declare, furthermore, that they always adhere to the principle of the so-called 'open door' or equal opportunity for commerce and industry in China."

"Moreover, they mutually declare that they are opposed to any special rights or privileges that would effect the independence or territorial integrity of China or that would deny to the subjects or citizens of any country the full enjoyment of equal opportunity in the commerce and industry of China."

"I shall be glad to have your excellency confirm this understanding of the agreement reached by us."

(SIGNED)
"ROBERT LANSING,"
His excellency, Viscount Kikujiro Ishih, ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Japan, on special mission.

The Japanese Acknowledgement.
"The special mission of Japan, Washington, Nov. 2, 1917."

"Sir:
"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of today communicating to me your understanding of the agreement reached by us in our recent conversations touching the question of mutual interests of our governments relating to the republic of China."

"I am happy to be able to confirm to you, under authorization of my government, the understanding in question set forth in the following terms: (Here the special ambassador repeats the language of the agreement as given in Secretary Lansing's note.)"

(SIGNED)
"K. ISHII,"
Ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Japan, on special mission.

"Honorable Robert Lansing, secretary of state."

Lansing Comments On It. In his statement accompanying the announcement Secretary Lansing said:

"Viscount Ishih, and the other Japanese commissioners, who are on their way back to their country, have performed a service to the United States as well as to Japan which is of the highest value. There had unquestionably been growing up between the people of the two countries a feeling of suspicion as to the motives inducing the activities of the other in the far east, a feeling which, if unchecked, promised to develop a serious situation. Rumors and reports of improper intentions were increasing and were more and more believed. Legitimate commercial and industrial enterprises without ulterior motive were presumed to have political significance, with the result that opposition to these enterprises were aroused in the other country."

"The attitude of constraint and doubt thus created was fostered and encouraged by the campaign of falsehood which for a long time had been adroitly and secretly carried on by German propaganda, and especially by its foreign policy desires as a part of its task to cause a rupture of their good relations. Unfortunately, there were people in both countries, many of whom were entirely honest in their beliefs, who accepted every false rumor as true and aided the German propaganda by declaring that their own government should prepare for the conflict which they asserted was inevitable, that the interests of the two nations in the far east were hostile, and every activity of the other country in the Pacific had a sinister purpose."

Disturb Not General. "Fortunately this distrust was not so general in either the United States or Japan as to affect the friendly relations of the two governments, but there is no doubt that the feeling of suspicion was increasing and the unrest and rumors were receiving more and more credence in spite of the earnest efforts which were made on both sides of the Pacific to counteract the movement which would jeopardize the ancient friendship of the two nations."

"The visit of Viscount Ishih and his colleagues has accomplished a great change of opinion in this country. By frankly denouncing the evil influence which has been at work by openly proclaiming the policy of Japan is not one of aggression, and by declaring that there is no intention to take advantage commercially or industrially of the special relations of China created by geographical position, the representatives of Japan have cleared the diplomatic atmosphere of the suppositions which have been so carefully spread by our enemies and by misguidedly and over-zealous people in both countries. In a few days the propaganda of years has been undone, and both nations are now able to see how near they come to being led into a trap which had been skillfully set for them."

Discussions Were Frank. "Throughout the conferences which have taken place Viscount Ishih has shown a sincerity and candor which dispelled every doubt as to his purpose and brought the two governments into an attitude of confidence toward each other which made it possible to discuss every question with frankness and cordiality. Approaching the subjects in such a spirit and with the mutual desire to remove every possible cause of controversy the negotiations were marked by a sincerity and good will which from the first inspired their success."

"The principle result of the negotiations was the mutual understanding which was reached as to the principles governing the policies of the two governments in relation to China. The understanding is formally set forth in the notes exchanged and now made public. The statements in the notes require no explanation. They not only contain a reaffirmation of the 'open door' policy but introduce a principle of non-interference with the sovereignty and territorial integrity of China, which generally applied, is essential to international peace as clearly declared by President Wilson, and which is the very foundation also of pan-Americanism as interpreted by this government."

Japan to Help in War. "The removal of doubts and suspicions and the mutual declaration of the new doctrine as to the Far East would be enough to make the visit of the Japanese commission to the United States historic and memorable, but it accomplished a further purpose, which is of special interest to the world at this time in expressing Japan's earnest desire to co-operate with this country in waging war against the German government. The discussions, which covered the military, naval and economic activities to be employed with due regard to relative resources and ability, showed the same spirit of sincerity and candor which characterized the negotiations resulting in the exchange of notes."

"At the present time, it is inexpedient to make public the details of these conversations, but it may be said that this government has been gratified by the assertions of Viscount Ishih and his colleagues that their government desired to do their part in the suppression of Prussian militarism and were eager to co-operate in every practical way to that end. It might be added, however, that complete and satisfactory understandings upon the matter of naval co-operation in the past for the purpose of attaining the common object against Germany and her allies have been reached between the representative of the imperial Japanese navy, who is attached to the special mission of Japan, and the representative of the United States navy."

Praise for Ishih. "It is only just to say that the success which has attended the intercourse of the Japanese commission with American officials and with private persons as well as in large measure to the personality of Viscount Ishih, the head of the mission. The natural reserve and hesitation which are not unusual in negotiations of a delicate nature disappeared under the influence of his open friendliness, while his frankness won the confidence and good will of all. It is doubtful if a representative of a different temper could in so short a time have done as much as Viscount Ishih to place on a better and firmer basis the relations between the United States and Japan. Through him the American people have gained a new and higher conception of the reality of Japan's friendship for the United States, which will be mutually beneficial in the future."

"Viscount Ishih will be remembered in this country as a statesman of high attainments, as a diplomat with a true vision of international affairs and as a genuine and outspoken friend of America."

No Principle Sacrifice. No American principle has been sacrificed in this agreement, in the opinion of the official, as the United States government itself, in the cases of Mexico, Cuba and other American republics and in the Monroe doctrine itself has been foremost in the assertion of the doctrine of special privileges by reason of the geographical and economic relations."

Japan has special interests of a semi-political nature in Shantung which province she wrested from Germany early in the present war, by reason of its vicinity to Port Arthur, to Korea and to the Japanese islands. Also, the prosperity of the great island of Formosa and its successful administration of Japan is largely dependent upon conditions in the Chinese province of Fu Kien, separated only by a narrow strait."

Japanese railroad concessions in Manchuria also are regarded as proper objects of special Japanese interest not to detail large privately-owned Japanese business enterprises in China proper. The vital importance to Japan of the maintenance in China of a strong government capable of affording protection against violence and against the insidious efforts of hostile foreign intrigue for such Japanese interests is freely admitted by American officials, hence the willingness to consummate this agreement."

German Plans Upset. Though only hinted at in Secretary Lansing's statement, it is known that the Germans had calculated to weaken the American campaign against Germany in Europe by obliging the Washington government to keep at home a large section of the United States army and to maintain in Pacific waters a numerous American naval fleet, to guard against an invasion from Japan."

Now it is believed that the United States not only can deal with his prosecution of the war with a freer hand, but that Japan will be able greatly to augment the efforts she has been making to sweep the Pacific and Indian oceans clear of German raiders; to aid the allied navies in the Mediterranean and possibly even to employ Japanese troops in the campaign against Germany."

The morale of the Italian soldiers is reported to be improving. The food supplies have been replenished. Indications are that the resisting power of the Italians is rising, the soldiers having been retrained by the Austro-German failure to cross the Tagliamento as soon as it was reached."

There has been no marked infantry activity on the western front but the artillery duels are intense on important sectors, including the Ypres salient in Flanders. Field Marshal Haig probably is preparing for another onslaught against the German lines, especially in the neighborhood of the Houthout forest between Dixmude and Ypres."

LOSS OF LINE FORESEEN.

London, Nov. 6.—The eventuality of an Austro-German crossing of the Tagliamento had been foreseen clearly since the Italian retreat began, according to a dispatch dated last Monday from the correspondent of the Daily Mail at Italian headquarters in northern Italy.

The correspondent emphasized the seriousness of the waters of the Tagliamento. He writes:

"Where so much has gone against Italy it would seem that even the Tagliamento has played her false. The enemy however, has not yet been able to push further than the bridgehead of Pinzano and it will be materially difficult for him to bring up his invading strength for some time. The fighting around the river has not been on a great scale. If the Austrians have crossed it has been largely because they had to do with troops desperately fatigued."

"The situation is changing somewhat. The Italians have been re-encouraged and have had some rest. There are many signs that their power of resistance is rising. The morale of the men has improved and is becoming more cheerful. The ar-

Local Banks Unable to Supply the Demand for Coppers—Mints Make More.

A real penny famine exists in Fort Wayne and the local banks are unable to get more. A call to a number of larger cities reveals that they also are very short. The reason for it all is the war taxes which has made it necessary to pay several cents extra on theater tickets, carfare, cigs, etc. Local banks have asked that the children's banks be opened and the pennies sent to the banks, and although many have done this it is thought that there are a number still unopened.

Every day the pennies managers ask for thousands of pennies, but are unable to get all their need. Five hundred dollars worth of pennies used to be plenty for any bank, but this amount lasts no time at all now. The United States mints are turning out a number of the coppers a day, but still have not enough to supply the demand.

Mrs. Catherine Mills, of 1205 Organ avenue, celebrated her eightieth birthday anniversary on Sunday and many friends and relatives called to congratulate her and extend good wishes. Mrs. Mills' daughter, Mrs. Jessie Zuber arranged a little surprise on her mother which was enjoyed by all present.

TOP PRICES PAID FOR HAY AND OATS

Street Market Has Fair Crowd—New Corn Begins to Be Received.

The city market had a good turnout Tuesday morning. Many of the stalls which have been vacant for a number of days were filled. C. R. LANE HEADS

RELIEF COMMITTEE

B. Paul Mossman, Chairman of Red Cross, Makes Appointments.

C. R. Lane, a prominent leader in all of Fort Wayne's patriotic and civic activities has been appointed the chairman of the civilian relief committee by B. Paul Mossman, chairman of the Red Cross. Others on the committee with Mr. Lane are: D. E. Mohler, Mrs. Lew Ellingham, Rev. Joseph F. Delaney, Dr. Miles Porter, Mrs. O. A. Newell, P. A. Thompson, Professor W. H. Kruse and Miss Minnette Baum. This committee is to have charge of the relief work among the families of the men serving their country at the front. A copy of the law relating to the separation allowances has not yet arrived but as soon as it comes the committee will begin work. Monthly allowances will be obtained for the families of the soldiers as provided by the law approved by President Wilson, October 6, 1917. Under this law each soldier must send to his wife one half of his pay and if under court order, he must send a specified amount to a divorced wife, a certain part of which circumstances will determine. The benefits of the bill began November 1. A wife without children receives $15 a month; with one child, $25; with two children, $32.50; and $5 for each additional child up to $50 a month. These sums will be paid in addition to half the soldier's pay. Provision is made for other dependent relatives.

ORGANIZE WHITLEY COUNTY FOR CAMPAIGN

Total of $6,000 Will be Raised for the Y. M. C. A. War Fund.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—The county has been organized into units of townships and corporations and lieutenants have been appointed to conduct the drive for $6,000 in Whitley county November 11-13 for the Y. M. C. A. The appointment of townships and corporations has been made and Columbia City must furnish $100 and Columbia township the like amount. Township meetings will be held when necessary and well known business men of the city are going into the drive with a big rush.

Columbia City Short Items.

Mrs. Fred Morches, head of the drive in Whitley county for food conservation, as concerns the securing of pledges from every housewife in the county, has received a congratulatory telegram from Federal Food Inspector H. H. Barnard at Indianapolis, on the excellent work done so far in the county. In the telegram Mr. Barnard adds that Indiana was fourth in the nation Monday.

Dr. Ben P. Linvill took Mrs. Geo. Bauer, of Thornecreek township, to the Mayo hospital, Rochester, Minn., Sunday afternoon, to undergo an operation for goiter, with which the well known lady is suffering considerably, and much weakened from its effects.

Word comes from Camp Taylor, supposedly this time authentic, that every Whitley county soldier has been transferred from Camp Taylor to Hattiesburg, with the exception of Sheeler, Yontz, Lorber, Kennedy, Harsgar and Isay. Corporal Ralph Strouse and Corporal Frank Hull, whose disposal was hitherto unknown, both were sent to Hattiesburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ruch will leave soon for Chaffee, Mo., to spend the winter with their son, Samuel Ruch and family.

The Roberts-Burnworth real estate company reports the sale of 42 acres of land owned by John Seftlemier, of Thornecreek township, to his neighbor, Edward Metz, for $3,000, with possession subject to tenant's rights.

Robert McNaghy and family motored to Indianapolis and spent Sunday with the former's brother, Captain Phil McNaghy, at the officers' school.

In order to accommodate the school students the public library has added an extra hour and one-half, opening through the week at 12 o'clock noon. Instead of 1:30. This is done to give country folks more time to conveniently spend for reference work.

Jonathan Hartman was reported very low with leakage of the heart Monday afternoon at his home near Larwill and every hope of his recovery has been abandoned.

Mrs. John T. Schoenauer, aged 55, well known lady residing east of Land, was found unconscious late Saturday afternoon by her husband, who broke through the door of her room, and immediately learned by the wood alcohol fumes what she had done. Dr. S. R. White was called from Land, and soon resuscitated Mrs. Schoenauer, who had barred the door of her room and pulled down the blinds before swallowing the poisonous fluid from a cup. Mrs. Schoenauer several months ago attempted taking her life by swallowing lye. Illness is believed to be the foundation of her derangement.
